Mail Cut Bulletin Arrives

Instructions for Readjustment Given; Several Changes to be Made

The postal bulletin, containing the instructions for the readjustment of postoffices, as a result of cuts in mail service ordered by Postmaster General Donaldson, was received this morning by assistant postmaster of Sedalia, Guy L. Johnston.

The re-organization of the Sedalia postoffice is expected to be made on or before May 20, and the first noticeable change will be effective this Saturday, when only one business delivery will be made, instead of the normal two deliveries. Window service on Saturday will be between the hours of 8:00 and 12:00 a.m. In the past, the window on Saturday was opened for business at 7:00 a.m.

A change, which will go into effect supposedly May 20, is the readjustment of city delivery routes in residential areas, so as to provide one delivery each week-day, Monday through Saturday, Johnston said.

Another Change

Another change brought about by the new law, is that the general delivery window will not be opened until 8:00 o'clock in the morning. Before the window has always been opened at 7:00 a.m.

The assistant postmaster said bulk mailing of second, third and fourth class matter, other than daily and weekly newspapers, will be accepted for mailing only between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. He said bulk mailings were always accepted at the postoffice in the past, at any time employes were on duty during the night.

Johnston said there will be no directory service under the new regulations. Now, he said, anything that comes in not properly addressed, will be returned to the sender if it's first class matter. If it should be third class mail not properly addressed, without a return address on it, it could be destroyed, unless return postage is guaranteed.

Reduction Necessary

The so-called time-limit on third class matter will be discontinued, Johnston related. In order to secure immediate service of circulars mailed by business men, it will be necessary to prepay the mail at the first-class postage rate, Johnston said. (This regulation applies mostly to business concerns sending circulars to customers, announcing dates of a sale, etc.)

When asked about the local postal employment situation, Mr. Johnston said undoubtedly there will have to be a reduction made. He said temporary employes would be the first to leave the department, if and when a reduction had to be met.

He said the general attitude of the Sedalia employes concerning the postal department order, was they felt it something temporary, and thought things would be ironed out.

Burning Cross on Fraternity House Lawn

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20—(AP)—A gasoline soaked cross was found burning this morning on the lawn of the Sigma Pi fraternity house, a block from the Southwest State college campus.

The burning cross, only 15 feet from the house where 11 men were asleep, was quickly extinguished after the flames had leaped higher than the two-story house.

Hugh Williams, Mansfield, Mo., president of the fraternity, said he believed the placing of the cross was in connection with the action of college officials in barring a Negro entertainer for a fraternity dance on the campus last week.

Dr. Roy Ellis, president of the college, said he thought it was a prank "a regrettable prank and a dangerous one."

Wheat Crop Bad

HAYS, Kas., April 20—(AP)—A. W. Erickson, Minneapolis crop reporter touring the wheat belt, said today the 1950 crop is "fast developing into the worst wheat fadeout since 1935."

Erickson said he has completed the survey of 20 million acres of wheat land out of the 33,000,000 acres planted last year in the seven plains wheat states. Out of the 20 million acres, in Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico, he considers 13,000,000 acres a total loss.

Flood Derails Train

This four-car Northern Pacific train was derailed by flood waters near Forest River, N. D., about 15 miles west of the Red River. Rapid melting of snow has converted fields into lakes. Once the water bursts over such barriers as roads and fence lines, it rolls irresistibly down the gently sloping terrain to the mighty Red River of the north. (AP Wirephoto)

Campaign To Overcome Soviet Lies

Truman Wants to Convince World U. S. Doesn't Want War

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman disclosed plans today for a "great campaign of truth" to convince the world the United States has "no purpose of going to war except in defense of freedom."

He told the American Society of Newspaper Editors he has directed Secretary of State Acheson to develop a strengthened national information program to overcome Soviet Russian "deceit, distortion and lies."

He invited the continued cooperation of American newspapers in spreading the fact that this country is "wholly dedicated to the cause of peace." Mr. Truman declared:

Must Be Known As We Are

"We must make ourselves known as we really are—not as Communist propaganda pictures us. We must pool our efforts with those of the other free peoples in a sustained, intensified program to promote the cause of freedom against the propaganda of slavery.

"We must make ourselves heard round the world in a great campaign of truth."

The President's address, prepared for delivery at a luncheon in the Hotel Statler, stressed the vital role newspapers can play in this phase of the cold war.

"There is too much nonsense about striped trousers in foreign affairs," he said.

"Far more influence is exerted by the baggy pants of the managing-editor."

Talked to Editors

Mr. Truman chose this gathering of the nation's editors to outline a program for strengthening the government's own informational program abroad.

He said most of the editors are meeting well their responsibility as a link "between the American people and world affairs" by informing them "well and completely."

But, he added, "I am sorry to say a few are meeting it badly." He did not name any names, but went on to say:

"Foreign policy is not a matter for partisan presentation. The facts about Europe or Asia should not be twisted to conform to one side or the other of a political dispute. Twisting the facts might change the course of an election at home, but it would certainly damage our country's program abroad."

Testimony in Maragon Trial

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—Government witnesses testified at John Maragon's perjury trial today that the former White House intimate was paid $1,268 for representing a molasses company in difficulties with the agriculture department.

The defense countered immediately with suggestions that $500 of the total was a coverup contribution from a strong Milwaukee Republican to the Democratic party in Missouri. It tried to plant the impression that another $100 was to make up to Maragon the loss of a gold coin.

Maragon is on trial in federal court on charges of lying to senate investigators last year about his busines and financil affairs, including his relationship with Allied Molasses Co. of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Rabbi Renews Attack Today On Governor

KANSAS CITY, April 20—(AP)—Rabbi Samuel S. Mayerberg renewed his attack today on Governor Forrest Smith's "whitewash" investigation of the police department here.

At the same time he called upon the respectable citizens to demand that they be protected from organized crime.

The fighting churchman, in a talk before the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said responsible citizens must share the blame for gangdom because they tolerated it and in a sense abetted it.

He said they abetted it by playing slot machines, associating with so-called "respectable front men" for gambling clubs and by accepting favors from public officials such as getting traffic tickets fixed.

Appealed Twice

The rabbi twice has appealed to Governor Smith to make a thorough investigation of the police department here as a result of the gang-style slayings of Charles Binaggio, northside political leader, and his henchman, Charles Gargotta.

"I repeat," he said, "what I have said to the governor—that his investigation of the police department is insufficient. I told him it would result in a complete whitewashing and it did."

He added that a grand jury was the only way to thoroughly investigate the police department.

Shull Inquest Is Conducted At Court House

Held to Ascertain If Fracas Was Cause of Death

The inquest into the death of Andrew F. "Andy" Shull, who died early Tuesday morning at the Bothwell hospital from injuries said to have been received in a fracas at the Rock Inn Tavern, north highway 65 near the Bothwell lodge, is being conducted this afternoon. Seventeen witnesses including the widow of the deceased, Mrs. Mable Shull, have been subpoeaned by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, to testify at the hearing.

Dr. Stauffacher is conducting the inquest in the assembly room of the court house with Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown, assisting.

Witnesses Called

The following witnesses were subpoenaed: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ackerman, Anna Templeton, Margaret Raines, Abe Reams, Ed Jeffery, Robert Shull, Ed Young, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mrs. McCowan, Ray Dawson, Jess Dawson, Dr. A. J. Campbell, Dorsey Howard and Merlin Burke, the latter two from the state liquor department and Mrs. Mable Shull, the widow.

Dr. Stauffacher said the purpose of the inquest is to ascertain if Shull had received his injuries in a fracas at the highway tavern last Saturday night, shortly before midnight. It is known that he did figure in a fight which resulted in what the representatives of the liquor control commission said was a "free-for-all." The two men were passing the place about the time the fight was in progress.

Shull died as a result of a fracture of the fifth cervical vertebrae, resulting in paralysis.

Apartment Building Damaged by Blast

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20—(AP)—An apartment building under construction here was badly damaged early today by an explosion. Nobody was injured.

Police later found two burnt fuses and think the blast came from dynamite.

There has been a labor dispute at the building and a picket line.

The explosion, which occurred about 2:40 a. m. jarred the entire neighborhood.

Cold Over Wide Areas of Central Part of Country

By The Associated Press

There was a chill in the air over wide areas of the central part of the country today.

The cool air, which sent temperatures 10 to 15 degrees below seasonal levels, moved eastward and threatened to bring sharp drops from yesterday's high readings in the middle Atlantic costal areas.

The mercury was below freezing over most of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. It also touched under 32 in parts of western Kansas, Northern, Missouri, northern Illinois and northern Indiana and parts of Iowa. Light snow fell around the Great Lakes as far south as Milwaukee and Muskegon, Mich.

Some warming promised today in the Dakotas and Minnesota, with higher readings f. most of the north central region tomorrow.

Flood waters continued to menace large areas of North Dakota, with more than 3,000 persons homeless.

The cool air brought rainy weather from Georgia to Maine along the Atlantic coast.

Fair weather prevailed over the great plains, the Rocky Mountain states and the far west. Temperatures were above normal in the southwest and far west, with a high of 100 at Phoenix, Ariz., and 94 at Bakersfield, Calif., yesterday.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and cool this afternoon with highest in 50s. Cool tonight, low 32-35, with light frost in favored places. Fair, warmer Fri. highest in 60s.

CLOUDY

Temperature: 7 a. m. 32 degrees; 2 p. m. 52 degrees.

Lake of Ozarks: 9.1; rise .1.

Thought for Today

I should say sincerity, a deep, great, genuine sincerity, is the first characteristic of all men in any way heroic.

Big Three Find Problem of Red Relations

Evidence Soviets Seek Isolation Heretofore Unknown

By the Associated Press

Big Three western foreign ministers in their forthcoming London conference will face the problem of Russian relations amidst mounting evidence that the Communist world seeks isolation to a degree hitherto unknown.

Washington observers said the talks among the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France will tighten cooperation of the western bloc nations but will be largely influenced by these cold war tensions:

1. The American - Soviet dispute over the loss of an American plane in the Baltic and the fear that Russia aims to close the Baltic and border areas to foreign observation.

Aims to Shut Out West

2. The ousting of western diplomats and news correspondents from Soviet-bloc countries amidst mounting evidence the Kremlin aims at shutting the west out of its territories almost completely.

The early May conference will work out a global plan to meet the threat of Communist expansion. It will attempt to outline a three-power policy for Germany a plan for the political and economic integration of western Europe and will discuss a Japanese peace treaty. It will also consider pressing problems in southeast Asia and the middle-east.

There was a strong feeling of uneasiness in Taipei, Formosa, among Chinese Nationalists today over the fate of Hainan island. On that Nationalist-held island Red invasion troops were locked in battle with the Nationalist defenders for the fourth straight day. The outcome appeared uncertain. Nationalists rushed reinforcements to their embattled forces. Hainan lies 10 miles off the Communist-held mainland.

Two More Plead Guilty

In Prague, the official Czechoslovak news agency said two more of six Czech defendants pleaded guilty to charges they were spies in a ring directed by U. S. embassy officials here. Two others pleaded guilty yesterday.

American diplomats have denied any knowledge of the alleged plot and said the charges were trumped up. The Czech government yesterday asked the United States to close down her information service in Czechoslovakia and ordered the director of the service to leave the country.

In Jakarta, the Indonesian news agency Antara reported a two-week old revolt at Makassar, Celebes, has been ended. Federal Indonesian troops occupied the capital city of East Indonesia without a fight. East Indonesian soldiers who fought under the Dutch rebelled against the taking over of the East Indonesian state by federal authorities.

S.C. Students to Head Councils

Senior Smith-Cotton students voted Gene Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Williams, 1600 South Kentucky avenue, as their choice to be the next senior council president.

The junior students gave the majority vote to Gene Watts, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Watts, 1605 South Carr avenue, to be the next junior council president.

Williams and Watts will take over their duties next year, as will Bob Stanley, son of Mrs. Dorothy Stanley, 706 West Seventh street, who was elected vice president of the senior council and Shirley Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick, 1800 East Twelfth street, who was elected vice president of the junior council.

The outgoing presidents are: Bill Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Franklin, Sedalia, route 2, senior council and Charles Walch, son of Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, junior council.

Ballots were cast Tuesday morning while students were in their home room classes.

Columbia Workman Seriously Injured

ATCHISON, Kas., April 20.—(AP)—B. J. Auffert, 45, Columbia, Mo., was injured seriously today while unloading steel beams for a bridge at Larkinburg, Kas., southwest of here.

A cable broke, allowing the beam to fall. It struck Auffert's head and came to rest across his body.

At a Horton, Kas., hospital Auffert was reported suffering from chest injuries, laceration of the scalp and multiple bruises.

He is foreman for the Krohbiel Construction Co., Columbia.

Plan Financial Aid For Any C-U Faculty Member Fired

LOS ANGELES, April 20—(AP)—Faculties at the University of Chicago and Iowa State college plan to give financial aid to any University of California faculty members who are fired for refusal to sign a loyalty oath.

The plan was announced here yesterday by Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago.

Hutchins said other universities are considering the plan and that the fund will be used for a year to help professors get relocated if they are discharged. "Any university would be glad to get men of the caliber of the California faculty," he said at a press conference.

He said professors joining the plan will subscribe two per cent of their annual salary. "From Chicago alone, that will mean a fund of $80,000," he said. Hutchins said he is contributing two per cent and "am going to do all I can in this matter."

"This plan," he said, "reflects the general attitude of the academic world toward the University of California regents' action. It is a matter of universal concern to universities. We regard the oath as a very dangerous precedent."

The University of California board of regents is to meet at the Davis campus tomorrow. This will be the regents' last meeting before April 30, which they have set as the deadline for faculty members to sign the loyalty oath or face dismissal. The order to sign was sustained by a 10-10 tie vote of the regents at a recent meeting on a motion to rescind the requirement.

Died Twice, Now Goes Fishing

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—A 65-year-old man who "died" twice on an operating table in a Brooklyn hospital is planning on going fishing this summer.

The hospital said the man, who was not identified, apparently died twice within four hours in the operating room two months ago.

So far as it knows, the hospital said, it's the first case in history of "recurrent cardiac arrest with recovery"—surviving after the heart stops twice.

A doctor who massaged the man's heart with his hands, and brought him back to life twice, has pronounced him fully recovered.

The patient will be sent home this week. He and the doctor have planned a fishing trip to talk it over.

Truman Signs Multi-Billion Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman today signed the multi-billion dollar housing bill.

The measure, which he approved without comment, provides incentives for home building by families of low and moderate incomes but lacks the controversal cooperative plan which he proposed.

Both the Senate and the House rejected the co-op provision. It would have set up a $2,000,000,000 program of home building through cooperatives and other non-profit groups.

The measure provides for an expansion of almost $4,000,000,000 in the federal housing program through loans and mortgage guarantees.

It also provides for turning over to state, county and local housing authorities nearly 150 war-built housing projects now under control of the Public Housing Administration. There are about 43,000 units in the projects.

Other Major Features:

1. A $2,500,000,000 increase in the regular system of Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insurance on home mortgages.

2. A $250,000,000 increase in the authority of the Federal National Mortgage Association to purchase mortgages, adding that amount to the existing authority which runs up to $2,500,000,000. Under this operation, the government purchases mortgages so private lenders will have more money on hand for loans on new housing.

3. A five-year extension of the repair and modernization program of the FHA under which loans are made to improve existing properties.

4. A provision for direct loans, at 2.55 per cent interest, for educational institutions to modernize or build housing facilities for students and faculty members. Loans up to an aggregate of $300,000,000 could be made under this provision, with repayment extended over a period as long as 40 years.

5. Extension of the repayment period on veterans' home loans from 25 to 30 years.

Lattimore's Associates 'Soviet Agents'

Testimony Given By Budenz, Ex-Communist

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Louis Budenz, former Communist editor, today named Owen Lattimore as a "Communist cell" member, but said he did not regard him as the "top Russian espionage agent" in the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Louis F. Budenz, former Communist, testified today that Owen Lattimore was a member of a "Communist cell" in the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Budenz told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee that he knows Lattimore, Far Eastern expert, was associated with two men who were "Soviet agents."

Budenz named these men as Frederick Vanderbilt Field, an official of the institute, and Philip Jaffee, former editor of the magazine Amerasia.

The witness, testifying under oath in the Senate investigation of charges by Senator McCarthy, said the Institute of Pacific Relations was not a Communist organization.

A Communist Cell

He said, however, that it contained a Communist cell, which had been able at one time to gain control of the organization.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins university professor, has denied that he ever has been a Communist or that he helped the Communist cause in any way.

Lattimore was close by as Budenz testified. With him were Mrs. Lattimore and his lawyers, Abe Fortas and Thurmond Arnold. They sat directly behind Budenz, so close they could have reached out and touched him.

Can Substantiate Story

Budenz told the committee that evidence can be obtained to substantiate his testimony.

McCarthy (R-Wis) had said he would be willing to "stand or fall" on the Lattimore case in his general contention that the state department has been infiltrated by Communists and their sympathizers. Lattimore is not a department employe, but has been an occasional adviser to it. He has a general reputation as one of this country's best informed men on Far Eastern affairs.

Woman's Body Found In An Open Well

NASSAU, Bahamas, April 20—(AP)—The body of Miss Betty Renner, 38-year-old Washington, D.C., attorney, was found in an open well in a quarry yesterday and police believe she was murdered.

The body, clad only in a brassiere, was found in a well off Gladstone road in a lonely pine forrest about six miles from this resort city.

Her slacks had been stripped off and were found in the well beside the body. The well was pumped out to recover the body.

Maj. G. H. Ranoe, police chief in this resort colony, said "it looks like murder."

He said there were "very few" clues.

Springfield Man Takes Over Employment Security Office

Leon M. Hall, of Springfield, Mo., named manager of the Division of Employment Security office at 500½ South Ohio street in Sedalia, has arrived here to take over his work.

Hall replaces Virgil Brown who has resigned his state job to become personnel manager of the Town and Country Shoe Company.

Hall's appointment to direct the Sedalia office was announced today by Charles A. Ricker, director of the Division of Employment Security in Jefferson City.

The new manager of the Sedalia office has had considerable experience both in the state and federal employment services. He first became associated with the federal employment service in 1935 and has served in several offices in the state, principally in the Joplin and Springfield offices. Hall comes here from the Springfield office, but his home is in Greenfield, Mo., where, for 19 years, he was in the banking business.

Hall is married and has one son. He plans to move his family here as soon as he can arrange for housing.

Railroad Strike Is Called

Against Four of Nation's Biggest Railroad Systems For Wednesday

CHICAGO, April 20—(AP)—A strike against four of the nation's biggest railroad systems, threatening to slow all rail transportation, has been called for next Wednesday morning.

The strike call last night by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineermen ordered some 18,000 of the union's claimed 110,000 members to leave their jobs at 6 a.m. (local time) April 26. Union spokesmen said the walkout would make idle some 50,000 rail workers.

The threatened strike followed nearly three years of dispute between the union and the carriers over union demands for a second man on multiple unit diesel locomotives.

Free to Strike

The union is free to strike at any time, having complied with all provisions of the National Railway Labor Act. But the possibility of a postponement was hinted in a statement by union president David B. Robertson, who announced the strike call. He said:

"If they (the railroads) feel some progress is being made toward settlement, the strike may be postponed."

However, a railroad spokesman, Daniel B. Loomis, chairman of the Association of Western Railways, said: "Despite the strike threat, the railroads will stick to their decision of refusing to grant the make-work demands of the union. Strike or no strike, no additional firemen will be employed on Diesel electric locomotives, which have no fires to tend."

Companies Involved

The strike will be against the Pennsylvania system west of Harrisburg, Pa.; the entire Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system; the Southern Railway, and the New York Central west of Buffalo and three of its divisions, the Michigan Central west of the Detroit river, the Big Four and the Ohio Central lines.

Robertson said the 60 brotherhood officials who have been meeting in Chicago for the last week discussing possible strike action, selected the four systems as "those which appeared most advantageous to us." Railroad spokesmen said the four to be struck are extensive users of Diesels.

Robertson said the walkout might spread later to other lines.

Two Still in The Hospital

OTTAWA, Kas., April 20—(AP)—Two men still in a hospital as a result of a crossing accident involving a Santa Fe passenger train and a truck were reported in a satisfactory condition today.

They were W. W. Wilson, 49, Chanute, Kas., brakeman on the six-car train, The Tulsan, and Henry Joseph Vertefeuille, 46, Marquette, Mich., the steward, who works out of Tulsa.

Twelve other persons injured when the northbound train hit the truck and left the tracks 12 miles south of here were treated and released.

All the cars left the tracks, but none overturned after the train, moving at 75 miles an hour, hit the truck and its tow-load of a bulldozer. About 900 feet of track was torn up.

Service on the single track line was restored at 10:30 p.m. last night.

No effort was made during the night to move the derailed train. A by-pass line was built around the parlor car which had not cleared the tracks. Two wreckers on the scene were at work this morning lifting the train onto the tracks.

Vote to Reduce Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—The House Ways and Means committee today voted a $75,000,000 reduction in manufacturers' excise taxes. It would repeal completely the excise levies on household cookstoves and waterheaters, light bulbs and several other items.

The group refused to reduce the excises on automobiles, motorcycles, trucks, buses, truck tractors, parts and accessories, and tires and tubes. These taxes collect over $500,000,000 annually.

This was the first direct action the committee has taken in the three months it has been studying President Truman's proposal for an overall excise cut of $655,000,000.

Right To Enter Night Classes

Judge Blair In Ruling On Writ For Negroes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 20—(AP)—Negroes won the legal right today to enter white adult education night classes in the public schools here.

Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair granted a writ (mandamus) telling the board of education in Missouri's capital city it must give Negroes equal adult educational opportunities.

Judge Blair left a loophole for the school board to set up separate night classes for Negroes if it wants to. He said Elvester Williams, 34, a janitor, is entitled to "such participation in the adult educational program x x x as his qualifications may warrant."

Or, if the board doesn't want to let him enter white classes, it must "provide him with substantially the same educational opportunities elsewhere." That could mean separate classes for Negroes.

A. L. Crow, superintendent of schools, said he did not know what would be done since all but two of the night classes are over for this year. Between now and next fall, he said, the board of education will decide how to comply with Judge Blair's decision.

Crow said it was the first such case in Missouri so far as he knew.

Separate public schools are provided here for Negroes and white children. This is also the home of Lincoln University for Negroes, a state supported institution. Negroes are not permitted to enroll at the University of Missouri in Columbia, although that has been a hot legislative issue in recent sessions.

In the Williams case, the school board argued its adult education courses were not a public venture because they were tuition supported. But Judge Blair said he thought that argument was "wholly unrealistic."

It is clearly unconstitutional and discriminatory, he wrote in a memorandum opinion, to deny a Negro admission to a class solely because he is a Negro. This is the way Judge Blair put it:

"The supreme court of the United States has repeatedly ruled that Negroes are not granted equality of the law when they are denied the right to enjoy substantially the same educational facilities which are granted to members of the white race. x x x

"If the public authorities have not provided substantially the same educational facilities for him (Williams) elsewhere, he is, in the constitutional sense, discriminated against and denied equality before the law if, as in the present case, he is denied entrance and participation in the night classes established for members of the white race solely on the ground that he is a member of the Negro race.

"These provisions are so firmly established in our law that they are beyond all argument."

Ralph W. Hammond

L. M. White

JEFFERSON CITY, April 19 — Ralph W. Hammond, Jefferson City business man, was elected president of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors here last night. He succeeds Col. L. B. Wikoff of Lexington, who becomes second vice president.

L. M. White, Mexico publisher, was named first vice president. Charles Gillespie of Jefferson City was returned to the office of treasurer and Henry C. Rethwisch of Jefferson City was continued as executive vice president.

Six new directors also were installed by the board. They are: Bruce Carl, Columbia; Col. Lauris M. Eek, Sr., Maryville; A. K. Cameron, Hannibal; Frank W. Rucker, Independence; Samuel B. Murphy, Kirkwood and Hardin Franks, Alton.

In addition, the following re-elected directors began new terms Dr. W. A. Bloom, Fayette; A. H. Meinershagen, Higginsville; Charles B. Gillespie, Jefferson City; Arlie Scharnhorst, Hermann; Col. C. C. Earp, Nevada; H. I. Himmelberger, Cape Girardeau; Ben A. Parnell, Branson and Joe Knight, Lebanon.

Vote To Restrict On Slot Machines

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (AP) —The Senate Wednesday voted to restrict the shipment of slot machines and other gambling devices across state lines.

The bill, which now goes to the House, prohibits the interstate shipment of such devices except into states where their use is legal. It bans foreign exports and imports.

Penalties for violations range up to a $5,000 fine and two years in prison.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath.) Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Continuances To Two Ex-Convicts

CHICAGO, April 20—(AP)—Two ex-convicts picked up here Saturday for questioning about a double slaying in Kansas City Wednesday were granted continuances on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

The cases of Kenneth A. Kitts, 33, Omaha, Nebr., and Frank Perry, 33, Mobile, Ala., were continued in municipal court to April 26 at the request of their attorney.

The men were arrested after police found a pistol in their expensive automobile. A Kansas City police lieutenant who came here to question them about the killing of Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta on April 6, said there was nothing to connect the two men with the slayings.

In addition to the weapons charge, Kitts and Perry also are charged with disorderly conduct.

An easy method of snow removal from city streets is of general interest. It uses a truck with a "melting pot" into which the snow is shoveled and immediately turned into water.

Senator McCarthy's Star Witness Confessed Part In Trotsky Murder

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Louis Budenz, star witness in the Senator McCarthy charges, was born in Indianapolis 59 years ago of German Catholic parents, has been tried 21 times in labor disputes, acquitted 21 times, and helped plot the murder of Leon Trotsky in Mexico.

Educated at St. Xavier's college and St. Mary's college, Budenz forsook his religion to become one of the most effective Communists in the United States, though at first he worked with the right-wing American Federation of Labor.

His first job was as editor of "The Carpenter," official newspaper of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Later he became an executive of the German-American Central Verein in St. Louis, leaving it when World War I broke in Europe. During the period of the first war he worked for the St. Louis Civic League and the Federal Electric Railways Commission. He had no war service.

Shortly after the war, Budenz went back to labor activities as editor of Labor Age for a 10-year period—1921-31; though during part of this time he was also special strike organizer for the A. F. of L., and handled such important strikes as the Paterson silk strike of 1930, the Toledo auto-lite strike of 1934.

Becomes Communist

It was shortly after the Toledo auto-lite strike that Budenz went over to the Communist Daily Worker first as its labor editor, later as its president and managing editor. There he remained for approximately 10 years, until 1945, when Monsignor Sheen persuaded him to return to his original Catholic faith.

Since then he has been teaching economics at two Catholic universities, Notre Dame and Fordham, and has also been a star witness in the trial of the 12 leaders of the Communist party.

Budenz has also published numerous magazine articles and a book which have been extremely helpful in letting the outside world know the inner workings and machinations of the Communist party. A new book, "Men Without Faces," to be published by Harpers in May, is already in galley proofs.

Today, Budenz is testifying that Frederick Field, a millionaire Communist, and Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party, told him about Lattimore and referred to him in such a way as to indicate he was being used by the Communist party or was even a member.

However, it is significant that in all his previous writings, Budenz never mentioned Lattimore's name.

In the original manuscript of the forthcoming book for Harpers, Budenz tells about the Institute of Pacific Relations, of which Lattimore was a member, and names Philip Jessup, now of the State Department, as a member of the institute. He also names a great many others, but not Lattimore.

However, a few days ago and after the book was in galley-proof form, Budenz suddenly inserted Lattimore's name. The reasons for Budenz's afterthought and what pressures, if any, influenced him, may be something the Senate committee will want to inquire about.

Furthermore, in all his magazine writings and in the large volume of original information he gave the FBI, Budenz also failed to mention Lattimore's name. Budenz spent days on end with the FBI earlier, telling them every detail about the operation of the Communist party; but up until last week, after he was appealed to by Senator McCarthy, he had not told the FBI anything about Lattimore.

Plot Against Trotsky

Budenz is extremely frank, and in one Collier's article he states: "It was then that I was assigned to work with a Russian police agent in forging the murder ring which ultimately assassinated Trotsky."

In another Collier's article, Budenz takes pains to describe the Institute of Pacific Relations, the organization which Senator McCarthy indicates was used by Owen Lattimore to influence State Department policy toward China.

"The institute is, as I said, not a Communist front," Budenz wrote. "Most of the 1,600 members of the American section of its 10-nation Pacific council are patriotic U.S. citizens. But party members and apologists have infiltrated its most influential committees and publications. Their articles and speeches have been used as reference material by the Far Eastern division of our State Department."

Budenz' description of how the Communists used well-meaning and well-known Americans as fronts is especially revealing. For instance, when the Soviet government staged its famed purge trials, the American reaction was bad. So American Communist agents set out to get a list of leading Americans who would approve the Moscow purge trials.

Fooling the Public

They selected as their top name, Corliss Lamont, son of the J. P. Morgan partner, whose Wall Street background would give solidarity and respectability to their list. From that point on they enlisted 150 names of "American artists, writers, composers, editors, college professors and Broadway figures."

"Few, if any of those who signed the whitewash of the trials," wrote Budenz, "could possibly know that the idea was hatched by top Communist officials in conference with NKVD agents."

Budenz went on to tell how he had set up another front organization, with Mrs. Roosevelt as honorary chairman and Harry Truman as a member to serve as a screen for Marshall Tito, then under Moscow's wing.

"As editor of the Daily Worker," he wrote in Collier's, "I reported the launching, in 1944, of the American committee for Yugoslav relief. Under the guise of charity, this was simply an innocents' front to help Marshall Tito fasten his fangs on his country.

"But Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt became honorary chairman. Among the sponsors were the then Senator (now President) Harry Truman, Dr. Albert Einstein, Rita Hayworth, William Green and Philip Murray. These names speak volumes for the skill with which party-line boys handled the project. These and other sponsors dropped out when the Communist influence became increasingly evident in the following years. Over $3,000,000 was collected from soft-hearted Americans."

Budenz Deserves Credit

There are several points to be emphasized about the above.

1. The American public has the right to know how it was fooled in the past, and Budenz deserves credit for bringing it out.

2. Most of this happened during the war when we were allied with Russia and when millions of people were praying for the Red army's success, not only to hasten the war's end but in order that American lives might be saved.

3. One harm accomplished by Senator McCarthy is to make suspect as a Communist any public official who sided with the Russians while we were allies. Mrs. Roosevelt and Harry Truman are strong enough to take care of themselves. But there are many little people, unwittingly used by the Communists and now on McCarthy's list, who can hardly sleep at night.

They were gullible, susceptible to flattery, and made the mistake of lending their names to some "front" organizations. But they were no more Communist than Harry Truman. However, a speech on the Senate floor—and they may be ruined.

Therefore it should be remembered that, despite the McCarthy witch hunt, to have been friendly to Russia from 1941-46 does not necessarily mean one was a Communist.

Congress Hung on Dead Center Slows Down Legislative Mill

By Bruce Biossat

Lawmaking in this country has reached a curious impasse.

The Democrats keep their hold on the presidency and gain a substantial margin of control in both House and Senate. Yet they find themselves unable to carry out the chief planks of the so-called Fair Deal program that presumably helped them get elected.

The Republicans, on the other hand, battle vainly to recapture the White House, see Congress slip from their grasp after a brief two-year command, and have trouble formulating a salable program. Still they are able, in coalition with conservative Democrats, to block the passage of President Truman's major domestic proposals.

The clear result is a pitifully small amount of constructive legislation enacted. Last year a public housing bill and a 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage bill made the grade in the social welfare field. Housing would not have passed without the aid of liberal and big-city Republican elements. Congress also approved a farm price support measure that may prove more of a curse than a blessing to all concerned.

What about 1950? Thus far federal oleomargarine taxes have been repealed and another farm bill has been adopted which further complicates the future of agricultural price supports. Though he signed it, this measure was not to the President's liking.

Mr. Truman and his legislative chieftains have now mapped out the program for the remainder of this session. It calls for wider social security coverage, revision of excise taxes downward, continuance of rent control, more borrowing power for the Commodity Credit Corporation, and a fair employment practices commission.

FEPC is probably doomed to die before a Senate filibuster. Extension of rent control is questionable, and excise tax revision may not take a pattern pleasing to Mr. Truman. Broader social security and more borrowing power for CCC should get through.

Not a very impressive score when set against the 1948 promises of Taft-Hartley repeal, national health insurance, federal aid to education, federal power extension, tax legislation to meet the budget deficit, higher unemployment compensation, broad civil rights legislation.

Normally the majority loses strength in Congress at elections between presidential years. If that happens to the Democrats this year, they'll hardly have a better chance of enacting the bulk of their program in 1951 and 1952. Even if they hold present margins, what reason is there to believe they'll fare better on the next try?

Only a big gain in the proportion of Fair Deal Democrats would markedly improve their prospects. And no one is now predicting that. Nor does anyone foresee a smashing GOP victory that would be favorable to whatever program the Republicans may devise.

On many critical domestic issues, Congress therefore seems stuck on dead center. Neither party appears able to go forward as it wishes; it is confined to making very limited progress or merely to thwarting the aims of its opposition. This performance is hardly democracy at its most effective pace.

MADE FOR POSITIVE ACHIEVEMENT

You and I are made in our inmost being for positive achievement—to be outgoing, to master our circumstances, to create. If we are not positively creating and producing, the machinery of life will get out of gear; for we are geared to creation. Negativism, therefore, not only keeps us from achieving; it also keeps us from being. The personality breaks down under negative attitudes. We are not made for them.

I know a person whose first attitude toward everything new that is presented is "No!" She lives in the objective mood. And hence her life is frustrated, when, with her powers, it might be fruitful. A more dramatic illustration is that of a woman of intellectual ability who became afraid of life, pulled in, and made retreat her life strategy. When she pulled in on herself, and refused to be outgoing, Nature began to take her toll—her knees began to stiffen. She became a confirmed invalid. But not only did her knees stiffen; her brain cells also began to decay through worry and anxiety and fear. As the doctors put it, "Her brain cells are rotten with fear." She became impossible—for herself and others. The life forces were breaking down under this retreatism. So the doctors decided to cut off that part of the brain which presides over foresight, now corrupted through fear and worry, and let it atrophy, so that the rest of the brain would function, but without the fear and worry. That fear and worry had to be got rid of either by operation or by the cleansing power of faith. She refused the faith: "I have run away too long. If you had got hold of me years ago, you might have headed this off—there is nothing now but the operation."

Retreatism and negativism are infections that corrupt the brain cells, make flabby the tissues, and poison the spirit. You must decide that they will have no part nor lot within you, since you want to live abundantly.

My God and Father, I belong to Thee. Thou Creator God. I would link myself with Thy Creative Spirit and become creative and positive and victorious. For I belong to today and tomorrow and forever. I do not belong to a wistful sighing over a dead past, nor to a fear of today—I belong to victory! Help me take it. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Multiple Attack on Nerves Should be Followed by Rest

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the nervous system. A few years ago it was considered rare in this country (it seemed somewhat more common on the European continent and in Britain). Today while still an unusual condition there are many reasons for believing that it is increasing. Even if it had remained extremely rare, however, it would have been important to those who had it and methods of preventing and treating it would still be urgently needed.

It may attack one or several parts of the nervous system and it is for this reason that the term "multiple" is attached to the name. The symptoms depend, therefore, on what part of the nervous system is involved.

Since the location varies there are no completely typical symptoms, though seeing double, a trembling or tremor when trying to pick up some object and a gait which looks somewhat like that of a drunken person are probably the most common. One or all of these may be absent and consequently the diagnosis may be difficult to make or long delayed.

The cause of this disease is not understood. Many theories have been suggested and studied but so far there is no one cause which has been accepted by all authorities.

A great many kinds of treatment have been tried. These have included fever treatment, the use of drugs to delay blood coagulation, attempts to desensitize to allergies, vaccins and several different drugs. Unfortunately none of these have proved really successful.

A good long rest is the best form of treatment during the acute stage of multiple sclerosis. The patient usually goes through periods of great improvement. If these good periods can be lengthened and the bad ones shortened, it is a good sign. A warm climate and freedom from colds and other infections of the nose and throat may help to prevent the downswings of the disease.

Agency Investigates

We need to know more about multiple sclerosis. Of this there is no doubt and therefore a group of citizens and physicians has been formed to aid in the necessary investigations. This group is called the Association for Advancement of Research on Multiple Sclerosis, 270 Park Avenue, New York.

It was started by patients themselves, together with their friends and relatvies and in co-operation with some of the country's leading physicians. The added interest and support provided by this society should lead to a more rapid increase in our knowledge of the causes and treatment of multiple sclerosis. Already this society has begun to aid several important research projects.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

From Me to Me . . .

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

Copyright 1950 by Hermina Black. Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Clemency Norton, nursery governess to Baba, small daughter of Jon and Syrie Amberley, had been told politely by Syrie to keep away from Jon's brother Piers, at whose luxurious desert home the family lives. But Clemency has not been able to avoid becoming involved in the family's domestic affairs. On a day off in Biskra with the Sandersons, a British-Canadian family, Piers drives her home. Leaving town, Clemency sees Jon, obviously drunk at a cafe, but Piers makes no mention of the episode. Later the car has a puncture, causing it to skid dangerously, and for a moment Piers holds Clemency closely.

• • •

XV

THAT night Clemency sent her meal away almost untouched.

There was nothing to worry about in the nurseries. Baba was sleeping soundly and had been—Louilie assured—very, very good. She had probably also been very, very spoilt, for unlike certain well publicized people, Louilie had never learned to say no—anyhow not to little girls.

But her sense of depression increased, and Clemency felt tired and bruised. She supposed it must be something to do with the sandstorm that had struck after her return.

Even a warm bath did not seem to get rid of her tiredness. When she slipped between the sheets she was still conscious of that bruised feeling which utter weariness brings.

Shutting her eyes, she saw the sand-edged road pierced by the powerful headlights of the car. She was on the brink of sleep now, and the scene changed—she saw the lighted cafe, Jon Amberley lurching a little, his face caricatured as a drunken man's. Back in the car again she felt it swerve and spin around, had the sickening knowledge of the tree trunk ahead.

Then a man's strong arm steadied her.

You didn't suddenly discover that you loved a man who was as far away from you as the stars in the heavens. Who had "finished with that kind of thing years ago."

"Piers is a one-woman man. There is never likely to be anyone else in his life—" The memory of Syrie's words floated back to her. "I think he despises women—"

• • •

ALTHOUGH by the morning the storm had died down outside, when Clemency got up she found a fine powdering of sand everywhere, and the aftermath of the sirocco seemed to be a tail of frayed tempers and general irritation.

Baba slept late and thoroughly objected to being taken out of bed. While she dressed, Clemency heard the patient Louilie coaxing a very cross small girl in the night nursery.

It was easy that day, for the storm had really upset Baba. She was heavy-eyed, and complained of her head aching, and for once went for her afternoon nap without any shadow of argument. Having tucked her safely up, Clemency went back to the day nursery and sat down to do some knitting.

She started and turned as the door opened and Jon Amberley came in.

He looked ill and drawn, and though she had felt the disgust which an exhibition such as she had witnessed last night naturally roused in her, she could not help feeling sorry for him, even while she liked him less than she had ever done before.

Intuition so often took the place of experience with Clemency, and she realized suddenly that what she had glimpsed last night had a different significance from the one she had attached to it. There was something ravaged and defeated about the man before her, mingled with a kind of challenging defiance as he met her eyes.

She schooled her face and her voice carefully as she smiled at him.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Amberley. I'm afraid Baba's asleep. I think the storm has upset her, poor mite."

"It always does," he said, without returning her greeting. "Comes out of the desert like some darned tormenting spirit. I hate it. Always know, hours before it comes."

"I can't say I enjoyed it, but it seemed to me to come up very abruptly," she told him. "I—" She broke off, deciding not to say that she had been in Biskra yesterday.

"Can I look at the kid?" he asked. "I won't disturb her."

She hesitated, but he had already gone through to the night nursery.

• • •

HE had opened the door noiselessly and left it wide; from where she stood she saw him go across to the cot and stand looking down at the sleeping child. He remained there for perhaps a full minute, then he turned and tiptoed back, closing the communicating door as quietly as he had opened it.

"She looks flushed. Not going to be ill, is she?" he asked.

"No, no! She's just a little out of sorts," said Clemency quickly.

"Oh, well—look after her!" He thrust his hands into his jacket pockets, but not before she saw how they were trembling. "I'm going away," he continued in the same rather strained manner which she had noticed since his entrance. "Maybe for a day or two—maybe longer. I don't know. Tell Baba I'll be back, and—to be a good girl. And—my love and a kiss." He walked to the door through which he had just entered and paused looking back at her; there was a strange, angry unhappiness in his eyes. "She's the only thing in the world I care a damn about, and I'm not even any good to her," he said. "Look after her."

"I think you can trust me to do that," said Clemency gently.

He stared at her. "I believe so. About the only person I've met that I can trust. Goodby."

She stood looking after him.

The man who had just gone out seemed to have left a very dark shadow behind him—that same vague sinister thing she had sensed on her first night in the house.

These Situations go Along With Almost Every Marriage

A few highlights on men, women, and marriage.

When a woman claims a man is being made a fool of—it's always by some other woman.

A wife's most generous compliments don't do as much for a man's ego as an appreciative glance from some other woman.

The most cruel cut of all: When a balding man is making an impression on a much younger woman and his wife comes up to inquire sweetly: "Has he shown you the snapshot of our new grandchild?"

It pleases a wife to know her husband likes her new outfit—but she isn't really satisfied until she can measure its impact on the members of her bridge club.

Never envy the woman whose husband "gives her everything." It may prove he loves her, and again it may just mean that he's a show-off at heart.

Many a well-to-do widow has lived to collect her erring husband's insurance because in moments of marital crisis she thought more of her future than of her pride.

Where There's Smoke

To forgive but not forget a quarrel is to leave smoldering embers that will set off a new blaze of anger the moment the tiniest bit of fuel is added.

If men were as logical and practical and steadfast as women wish they were life with them might be rather dull . . . but many a wife would be willing to give it a try.

Many a husband has stayed out of mischief for years simply because his wife kept him on the go so constantly that his greatest desire in life was for a good night's sleep.

Many a wife follows every bit of advice she runs across for making her marriage last except the most important one—keeping her husband in good health.

When a wife lets her husband have his way in small matters, you can be pretty sure she gets hers in big ones.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

The Lotus club made a liberal donation to the Melita Day nursery, it being from proceeds left after expenses had been met at the club's dance given recently.

John S. McGaw and Joseph Paradis were elected by the Sedalia council, Knights of Columbus, delegates to the state convention of that order to be held in St. Louis May 10.

That Last Question on the Exam Was a Sticker

Test for French Parachute Nurses Includes 40-Foot Practice Jump

FULL EQUIPMENT is worn by June Dreshfeld, 21-year-old Paris secretary, as she prepares for her first jump from the 40-foot tower.

PARIS — (NEA) — Five pretty girls turned up at Noisy airfield, outside Paris, the other evening to tackle difficult written and oral exams.

Then all five of them got up and jumped off a 40-foot tower.

This was not out of desperation because they had failed. The jump was the last question on the exam and had to be answered five times —with full parachute equipment.

After that the girls were ready for enrollment in the voluntary Air Parachutist Nurses Group, brainchild of the Marquise Madeleine-Claire de Villeroy, probably the most air-minded woman in France.

* * *

The dynamic Marquise started flying when she was 11, which was sometime before World War I. She obtained her pilot's license in 1918, and ever since she has owned her own plane just as other women own a car. She has jumped more than 20 times, too, which stirred up her interet in parachuting.

"Russia is the only country where women parachutists are trained seriously," she explained. "A few young Frenchwomen were parachuted into the underground during the occupation and successfully accomplished dangerous missions. My aim is to prove that it's possible to train young women 'chutists for useful work, not only in wartime but in other emergencies."

The Marquise has no lack of candidates for her jumping nurses. She trained 50 in Lyons in the past year, and now is training 15 more in Paris. Many more than she can handle have applied, all of them white-collar workers such as secretaries, office workers and dressmakers. Age limits are 15½ to 35.

* * *

Training starts with physical education, including judo. First jumps are from piled-up benches, then from the 40-foot tower. It takes between 12 and 15 months of night courses, thee times a week, to pass the second-degree test, by which time the girls must have completed 30 jumps from tower and from plane, 15 with automatic control and 15 with retarded control.

FIRST JUMP is made from piled-up benches. Germaine Gex-Bertrand, a 20-year-old Lyons dressmaker, covers her face as she leaps.

So far, the Marquise has been devoting most of her private income to the project, but she'll have to find outside help to reach her goal of groups of 15 to 20 girls in every large town. It costs about $600 a year to train each 'chutist, plus $50 for jumping equipment. The girls provide their own uniforms, which the Marquise designed.

Veteran among the jumping nurses is Helene Sibert, 21-year-old Lyons secretary, who holds the rank of top sergeant of the group. She dismisses the 30 jumps to her credit this way:

"Once in a while we have to nurse bruises and bumps, but so far there have been no serious mishaps. Anyway, nothing could stop us."

Broke Ties As British Doctor

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20—(AP)—A former British doctor said Wednesday night he fled from the British national health service to escape intolerable conditions.

Intolerable, he added, meant trying to handle 20 patients an hour and make 36 home calls a day. Or to have up to 4,000 patients so you could give each one only three minutes.

"You can't do much in three minutes," Dr. Ralph J. Campbell said in a speech prepared for the annual State Chamber of Commerce banquet. Dr. Campbell, 33, is interning now in a San Francisco hospital so he can qualify for practice in the United States.

"I worked under the British government health system and found it so objectionable, both personally and as a physician, that I felt compelled to break all my ties x x x," he said.

"You see, there are some things not worth doing at any price and that sort of government medicine seemed to me so intolerable that I made this momentous personal decision. And I am not alone in making this break.

"You won't find many of my British colleagues here in the United States because the problem of obtaining dollars is almost insurmountable for Englishmen. But they are streaming out of Great Britain to the British dominions. x x x"

The wife and children of John Henry Grant, 32, are led from the Los Angeles International Airport after police arrested Grant and accused him of attempting to blow up a United Airlines plane with his family aboard. Mrs. Porter Murray Injured

Mrs. Porter Murray of Knob Noster was critically injured in an automobile accident in Kansas City Sunday night. Mrs. Murray was the former Miss Lena Drinkwater, who teaches in North Kansas City.

She had spent the week-end at her home northwest of Knob Noster, and returning to North Kansas City. Enroute she visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Adams in Kansas City and left there about 9:00 p. m.

Mrs. Murray is at Research hospital and Mr. Murray has been at her bedside.

She received a fractured back and a compression fracture of the skull.

Talk on Posture At 4-H Club Meeting

The Hillview 4-H Club met at a: the home of Jo Ann Nicholson on the evening of April 13.

Patricia Green, president, presided.

There were 14 members and eight visitors.

The News Letter was read by Cleo Breckenridge, secretary.

Jo Ann Nicholson gave a talk on posture and 4-H Sunday was discussed.

There was a report from the council member, Marvin Nicholson.

During the social hour games were played and songs sung after which refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held May 11, at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Sue Green.

Cassava for Tapioca

The cassava plant, the roots of which furnishes tapioca, grows in South America. It attains a height of 10 feet, and the root weighs from one to 20 pounds.

Domestic bees are estimated to gather less than a tenth of the nectar plants.

Green Ridge

Mrs. Verna Palmer.

Mrs. Wilford Acker assisted by Mrs. True Ulmer was hostess to the members of the Home Builders Class of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Sunday school on Tuesday afternoon, April 11, at her home in Green Ridge.

The president, Mrs. J. A. Gordon opened the meeting with a short prayer which was followed by the singing of a hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and the class song. The teacher of the class, Mrs. Wilford Acker, read the Scripture lesson, Acts 10: 34 to 48.

During the business meeting the report was made that the new curtains for the Sunday School room were made by Mrs. Charles Ward and that the painting of the tables, chairs and benches in the two Sunday school rooms was practically finished.

There was some discussion of the Food Sale to be held by the class on May 13, the Saturday before Mother's Day and of the play the class plans to present soon.

The meeting closed with the class benediction. A social hour followed during which games were played and the hostesses served refreshments of open faced sandwiches, salad, cookies and tea to sixteen members and three visitors, Mrs. Alton Meads, Mrs. Edna Booher and Mrs. Frank Mackey.

Sedalia Presbytery met on Friday, April 14, at the Presbyterian church in Green Ridge, with 18 churches represented by delegates. Dr. Reuben Torrey spoke at 10:30 and reported on Foreign Missions also. Dinner was served at noon by the ladies of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reno, who reside on the Lake of the Ozarks, were in Green Ridge on Saturday visiting friends and while here attended the funeral of Mrs. E. C. Vogelbaugh.

John Baker of Granite City, Illinois, visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Baker at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hinken and son Morris and Mrs. Myrtle Morris of Mt. Sterling was in Green Ridge on Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. C. Vogelbaugh.

In a recent letter to his parents, Sgt. Vernon Palmer who is stationed in Tokyo, Japan, stated that he attended sunrise services on Easter Sunday morning on the Imperial Palace grounds in Tokyo and he said also that nearly all the American personel of the occupational forces in Tokyo attended this service. Sgt. Palmer said that the grounds around the Imperial Palace was very beautiful. Palmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer of Green Ridge.

Howard Earl Warren, who just recently arrived in the United States from Tokyo, Japan, where he was stationed with the U.S. Air Force, was in Green Ridge last week visiting friends and while here was a guest in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams, in Green Ridge. Technical Sgt. Warren said that he and Sergeant Vernon Palmer visited together several times while he was stationed in Japan.

Mrs. Milford Lewis was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stoddard on Sunday.

Revival services begin at the Baptist church in Green Ridge on Sunday morning, April 16. Reverend Willis Chaney is conducting the services assisted by the pastor, Reverend R. I. Clemings.

Melvin Ream, who is employed in Kansas City spent the weekend at his home in Green Ridge.

Leo Waters, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Waters, died at the Veterans Hospital at Fayetteville, Arkansas, on Sunday, April 2, at the age of 53 years. He was buried in Fort Smith, Arkansas, on Tuesday, April 4. Mr. Waters had been in ill health for several years and the last fifteen months had been confined to the hospital. He is survived by two brothers, Millard and Murel and one sister, Mabel, all of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mr. Waters spent his boyhood in the Green Ridge community and will be remembered by some of the older residents.

Green Ridge township went over the top in the recent Red Cross drive after getting a late start. The campaign in this township was under the leadership of the Reverand J.G.W. Kirschner.

Miss Betty Jean Street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Street of Warrensburg and Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Leeton were married at the home of the Reverand Mohler in Leeton on Tuesday, April 4th and will make their home in Windsor.

Mrs. Brown, nee Street, is a sister of Mr. Lloyd Street of Green Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gordon have purchased the residence property of Mrs. Julia Durrill in south west Green Ridge where they have been residing for the past year.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 491 held its regular meeting at the Bennett hall on Monday night, April 10.

The president, Mrs. Clayton Hoover, presided over the meeting during which routine business matters were taken care of and reports of committees were made. The committee in charge of supplying the hall kitchen with utensils for use in serving refreshments had 100 stainless steel forks presented by the Auxiliary and 100 spoons presented by the American Legion Post to be put in the kitchen at the hall and made available for the use of all organizations using the hall. Mrs. Quintin Binder had charge of the study program and presented interesting information on the United Nations. Following the business meeting, the hostess Mrs. W. F. Binder and Mrs. Harold Lee Baslee entertained with games and served refreshments in keeping with the Easter season to fourteen members.

Mr. and Mrs. True Ulmer had as guests during the Easter season at their home in Green Ridge, their children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Paul White and Mr. and Mrs. True Ulmer, Jr., and sons, Donnie and Larry, all of Springfield, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs .Roscoe Nelson and daughters, Joan and Donna of Perryton, Texas.

The April meeting of the Green Ridge P.T.A. will be held on Wednesday afternoon, April 19, in the school auditorium. The new officers will be installed at this meeting.

WITH THE THATCH ON TOP — A. Christie, of London, forsakes his modern car when he visits Sussex, for this antique on which neighbors thatched a roof when top fell in.

There's Difference Between Approval and Voting Money

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (AP) —You think your taxes are too high. And you think the government is spending too much money. You wish it would cut down on the spending so it could cut down on your taxes.

You never see, directly, most of the money the government spends. And you wonder where it all goes. Of course, you'd see a little of it if the government would fix that bay near you to help fishing and recreation.

So you—and by you is meant your local fishing club, or real estate board, or business group or landowners — tell your congressman and he gets to work on it.

If the government fixes that bay, it's going to add something to what the government is spending. But you think your neighborhood ought to have it and, if you can get it, you want it.

You may, or may not, remember that other people all over the country are putting in plugs with their congressmen to get the government to do something about their bay, or river, or harbor.

Needs Money

And when all these plugs are put together in one big bill — called the Rivers and Harbors Bill —the total calls for a big chunk of government money.

Your congressman, of course, is glad to push your pet project. That's getting something for the people back home who vote for him. In fact, his re-election may depend on whether he gets you what you want.

This brings up the old problem of trying to have your cake and eating it, too, of cutting down government spending while asking the government to keep on spending.

And it's a wonderful sight to see congressmen, who complain about government spending, making a pitch for a big rivers and harbors bill when Congress gets around to voting on it.

All Up Again

This all came up again in the past week. The Senate was debating the Rivers and Harbors Bill. Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat who is also an economist, asked the Senators to make some sacrifices, in the name of economy, and vote against some of their pet home-town projects.

"I know only too well what we are up against," he said. "Local groups demand that their representatives and Senators bring home the 'bacon' or else.

"All too often these groups loudly proclaim their desire for economy, but at the same time they want their local pet projects at the federal government's expense. They want economy practiced on the other fellow but not on themselves.

To Citizens

"So my appeal is directed not only to the Senate of the United States. It is directed in an even greater degree to the citizens of the localities themselves."

In short, Douglas said, this was the old pork barrel bill.

Altogether, the bill called for spending $1,565,000,000. Douglas offered a number of suggestions —amendments—for cutting $840,000,000 off that amount. The senators voted down every one of his suggestions.

The Budget Bureau — the arm of the government which figures how much is needed for everything, including rivers and harbors—had recommended spending a total of $798,000,000.

The House previously thrust aside this idea of the Budget Bureau and approved $1,120,000,000, or $322,000,000 more than the Budget Bureau thought was necessary.

Senate's Turn

Then came the Senate's turn. It upped the figure to $1,565,000,000, which was $445,000,000 more than the House thought necessary and $767,000,000 more than the Budget Bureau recommended.

There's one catch in all this. The House and Senate didn't really vote that much money. It only "authorized" that much. That is, it said it thought spending that much money was all right. But—

Voting the actual money comes later. And, when it does come, Congress may vote less money than it now has "authorized." If that happens, of course, government spending will be cut.

Until it happens, if it happens, the congressmen can tell the folks back home they worked hard and got congressional approval of the local project. There's a difference between getting approval for it and then getting Congress to vote the money to get it started.

The Lovelace Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Logan Siegel with 14 members and six visitors attending.

A contributive dinner was served at the noon hour with a large birthday cake honoring Mrs. Emma Cranfield and Mrs. Siegel.

In the afternoon the business meeting was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. Elmer Curtiss and roll call was answered by each quoting a Bible werse beginning with the letter of their name.

Mrs. Logan Siegel, clothing leader, gave a report on the clothing meeting she had attended.

After the meeting the hostess opened her gifts.

The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Richardson on May 11.

Consecrated Bishop

DES MOINES, April 20.—(AP)—A centuries-old consecration service was read today at the Rt. Rev. Gordon V. Smith, 43, became the sixth bishop of the Iowa diocese of the Episcopal church.

The rich pageantry of the service unfolded before more than 1,000 parishoners, civic leaders and high church officials. The crowd overflowed the 95-year-old stone St. Paul's church in downtown Des Moines.

Not a Candidate

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—(AP)—Former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said today he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator. There had been speculation that he would.

"I have no intention of filing for the nomination," Donnelly told the St. Louis Post-Dispatch by telephone from his home in Lebanon.

Auto Designer Dies

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 20—(AP)—Roy E. Cole, 63, automotive engineer who designed the Studebaker champion, died in a hospital here last night. He was also the designer of the "Weasel," amphibious personnel and cargo carried used in World War II.

Leopard Jumps, Claws Keeper

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20—(AP) — The mate of Oklahoma City's famous leopard today sprang 15 feet to claw a zoo attendant.

Tom Gardner, 40, slipped and fell outside the animal's cage as he was tending the animal.

The leopard sprang across her cage to lay open the palm of Gardner's right hand.

Gardner said he was using a long hook to drag the leopard's water pan close enough to fill.

"My foot slipped and I fell," he said. "I caught myself with my right hand against the bars. She sprang and clawed my hand. I rolled away before she could reach through the bars and get at my shoulder."

The leopard has been confined to her cage since her mate escaped Feb. 25 from the zoo pit with an 18-foot leap. For 72 hours, the jungle beast was free before it returned to its pit where it was captured. It died that night.

Asked to Conduct Election Properly

By Ruth Cowan

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Mrs. Roscoe O'Byrne, president general, sternly called on the Daughters of the American Revolution today to conduct their election of national officers "properly."

Mrs. O'Byrne, of Brookville, Ind., disclosed to the 4,000 delegates attending the 59th DAR congress that a teller had been removed from the voting room. She said the teller, whom she did not identify, was seen by several witnesses marking a ballot for a voter.

"We want this election conducted properly," the president general said at a morning meeting. "We have no rules saying no electioneering may be conducted within a certain number of feet from the building. But please don't tell people how to vote within the building."

The DAR delegates are electing their 20th president general, 11 other holders of major national offices, and seven vice-presidents general from a list of 10 nominees. All elected will serve three years.

Might Set Pattern To Avoid Strike

TRENTON, N.J., April 20—(AP)—New Jersey telephone operators were awarded a $2.50 weekly wage boost today in a ruling described as a possible pattern for settlement of the nationwide dispute.

The award by a state-appointed arbitration board was announced by the office of Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll.

The governor said previously that the decision might set the pattern for the ending of the country-wide controversy which is now in a truce stage until 6 a.m. April 26.

At Washington, the CIO communications workers described the arbitration award of $2.50 a week to $12,000 members as "the first significant break in the current telephone wage dispute."

Mr. and Mrs. Gross In Easter Cantata

Frank Gross, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Gross, 917 West Fourth street, this city, who resides in Compton, Calif., was one of the soloists in "The Story of Easter" presented by the Cathedral Choir of St. John's Community Presbyterian church in Compton on Good Friday. Mrs. Gross was organist for the Cantata.

Mr. Gross is employed by T. W. Airline. Mr. and Mrs. Gross have a son, Frank W. Gross, III, two years old.

Kiwanis Speaker Recounts Story of Book of Esther

The story of the Book of Esther was told by Dr. James D. Sill, director of Religious Activities, Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker was introduced by Harold Bamburg, program chairman.

Guests were: J. C. Cash, Kansas City, with John Ryan; and Arthur Bux, Kansas City, with Ben Robinson.

Excitement Too Great

BALTIMORE, April 20.—(AP)—One of the nuns at St. Gregory's parochial school telephoned Ellen Virginia Brooks, 13, that she had won a competitive examination for a scholarship to Mount St. Agnes' Academy.

Highly excited, Ellen whirled from the telephone and shouted the good news to her mother. Then she collapsed. The excitement was too much for her heart. She was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Her classmtes at St. Gregory's attended her funeral yesterday.

Filed For Auditor

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—(AP)—Alvin V. Bartelsmeyer of Glendale, St. Louis county judge, filed today for the Republican nomination for state auditor.

He is the third Republican in the race. Joseph M. Badgett of St. Louis, and William Barton of Jefferson City, former state representative, filed earlier.

W. H. Holmes of Vienna, the incumbent, is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Large Estate To Institutions

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 20.—(AP)—Dr. Wayne M. Toothaker, who committed suicide last week, left the greater portion of his estate to the St. Joseph public library for establishment of a medical library.

The will, filed for probate this morning, contained no appraisal, but friends of the 35-year-old physician and surgeon, said the amount going to the library would be about $150,000. The will specified that it be established as a memorial to Dr. Toothaker and his father, the late Dr. B. W. Toothaker.

The young physician died of an overdise of sleeping powder. Friends said he had grieved over the death of his mother, his only living relative, who died a few days earlier.

Among other bequests in the will was $5,000 to St. Louis university for a Wayne M. Toothaker scholarship; $5,000 to St. Joseph Junior college for a premedic scholarship and $5,000 to his nurse and secretary, Miss Helen Ryan.

Occupation Students To Hold a Banquet

A banquet will be given tonight at the Bothwell hotel by Diversified Occupation students of Smith-Cotton high school in honor of their employer-teachers who have made it possible for them to receive training in their chosen trade by actually working on the job while attending school and studying subjects related to the job.

Most of these students are seniors and this will be their last opportunity to show their appreciation to these business men.

A musical program will be presented by a group from the Men's Choral club composed of Dean Binderup, Charles Maggard, Al Domingue and Ad Taylor. There will also be several solo numbers by Mrs. Ira M. White with Miss Dorothy Ann Reed as the accompanist.

New Filings For County Offices

Two members of the Pettis county court have filed with James Green, county clerk, their intentions to seek re-election to the offices they now hold. Both are Republicans. They are Judge J. V. Kesterson, 1426 South Carr avenue, presiding judge, and Judge Edw. Callis, Hughesville, for Judge of the Western District.

Judge W. L. Marlin, of near Beaman, Democrat, also a member of the court, representing the Eastern District, recently filed for the nomination for Presiding Judge on his party's ticket.

J.D.Smith, rural route Hughesville, has filed for the Democratic nomination for County Collector of Revenue. Two other Democrats had previously filed for the nomination, E. J. Thomas, 633 East Ninth street, and J. M. Bailey, 700 West Third street.

Community Chest Board Meeting

Community Chest Board Meeting

A meeting of the Community Chest Board of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at Teen Town to begin plans for the campaign to be held this fall. Harry Naugel is chairman of the board.

Named Dog Sole Heir

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 20.—(AP)—The declining years won't be a dog's life for Dixie.

The will of G. S. Richberg, a barber was admitted in probate court yesterday after a long legal battle which reached the Tennessee supreme court. Richberg died Aug. 5, 1948. His relatives contested the will.

The will named Dixie, a female American pet bulldog, sole heir to the $4,500 estate. It decreed that $35 a month shall go for the dog's care for the rest of her life. Dixie is eight years old.

Arms to Norway

OSLO, Norway, April 20—(AP)—The first shipment of arms to Norway under the American military aid program arrived today.

The government kept secret the arrival hour and Communists were able to stage only a minor demonstration.

There was no disturbance as dock workers began unloading 300 tons of machineguns, semi-automatic rifles and bazookas, which arrived aboard the S.S. Mormacdale.

Sentenced to Jail

Oliver Stinnett, arrested on a charge of non-support of his two children, pleaded guilty to Acting Magistrate J. C. McCloskey, this morning, and was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. Stinnett, on parole from Algoa Farm, told the court he hadn't been working and couldn't do anything now and besides his ex-wife and husband said they didn't want the money.

The information was signed by the ex-wife, Mrs. Maxine Gregg. Stinnett is supposed to contribute $20.00 a month toward the support of his two children.

Three-Way Battle

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—(AP)—Now there's a triangle in the Democratic primary for the fourth congressional district nomination. Ralph Shepard, Kansas City lawyer, made it a three-way battle by filing his candidacy yesterday.

Already in the race were Congressman Leonard Irving of Independence and his former congressional secretary, Vernon E. Moore, also of Independence. No Republicans have filed yet in President Truman's home district.

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Dyne, route 4, entertained with a dinner at their home Sunday. Guests were relatives of Mrs. Van Dyne. They were: Mrs. Stephen Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Neidert and children and Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman all of Jefferson City and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose of Columbia.

Easter Sunday at 2:30 o'clock Miss Marjorie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Allen of California, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Loesing of Pilot Grove, son of Judge and Mrs. Bruno Loesing of Boonville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Heifner of the First Baptist church in California. The altar was decorated with burning tapers, tropical fern, Easter lilies, and peach gladioli in Permid vases. Tapers also decorated the aisle.

Mrs. K. J. O'Banion played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Goldine Gabriel, who sang, "Because," "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and net insertions in the yoke, tight sleeves that came to points over the hands and a full skirt that had an aisle wide train, the train being edged in lace. Her fingertip veil had lace insertions and was edged in lace and held in place by a halo of pearls. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies with satin streamers. Her only ornament was a heirloom necklace of her mother.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Rolla J. Plattner of Malta Bend, wore a medium blue taffeta floor-length dress with a torso bodice and at the edge of the torso was a pleated, ruffle, tied in a bow on the left hip, and had a full skirt. Her shoulder length veil of matching color was held in place by rosettes of the same material and had matching elbow length mitts. Her colonial bouquet was af peach colored carnations and lilies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Esther Fahrenbrink of Bunceton and Mrs. Layton Reed of California, who wore dresses of deep rose, fashioned like the matron of honor. They also had matching veils and mitts and carried colonial bouquets of fuschia carnations and lilies.

Candlelighters were Miss Carolyn Foster of Jefferson City and Carmen Duvalle of Adrain who wore floor length dresses of white with low necklines and full skirt and their candles were tied with pink carnations. The flower girl, little Miss Audrey Kenworthy, wore a pale blue eyelet nylon dress, fashioned with cap sleeves. Best man was Lt. J. B. Loesing of Cape Girardeau. Groomsmen were Estil Loesing of Sedalia and Edward Loesing of Pilot Grove, brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Meyer and Leo Meyer of High Point.

The bride's mother more a navy and white bemberg sheer with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray gabardine suit with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors with Miss Beverly Beetler in charge of the guest book. Miss Erma Fahrenbrink and Miss Esther Shull served the cake and Mrs. J. B. Loesing and Mrs. Edward Loesing served punch. Others assisting were Miss Virginia Hogge, Mrs. John Moore, Miss Marylin Beetler, Mrs. Clifton Beetler, Mrs. Charles Meyer and Mrs. Leo Meyer.

The bride is a graduate of California high school and State College at Warrensburg and taught kindergarten at Liberty for several years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pilot Grove high school and attended Missouri University and served with the United States Navy in World War II.

They left for a short wedding trip and the bride chose for traveling a navy gabardine suit with navy accessories and lily corsage.

Upon their return, they will be at home on a farm seven miles northwest of Pilot Grove.

A large delegation of women from Sedalia attended the state meeting of Royal Neighbors of America held in Kansas City, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ralph Dow, Sr., Sedalia, route 4, was elected a delegate to the National Convention of Royal Neighbors of America to be held June 19 in San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Pearl Reams, 315 South Massachusetts avenue, was elected state recorder-receiver of the organization.

Mary Lee Brewer celebrated her seventh birthday with a party Saturday, April 1.

The children played games and awards were won by Mary Louise Schwenk, Donald Richardson, Dana Hayes, Barbara Boots, and Sandra Lee Burton.

Mary Lee received many lovely gifts. Paper hats and balloons were the favors. Ice cream and angel food cake were served.

CHURCH NEWS

The T. E. I. class of the East Sedalia Baptist church will have a covered dish luncheon in the church basement.

Liberty P. T. A. Meeting

The Liberty P. T. A. met Friday, April 14, with the president, E. E. Campbell, reading the P.T.A. prayer. After a short business session, the books were turned over to the new president, Mrs. Zona Green. Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served.

The next meeting will be held the third Friday in September.

En Route To Italy

E. E. Bonner, fireman apprentice, USN, of Warsaw, Mo., is scheduled to arrive in Naples Italy, April 22, aboard the light cruiser USS Roanoke, which has been engaged in fleet maneuvers with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The visit to Naples was arranged to afford the ships' crews a period of relaxation ashore and an opportunity to visit the beautiful Italian countryside.

Program by A Cappella Choir of K. U.

The University of Kansas City A Cappella Choir presented a two hour musical program at the Smith Cotton high school auditorium Wednesday night under the direction of Wynn York and featured Dale Bryan, talented young violinist.

The following program was presented to an appreciative audience and represented the type of varied music this organization has been offering while on its current concert tour.

"A Saving Health to Us Is Brought," Brahms

"Suprely He Hath Borne Our Griefs," Graun

"Veni Sancte Spiritus (Motet for Double Choir), Palestrina

"Alleluia, Christ Is Risen," Kopyloff

"Salvation Is Created," Tschesnokoff

"Cantata of Peace," Milhaud

Well Received

This first portion of the concert was well received by the audience. Mr. York was informal in his duty as conductor and gave interesting sketches about the various selections in the order they were sung. The group rendered the encore "Sing Unto the Lord a New Song" at the intermission period.

Dale Bryan, violinist, accompanied by Edythe Sandercock, played Saint Saens' "Rondo Capriccioso." His technical ability won him much applause.

The choir then returned to this final portion of the program.

"With Drooping Wings" (from Dido and Aeneas), Purcell

"My Heart Doth Beg You'll Not Forget" (Madrigal), di Lasso

"Though You May Be Rather Lean," di Lasso

"Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair" arranged by Stuart Churchill

"Cotton Picking Songs" arranged by Siegmeister

"Work Song" (Robert Parke, soloist), Roy Harris

"Little David Play on Your Harp," arranged by Malin

"All the Pretty Little Horses," arranged by Binder

"Ain't a That Good News" Shirley Kilmer, soloist, arranged b. Dawson

Expressed Approval

The crowd attending were so responsive with their approval of the program that the choir was called back to do two additional encores. They were: "Carol of the Angels," (Chai Sin See and Ida Miller, soloists) John Jacob Niles and "Soon Ah Will Be Done," arranged by Dawson.

Shortly after their arrival in Sedalia Wednesday afternoon the Choir presented a twenty minute program to the students of Smith-Cotton high school.

The Queen City Choral, sponsore of this concert appearance here, prepared a buffet dinner which was served to the combined organizations at the First Christian church, prior to the evening's presentation. The Rev. David M. Bryan, pastor of the church was present and returned thanks.

Jay Jolley, a former Sedalian and nephew of Mrs. C. D. Demand, is a member of this organization and sang with the choir at the concert.

Busy Stitchers Club Meeting

The Busy Stitchers met at the home of Mrs. Willie Anderson, April 7, with seven members and two visitors present. The visitors were: Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. Ellen Dickerson.

A contributive dinner was served at noon. Mrs. Elsie Barton presided at the business meeting, which opened by each one answering roll call with "What They Would Do if Elected Queen for a Day."

Lelard Anderson gave two demonstrations in the afternoon on "The Care of Your Feet" and "How to Use Fertilizer in Your Garden."

The afternoon was spent in working for the hostess. Games were played and several members received birthday and anniversary gifts.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Barton.

Antagonistic

North Carolina has recorded several instances when voracious bluefish have driven schools of menhaden on to the shore until they were piled knee-deep.

Sedalia Shrine club will entertain with a dance Friday night at 9 o'clock at 121½ South Ohio avenue April 21, 1950. Invite that prospective eligible and his lady. Be on time and wear your fez.

L. C. Judd, President.
H. M. Brown, Secretary.

High School Boys to Meet

The older boys of eleven rural high schools will meet at Smithton at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Methodist church to discuss high school boys' problems.

Each high school will have a speaker and a musical number, and following these talks and musical numbers the Rev. James Sill, chaplain at Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, will give the closing talk.

Schools included in the conference are Smithton, Otterville Stover, Cole Camp, Lincoln, Warsaw, LaMonte, Green Ridge, Knob Noster, Houstonia and Hughesville.

Presiding over the meeting will be Max Birdsong of Smithton.

The boys will be guests of the mothers of Smithton.

This is the third similar conference to be held in the past two years, the first at Houstonia, the second at Warsaw and this, the third, at Smithton. They are sponsored by the Sedalia Boys' Work Council of which H. E. Lindstrom is president and Irvin Raut is secretary.

Last year there was also a girls' conference held at LaMonte.

Newspaper Has Student Guests

About 20 pupils of Eden Valley and Dunksburg schools and their teachers went through the Democrat-Capital office this morning. The children came to Sedalia a few weeks ago and had planned at that time to visit the newspaper office, but they ran so far behind on the schedule in visiting various Sedalia industries that it was too late to stop at the Democrat-Capital—they just had to go home.

But the youngsters never got over their disappointment, they still wanted to see how a newspaper was put together, so Mrs. Iva Crawford, of Sweet Springs, who teaches at Eden Valley, and Miss Rosie Lee Winston, of LaMonte, who teaches at Dunksburg, decided they would take the children again to Sedala to spend the day and this time they would go to the Democrat-Capital office in the morning before they went anywhere else.

At noon they ate lunch downtown, then went to the park, where the afternoon was spent in skating.

Sedalia lodge No. 236, A. F. & A. M., will meet in special communication on Saturday, April 22, at 6:00 p. m. for work in the third degree of Freemasonry. A good attendance will be necessary so members please take notice and come if at all convenient. A busy evening. Master Masons please take notice. Visiting Master Masons are welcome. Refreshments after degrees.

Twin Pianists Guest Artists

The Nettleton Twins, duo piano team of Kansas City will appear with the Sedalia Symphony orchestra in the final concert of the 1949-1950 season at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium Monday night at 8:20 o'clock with Abe Rosenthal conducting.

The twins, Jeanne and Joanna have had long trials of standing successes. In Kansas City they have established a reputation as superb artists. Their identical psysical features and their parallel abilities at the keyboard have fascinated thousands.

The orchestra will feature such selections as the "Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2," Carl Friedemann, Opus 269 and "Song of the Bayou" by Rube Bloom. The "Mississippi Suite" by Ferde Grofe will also be played in only three parts, a. Father of Waters, b. Huckleberry Finn, c. Mardi Gras.

Grofe is one of America's outstanding modern composers and he has been featured on the symphony program repeatedly this season.

The orchestra will hold its final rehearsal Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the music room of Smith Cotton high school.

Bradley Star Discloses a Bribe Offer

Paul Unruh Said He Brushed Off Unidentified Man

PEORIA, Ill., April 20—(AP)—Paul Uhruh, Bradley University basketball star, says he turned down a $100 to $500 bribe offer to throw a National Invitation Tournament game in New York last month.

The 21-year old All-America ace, son of a Baptist minister, says he brushed off an unidentified man who asked him in front of a New York hotel if he would like to "make some easy money."

Unruh said he neglected to mention the incident to Bradley officials at the time because he didn't think it was important.

"I just brushed if off and forgot it," he said. "I didn't hold it against the buy—I guess guys like that have to eat and make a living."

Unruh said he believed the man was a bookie but added that he could have been a prankster. He said also that no report was made to tournament officials or to the district attorney in New York.

Disclosed For First Time

The Bradley star disclosed the bribe offer for the first time during a speech at a church dinner in Pekin, Ill., Tuesday night. He said the man offered to pay $100 if Bradley won a game by six points and $500 if it won by two points in any tournament game.

Unruh told his audience:

"It goes without saying that I turned down the money," concluding:

"A very bad situation exists there (in New York) when it comes to gambling."

Unruh, in an interview yesterday, confirmed he made the statements but said he had assumed he was not speaking for publication. He said he received the bribe offer from the man outside the Paramount hotel in New York March 11 or 12, after the team arrived there and before it played any games in the National Invitational Tournament.

Scoring Results

Bradley beat Syracuse, 78-66, and St. John's 83-72, before losing the title game to City College of New York, 69-61. Later it lost in New York to City College, 71-68 in the final game of the National Collegiate meet.

Unruh said he didn't know why he waited so long to tell of the incident. He said he just recalled the bribe Tuesday night in talking about his personal objections to "too much commercialization" of sports, "particularly in the New York area."

"I learned during my week in New York before the East-West game that players from southern schools make as much as $200 a month. They called me a liar when I told them Bradley paid for one-half of my tuition and my books, and that my father's Ministerial Alliance took care of the other half."

Unruh, a native of Toulon, Ill., did not mention any southern schools or players by name.

Another Rarity Called On Brooklyn Dodgers

PHILADELPHIA, April 20—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, famous for some of baseball's weirdest plays, have come up with another rarity—a batter called out after hitting a single.

Duke Snider, fleet centerfielder, joined past members of the Dodgers who have stolen bases with the sacks loaded and stopped the ball with their heads. The Duke drove a sharp single to center and was promptly called out by umpire Dusty Boggess.

Over anxious to hit one of Russ Meyer's blooper pitches in the fifth inning of yesterday's game with the Phillies, Snider stepped across the plate and out of the batter's box to let go with a well-timed swing.

The rules say a player can not step out of the batter's box to hit the ball.

Snider could not be reached for comment but Boggess quoted the Duke as saying on his next appearance at the plate.

"I had seen Meyers use the blooper pitch in Florida during spring training and knew what to expect. I just anticipated the pitch and was determined to connect with that slow ball."

Jack Culp Teams With Stranahan in Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N.C., April 20—(AP)—Jack Culp, a 27-year old Chicagoan who had to play off with 10 other 81 qualifiers for three vacant berths in match play, was the talk of the North-South golf tournament today.

Culp ousted his Pinehurst host, Richard D. Chapman, former National and current Canadian Amateur titlist, in a tense one up third round struggle yesterday. His quarter-final foe today was Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, defending champion.

The Culp-Stranahan match was an upper bracket affair in today's quarter-finals. The other paired Wynsel K. Spencer of Newport News, 1948 Virginia champion, and Joseph A. McBride, of Ridgewood, N.J.

The lower bracket sent William C. Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., against Raymond L. Pittman of Fayetteville, N.C., and William W. Markham of East Hampton, Conn., against J. Wolcott Brown, two-time New Jersey champion from Manasquan.

Stranahan, under par since he qualified with a three-under 69, yesterday advanced 4 and 2 over Charles Dudley of Greenville, S.C.

Coming Through

Matt Batts of the Red Sox dives for home head first at Boston but is put out by New York Yankee catcher Yogi Berra after Joe Dobson doubled to center in the fifth inning. Marks May be Toppled in Kansas Relays

25th Annual Event Starts This Saturday

By Skipper Patrick

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 20—(AP) — The relay teams, overshadowed in recent years by individual performers, stack up as the top attractions Saturday in the 25th annual Kansas relays.

Among the relay marks expected to topple are the four-mile, University sprint medley and the mile.

An American record may be in the four-mile relay where the host Kansas Jayhawks appear to hold a slight edge over top-notch Michigan and Texas A. and M. units.

The Kansas foursome of Cliff Abel, Herb Semper, Pat Bowers and Bobby Karnes was only 4.8 seconds off the American standard of 17:16.1 set by Indiana in 1937, in winning at the recent Texas relays.

On home cinders Kansas likely will get the record job done.

Both Michigan and Texas Aggies have great anchor distance men. Don Ewen, Michigan's sophomore record maker, and J. D. Hampton, of Texas Aggies, each carry the last leg for teams capable of either running Kansas into a record or setting one themselves.

Medley Class

Oklahoma A. and M. appears best of the university sprint medley class, while Rice is the favorite in the mile relay. The Rice team set a Texas relays mark of 3 minutes, 14.5 seconds, with Tom Cox running a 46.5 second anchor leg.

The Kansas relays mile relay record is 3:15.6, well over Rice's winning time at Texas. Texas A and M. set it in 1948. The sprint medley mark of 3:25.2 was made by Indiana's Roy Cochrane, Paul Riley, Bob Burnett and Campbell Kane in 1941.

Five events of the decathlon will be held in conjunction with the annual prep relays tomorrow.

The big meet proper will get under way with the remaining five decathlon events and preliminaries at 9 a.m. (CST) Saturday.

Twenty-seven events, counting the decathlon as one, are scheduled.

6-Week Bowling Meet For Women to Open

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 20—(AP)—Two women bowlers, each with a claim to fame on past performance, loomed today as favorites to win the sweepstakes rolloff, scheduled as a preliminary to the official opening of the Women's International Bowling Congress.

The sweepstakes rolloff takes place tonight, with winners of 24 district titles—12 in the major and 12 in the minor divisions—competing. An hour later, the first shift of booster teams will take to the alleys to open the tourney officially.

Pat Stiebeck of Indianapolis, who boasts an average of 205 to give her the top individual average for women, was one of the pre-meet favorites for the rolloff. It appeared that she would run into some stiff opposition from Val Mikiel of Detroit who was voted the "woman bowler of the year" both in 1948 and 1949.

The tournament will run for approximately six weeks.

Roundup of Major League Games Played

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sid Gordon and his former-Giant buddies are making life tough for their old boss, Leo Durocher. So far, the New York Giants manager looks like a bum David Harum.

Leo traded Gordon, Willard Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb to Boston last December for Al Dark and Eddie Stanky. Durocher said he was building "my kind of a ball club." He was willing to sacrifice home run power for a double play combination.

On the evidence at hand, it looks as if a good offense still is the best defense. With Gordon, Marshall and Kerr roughing the Giant pitchers, Boston has swept to a pair of double figure victories.

Proved Embarrassing

Gordon, a Polo grounds hero for years, proved especially embarrassing. Sidney made Leo's face red yesterday with a pair of homers, one with the bases loaded. All told, the Gordon-Marshall-Kerr trio blasted home eight runs in the Braves' 10-6 romp.

To make matters worse, the Giants defense was conspicuous by its absence. Stanky was the middle man on an attempted double play that got nobody out. It was critical, too. If they'd made the double, Boston would have been retired scoreless in the sixth inning. Instead they posted nine big runs.

Billy Southworth, Boston manager, must have been cheered by the route-going job of Johnny Sain, a major disappointment of 1949. Sain's sweeping curve was breaking neatly through the early innings. Although nicked for 12 hits, he never was in real danger.

While the Braves were polishing off their New York rivals for the second straight, the Red Sox were having more trouble with the New York Yankees at Boston.

Williams' Homer

Joe Dobson pitched Boston's Red Sox to a 6-3 morning victory in the patriots' day doubleheader as Ted Williams hit his first homer of the year. But the Yanks unloaded another big inning—seven runs in the eighth—to cop the afternoon tilt, 16-7, called after the eighth because of darkness.

Tommy Henrich, the Yanks' old reliable, had himself a time in the second game, driving in six runs with a three-run homer, two singles and a pair of walks. Joe DiMaggio knocked home three with three hits in five trips as Ellis Kinder, winner of 23 games for the Sox last season, was knocked out in the sixth inning.

Brooks Beat Phils

Gil Hodges boosted Brooklyn into the win column with a homer, two doubles and a single in a 7-5 decision over the Phillies. Carl Furillo's two-run homer and rookie Bobby Morgan's three singles were other big guns in the Dodgers' 14-hit attack on Russ Meyer and two successors.

Disappointed by Don Newcombe in Tuesday's opener, Manager Burt Shotton trusted the second day pitching job to rookie Clarence Podbielan, a Montreal grad. It worked. The righthander from Sherwood, Ore., turned in a steady job after surviving a shaky first inning.

Cards Stumbled

The Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Cardinals, 4-3, in a night game at St. Louis. Two errors by third baseman Eddie Kazak in the fifth inning paved the way for two Pirate runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics downed the Washington Senators, 6-1, in the first American League night game of the season before 10,153 fans in Washington. Hank Wyse, former Chicago Cub, and rookie Bob Hooper allowed Washington eight hits.

Those revived St. Louis Browns copped their second straight from the Chicago White Sox, 6-1, with three homers and five-hit pitching from Dick Starr. It was Chicago's tenth straight loss—eight of them in exhibitions.

Detroit and Cleveland were washed out of a scheduled game Chicago and Cincinnati of the National League were not scheduled.

Graham-Henning Both Are Losers

Lee Henning, Buffalo, N. Y. and Roy "Cowboy" Graham, Dallas, Texas, both were "tripped up" in their matches and both lost final falls much to the pleasure of a small but noisy crowd at the weekly Pettis County Post No. 16 American Legion wrestling matches.

Henning in the main event against Sonny Meyers of St. Joseph, had won the first fall of the match with a body slam and smother after he had beat Meyers over the heart several times with his fist. It took 12 minutes and 22 seconds for the fall. Meyers in the second fall after taking another beating succeeded in bouncing off of the ropes to hit Henning, and then with a flying drop kick caught the New Yorker under the chin with his feet, a body smother won the fall in six minutes and 26 seconds.

In the third period Henning was roughing Meyers up and practically had him out when he also roughed up Jack Hader, referee, who in turn awarded the match to the St. Joseph boy for unnecessary roughness. Time three minutes and 17 seconds.

Graham and Mayes McLain, Lawrence, Kansas, divided the first two falls. McLain in the opener bouncing off the ropes to knock Graham around the ring and a smother won in 19 minutes and 44 seconds. Graham after working McLain over by beating him in the stomach got a smother and won in 10 minutes and 57 seconds for the second fall.

The third fall time had run out just as McLain ran Graham out of the ring, and he refused to return and Hader awarded the match to McLain.

The opener was won by Walter Sirois, Montreal, Canada from Ellis Bashara, Houston Texas, after the two men had gone 16 minutes and 35 seconds. A series of body slams and a body smother won for Sirois.

On May 3, the next wrestling date, there will be two matches between wrestling girls, with a main event to be announced later. The matches next week have been cancelled due to the American Legion carnival which will be here at that time.

End of Another Cage 'World Series'

By Joe Ives

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—A fabulously successful basketball tour ended last night when the Harlem Globetrotters defeated the College All-Stars 77-64 in the finals at Uline Arena. But Promoter Abe Saperstein says he'll be back next year and the years after as long as the fans want what he calls "the world series."

The 18-day series started on April 2 at Chicago, went to the west coast and thence to New England and wound up here.

The series, which saw the Trotters defeat the All-Stars 11 games to seven, set basketball attendance records in Cleveland, Indianapolis, San Francisco, Denver, Cincinnati, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Oklahoma City, Boston, Philadelphia and Buffalo.

Saperstein says that the games were such a success in some places that newspapers which sponsored the games want five year contracts to assure the Trotters-All Star game through 1956.

The 18-game total attendance was 181,364 and the total revenue was estimated between $350,000 and $375,000.

The Globetrotters are scheduled to leave May 2 on a tour of England and the continent.

Browns Top American Standings

Cards Dropped a Notch by Losing To Pirates 4-3

By the Associated Press

Two games don't make a season or prove a psychologist's value, but the St. Louis Browns were on top in the American League today, at least temporarily.

In trouncing the White Sox 6-1 at Chicago, the young team looked nothing like the Browns of 1949.

Dick Starr held the Sox to five hits. The Browns pounded Chicago pitchers for 11, including home runs by Dick Kokos, Sherman Lollar and Don Lenhardt. Only Brownie failing to get a hit was star outfielder Roy Sievers.

Could this be the same crew that was beaten seven straight times by the White Sox last year?

Small Attendance

The game was a semi-private affair, only 1,715 paying their way into Comiskey park.

In St. Louis, the Cardinals dropped a 4-3 decision to Pittsburgh in a contest that painfully emphasized the Redbirds' third base problem. The game drew 5,648 spectators.

Third baseman Eddie Kazak fumbled the ball for three errors.

Big Red Munger pitched effectively, giving up only four hits in seven innings, but was the loser. The Cards held a 2-1 lead when a walk and two costly errors by Kazak put the Pirates ahead in the fifth.

Ken Johnson, who relieved Munger, walked a man with the bases loaded after a miscue by second baseman Red Schoendienst in the ninth. That forced across what proved to be the winning run.

K. C. Blues Lead League Race

By the Associated Press

The Kansas City Blues combined fancy relief hurling and powerhouse batting yesterday to defeat last season's pennant-winning St. Paul, 10-7, and step out in front of the American Association race.

The Blues made it two in a row over the Saints at Kansas City in the only Association game of the day.

Indianapolis at Columbus and Louisville at Toledo were rained out and Minneapolis' invasion of Milwaukee was postponed because of cold. Kansas City thus takes a one-half game lead over Louisville, Minneapolis and Indianapolis, all of which have a 1-0 record.

Major League Clubs Still Buying, Trading

NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—Four players get a chance in newest roster changes by major league clubs.

The New York Giants yesterday bought veteran outfielder Roy Weatherly from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Weatherly, 34, who formerly played with the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians, will be used for left-handed pinch-hitting.

The Boston Braves at the same time bought the contract of Ernie Johnson, 25-year-old righthanded pitcher, who won 15 and lost 5 for Denver in the Western League last year.

The Braves released righthander Sam Webb outright to Milwaukee of the American Association. And the Chicago White Sox released outfielder Gerald Scala to Buffalo of the International League on option.

Sports News In Missouri

MARSHALL, Mo., April 20—(AP)—Missouri Valley edged Springfield, Mo., State 68 ½ to 67 ½ in a dual track meet yesterday.

The one-point margin came in the final event, the javelin throw. Jim Bayless of Springfield took first in the javelin but Valley picked up second and third places and that was enough.

Larry Fields of Missouri Valley made 19 ¼ points. Bayless led Springfield with 13.

BOONVILLE, Mo., April 20—(AP)—Central College of Fayette defeated Kemper military school 11 ½ to 6 ½ in golf yesterday. Kemper won in tennis, 7 to 2.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20—(AP)—H. (Bud) Millikan was appointed basketball coach at Springfield State college yesterday.

A former player at Oklahoma A. and M., Millikan will receive $5,000 a year. It was reported here that he turned down a higher salary offered by the University of Maryland so he could stay in the Midwest.

Millikan now is coach at Newton, Ia., high school. He formerly coached at Corning, Ia., Maryville, Mo., and was freshman coach at Oklahoma A. and M.

He succeeds A. J. (Andy) McDonald, who was named physical education director.

Revoke License Of Dr. Sander

Medical Board Fails to Find He 'Did no Wrong'

CONCORD, N. H., April 20—(AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander's right to practice medicine in New Hampshire was revoked Wednesday night by the state board of registration in medicine.

The board, in biting language, asserted the 41-year-old physician—acquitted March 9 of murder in the death of Mrs Abbie Borroto, 59, an incurably ill cancer patient—was guilty of "morally reprehensible action in deliberately injecting air into his patient."

The state had charged Dr. Sander killed Mrs. Borroto by four injections of air into her veins shortly before she died last Dec. 4.

The board's verdict was leavened, however, by a line hinting that the doctor might apply for reinstatement in two months. The board statement put it this way: "No application for reinstatement by Dr. Sanders would be entertained prior to June 19, 1950."

State Rep. George A. Myhaver (R-Peterborough) said he would ask the New Hampshire legislature to investigate the revokation of Dr. Sander's license.

He said he wanted "to bring out why the state medical board revoked Dr. Sander's license when he had already been acquitted by a court."

Dr. John S. Wheeler, secretary of the five-doctor board, called newsmen to his office in the state house and handed out copies of a statement which said:

"Dr. Sander contends that he has done no wrong by injecting air since he is certain that he did not kill his patient.

"This board does not concern itself with the question of whether Dr. Sander's patient was alive or dead, but we cannot agree that he has done no wrong."

The five-man board said its decision was unanimous.

LaMonte Club At Craig Home

The LaMonte Friendship club met at the home of Mrs. P. S. Craig Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Lindamin as assisting hostess.

The president, Mrs. Raymond DeFrain, presided over the meeting, which opened with singing the club song and repeating the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Lindamin gave the inspirational.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Music and Fine Arts department with Mrs. Hugo Kappelman as speaker who took for her subject: "Art." Mrs. Kappleman, who is a teacher of art gave an educational talk on the subject and exhibited some of her work.

The next meeting will be May 11, at the home of Mrs. DeFrain.

To Give Eggs To Nursery

The April meeting of the Flat Creek 4-H club was held at Anderson school.

Roll call was answered by "Something Beautiful I Saw Today."

It was voted to give 10c per member to the 4-H council and plans were made to give eggs t the Melita Day Nursery.

Plans for a party for the younger children of the neighborhood were completed and a committee was appointed to plan the program for Rural Life Sunday which will be held May 14, at Bethlehem Baptist church.

Demonstrations were given by four members of the home service project. Pasty Young and Mary Jeanette Edmundson gave a demonstration on "Dishwashing" and Mary Ann Lewis and Zora Snow gave one on making a head scarf. Marvin Edmundson gave a demonstration on Safety.

Games were enjoyed during the social hour and refreshments were served by Miss Anna Alt and Mrs. Milton Bopp, members of the Flat Creek Extension club.

High-pressure water fog fire-fighting systems are effective in killing "spill fires" of gasoline on a concrete test slab. High-pressure equipment was found to be four times as effective as low-pressure units.

WHEREAS, the whole of the above described real estate was purchased and acquired by the said City of Sedalia Missouri, as and for, and to be used as a municipal airport for the City of Sedalia, Mo., and

WHEREAS, said City of Sedalia, Missouri has been unable to obtain approval of said lands for use of the purpose acquired, for the construction and maintenance of a municipal airport, of and from the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Federal Government and the Missouri Division of Resources and Development of the State of Missouri, and

WHEREAS, failure to so obtain approval from the aforesaid governmental agencies of Federal and State Governments prevents the said City of Sedalia, Missouri from obtaining Federal and State aid and money and funds otherwise available, from said governing agencies for the establishment, construction and maintenance of a municipal airport by said City, and

WHEREAS, the said City of Sedalia has now obtained the approval of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Federal Government and approval of the Missouri Division of Resources and Development of the State of Missouri for another available and different site and location, and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Sedalia has by due and proper Resolution No. 71 passed by the Council on the 6th day of March, 1950, and approved by the Mayor on the 7th day of March, 1950, determined and declared it to be advisable for the said City of Sedalia to sell the above hereinbefore described real estate for the best and highest bid therefore for cash for the specific purpose of and to reinvest the sale price of said real estate in the purchase, obtaining, constructing and maintaining on the new site and location of lands now standing approved by said governmental agencies as and for a municipal airport;

NOW, THEREFORE, in accord with the terms and provisions of said Resolution passed by the the Council and approved by the Mayor as aforesaid, and is in said Resolution directed, I, the undersigned, Chairman of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, do here and now give public notice that sealed, written bids are invited and will be received for the sale of the tracts of real estate hereinbefore described up and until five o'clock P. M. on the 1st day of May, 1950. All such bids to be filed in the office of the City Clerk of said City, at the City Hall Building, Sedalia, Missouri.

All such bids shall be accompanied with a Certified or Cashier's check payable to the City of Sedalia for an amount equal to ten per cent of the total of such bid or bids, and bidders shall be accorded the right to bid upon any one or more of the hereinbefore described tracts separately or as a whole, it being affirmatively expressed that the City of Sedalia shall have the right to accept or reject any or all such bids.

Notice is further given that all bids will be opened and considered at the regular Council meeting of the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri to be held at the Council Chamber in the City Hall Building at 7:30 P M. on

Monday Night the 1st day of May, 1950

In the event that any bid or bids are accepted conveyance will be made by Warranty Deed in due form and Abstracts of Title will be furnished showing good and merchantable title in the City of Sedalia, a Municipal Corporation, free and clear of encumbrances and liens.

Witness my hand this 31st day of March, 1950, all in accord with Resolution No. 71 passed by the Council on the 6th day of March, 1950, and approved by the Mayor on the 7th day of March, 1950.

Decorations To Lost Airmen

Senate In Fury Over Attack On Unarmed Plane

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (AP) —The Senate in a mood of cold fury unanimously voted praise and decorations Wednesday for ten U. S. airmen lost in what this country calls a Russian attack on an unarmed plane over the Baltic.

The vote of 66 to 0 was preceded by denunciations of the Russian action as "criminal" and "barbarous" and by demands for steps to see that nothing of the sort happens again.

It followed by about an hour a contemptuous state department dismissal of a Russian charge that the American plane was on a mission of deliberate provocation.

Michael McDermott, department press officer, told a news conference he had read the story, which appeared in the controlled Moscow magazine New Times, but had "pretty much forgotten what lies they told." He described the magazine itself as "beyond contempt."

Only yesterday the state department fired back a harshly worded counter-protest in response to Moscow's charge that the plane violated Soviet territory and attacked interceptors.

Meanwhile unofficial backing for the U. S. view that the plane was downed over the open sea came from American air force officers in Germany.

Flight Routine One

The ship believed to be involved was a Navy Privateer which took off from Wiesbaden April 8 on what U. S. officials report as a routine training flight to Copenhagen. It was not heard from after it crossed the German coast. The U. S. version is that it carried no weapons with which it could make such an attack as the Russians reported.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), the Democratic leader, set off the Senate reaction today with a call for condemnation of "a ruthless action by barbarous forces."

Offering the resolution to decorate the American fliers posthumously, Lucas said the "criminal action" was a challenge to nations of the free world. On that ground he called for the bi- partisan support which he got.

Republican leader Wherry (Neb) called the surprise resolution "a fine thing" but said there has been "a lack of bi-partisan foreign policy that's gotten us into difficulties."

Senator Mundt (R-SD) suggested a formal protest through the United Nations. He said this country should "do more than pass resolutions."

Among the members of the crew of the missing plane was Lt. John Henry Fette, Ensign Tommy Lee Burgess, Osawatomie, Kas.

U. S. Officers Examine Life Raft Found in Baltic

Capt. D'Jack Klingler (left) an d Capt. John G. James examine the raft found in the Baltic sea east of Stockholm by a British freighter after the raft arrived at Copenhagen, Denmark, by air from Helsinki. Capt. Klingler, who directed search operations for the U. S. Navy patrol plane that disappeared last April 8 with 10 men aboard, said it was a "fair guess" that the raft came from the missing plane. Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Syracuse Girl Visits Capital

Miss Rhoda Sue Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schroder, of Syracuse, who attends Tipton high school ,was chosen the outstanding sophomore citizen of the Tipton high school.

Each year the Tipton Federation of Women's Club presents one sophomore with the honor. The school faculty selects five of the class to be voted on by the entire school, they are judged by scholarship, dependability, friendliness and loyalty.

Miss Schroder received the largest number of votes which entitled her to a trip to Jefferson City. The purpose of the trip is to acquaint the young people with the government of the state.

Miss Schroder was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Roscoe Gibson, a member of the Federation of Women's Club of Tipton. In her report of the trip she said on entering the capitol she, with about 500 other students from over the state registered. Guides then took them for a tour of the capitol. They were then served dinner at Selinger Center, where speakers were young women from Sweden, Norway and Paris, France, who had won scholarships to the United States. They talked on the government of their countries and compared it with the government of the United States. A talk by the litutenant governor followed.

After seeing the replica of the statue of liberty placed on the capitol ground by the Boy Scouts they attended a tea at the executive mansion.

FASHION COMES OF AGE

Mother's Day fashions designed to flatter mature figures offer cool comfort for the warm weather months to come. Black and white printed chiffon dress (left) has a full skirt posed over a white built-in slip. Double layers of white organdy form the triple-tiered collar. Gray printed voile (center) swings a circular skirt and has full sleeves caught in a tight cuff at the elbow. Organdy facing is used to give crispness to the double petal-shaped collar. Softly tailored pin-checked gingham (right) has a skirt, darted at the sides and back for an easy fit. Notched white pique collar sharpens the neckline of the jacket which is fastened with pearl buttons.

How to Save Laundry Work

The Neighborly Neighbors extension club met on April 13 at the home of Mrs. T. J. Raines, with all members present, and Miss Lillian Watkins as guest. Mrs. Tom Conaway, the president, opened the meeting by leading in repeating the Club collect. Devotional was the 16th chapter of Mark, read by Mrs. Myron Harper. Roll call was answered by each member telling, "Something About Easter." It was voted to contribute to the Cancer drive.

Miss Watkins gave a talk about saving energy and labor in the laundry, and showed various types of irons available.

Mrs. Harper conducted the game, "Riddle Me This." Hostess gifts were opened, and refreshments served.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Tom Conaway.

Holstein Show At Fair Grounds

Holstein Breeders from the Central District will hold their junior and senior show Monday, April 24th at the Missouri State Fairgrounds.

Judging of the junior show will start at 12 o'clock and all boys and girls under 21 years of age in Pettis and adjoining counties who own Holstein calves, yearlings or cows are invited to exhibit them. The association will pay a small amount for transportation expenses, regardless of placing.

The senior show will immediately follow the juniors and one of the strongest quality district shows ever held in the Mid-west is promised those who attend. No advance entries required as animals are entered after arriving, but a large show is assured. The Central district includes some eighteen counties, and a group of top cattle will be selected to exhibit at the American Royal Dairy Show in May from this show.

Alva C. Clark of Independence, Missouri, will judge the show, and all persons interested in Holsteins or the dairy industry are invited to attend. Many Pettis county owners are expected to be exhibitors at the show, and three local men have been appointed as the committee in charge. They are E. M. Mosby, Sedalia; John F. Bluhm, Jr., Smithton, and Jerry Houlton, chairman, Hughesville, Mo.

Asks Drastic Action To Stop Malaya Reds

IPOH, Malaya —(AP)— More troops, police, a commander-in-cheif and even martial law may be needed before Malaya can hope to end Communist terrorism, said a well known British planter. He called for "drastic action."

"There is no doubt that we stand in the path of the Communist onslaught. We must either stem that onslaught or perish in the attempt," declared J. S. Ferguson, president of the Central Perak Planting Association.

ROYAL SNACK BAR—To aid her family's fading fortunes, Lady Lees (pouring), wife of Sir John Lees, third baronet, of Poole, England, has opened this snack bar outside the lodge gates at her South Lytchett Manor home. The customer is Lady Lees' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Faith Lees. Financial stress also forced the family to move into a cottage on the grounds and rent the manor house as a school.

Clifton City Club Meeting

The Clifton City Extension Club met in an all day session, April 5, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Potter with 12 members and four visitors present. The visitors, formal members of the club, were Mrs. Minnie Bedstrup and Mr. Andy Yeager of Sedalia, Mrs. G. V. Streit of Smithton and Mrs. R. E. Brewer.

A contributive dinner was served at the noon hour. In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. J. Potter, with the group singing "Home Sweet Home" and the club song, and "A Song of Peace."

Roll call was answered by each member giving their own definition of home. Two project leaders, Mrs. William Todd and Mrs. J. H. Potter gave talks on color scheme for decorating homes. Mss. Todd also told of the work of the 4-H Club.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Grose.

Farm Tractor Club Has an Election

The Prairie Ridge Farm Tractor Maintenance boys met Wednesday, April 12, at the home of their leader, Wilburn L. Hayes, with nine members present.

The first lesson on farm safety was taken and the questions on this lesson were answered by the various members.

Keven Vickrey was elected reporter and secretary. Clinton Reid, J. D. Gregory and Wilburn Hayes, Jr., were appointed as a committee to decide the place and time of future meetings. The next meeting will be held at the Forrest Reid home on April 27.

After a profitable and pleasant evening refreshments were served by two club member, Betty Jo Reid and Mary Kathryn Hayes.

John Nance Garner is believed to have been the first vice president to leave the United States while the president was away from office. This occurred in 1936 when Cordell Hull acted as president until Franklin Roosevelt returned.

'All Glory, Laud and Honor' Chosen Hymn of the Month

The National Federation of Music Clubs announces "All Glory, Laud and Honor" as the Hymn of the Month for April.

A prominent clergyman in prison, with a spirit that refused to be confined; a group of choir boys in the prison yard learning a new song; a pious king in a Palm Sunday procession to the Cathedral; a sudden burst of surprising song from the prison as the procession passes; a highly pleased king; a clergyman free for his church duties once more—these are some of the "highlights" with which tradition and legend have illumined this medieval hymn, "All Glory, Laud and Honor."

Naturally, eleven centuries of use would gather a halo of legend around a hymn, but the legends and traditions give vividness and life to the hymn.

Native of Italy

Theodulph of Orleans (760-821), a native of Itally, Abbot of a Florentine monastery, was brought to France by Charlemagne and made Bishop of Orleans. After the death of the Illustrious Empire builder, Theodulph, was suspected of disloyalty to Louis the Pious and of favoring the cause of Barnard of Italy. He was thrust into prison at Angiers. It was probably during this imprisonment that that he wrote this hymn "Gloria, Laus et Honor." The hymn has seventy-eight lines, twenty-four of which are ordinarily used.

The use of this hymn as a Palm Sunday processional dramatizes the story of its imprisoned author. At Hereford, Tours and Rouen, it was sung at the gate of the city. The gates were closed and the choir boys mounted to the wall above the gate and there sang the hymn, suggesting both the imprisoned condition of the author and also the approach of Christ in his Triumphal Procession to the gates of Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday.

English Owe Gratitude

The English translation was made by Dr. John Mason Neale, to whom the English speaking world owes so great a debt of gratitude for his research among Greek and Latin manuscripts of the early centuries.

While distinctly an "occasional hymn" written for a special day and used on Palm Sunday, this hymn is deserving of a wider use than a mere once-a-year singing. For Children's Day and for many Sundays as a Children's Processional it is timely and picturesque.

BLOSSOM QUEEN—Ann Carleton Hadley, above, daughter of Mrs. Alben Barkley, wife of the vice president, will reign as queen of the 1950 Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Va. She is a student at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans.

SCIENTISTS GET BOSSIE'S INSIDE STORY—Dairy husbandry experts at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, have installed plastic "windows" in the sides of five cows to study stages of a cow's digestion. Each window has a threaded cap which is easily removed for taking samples of Bossie's food in various stages of digestion. A delicate operation is required for inserting windows.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 to 1 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

Housewives will be interested to know Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown faster in the past few years than the combined average of all other brands. This is due to the fact that Creamo is the only margarine made with cream.

In taste tests between Creamo and the most expensive type breadspreads, participating school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1.

Users say Creamo's creamy-rich flavor is so distinctively delicious, the first taste is noticeably more flavorful than ordinary spreads. Not only does Creamo taste better—it's more economical, too. The extra flavor goes so much farther than ordinary spreads.

He Built a Better Dill Pickle; World Beats Path to His Farm

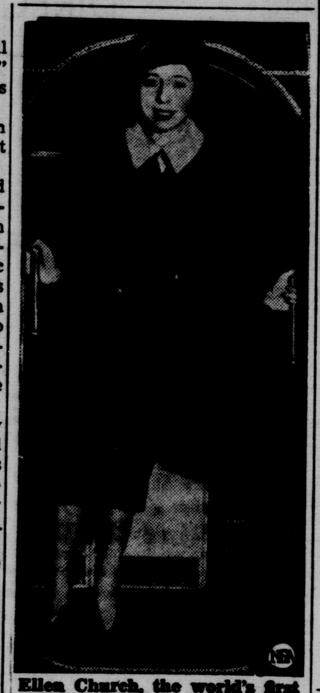
NEA Staff Correspondent
By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON— (NEA) —"All I can say about our business," Ernest S. Koke will tell you, "is that it stinks."

And that comes from the man who has made the dill pickle what it is today.

Koke's business is odors and tastes, and it may "stink" nosewise, but you can bet your bottom nostril that it doesn't stink profitwise. Chances are, any cosmetic item a lady buys today gets its odor from Koke's fabulous farm near Twin Falls, Idaho. It's also probable that many of the delicious flavors you've tasted recently in various prepared foods came from the same place.

Koke's accomplishments show what happens when a high-priced chemical engineer decides there's more money in farming. The result is probably the first 100 per cent "chemurgic" farm in the U. S.



Ellen Church, the world's first airline stewardess, wears a replica of an early uniform designed for the "sky girls."

Chemurgy generally means the use of chemistry to find new uses for farm products. Koke revealed the scope and nature of his farm for the first time at the 15th Annual Conference of the National Farm Chemurgic Council in Washington.

Production of oil of dill weed was his first big accomplishment in chemurgy. Back in 1931, while a organic chemist in a steel plant, he somehow became interested in the way the big pickle companies were flavoring their dills. He was surprised to find that they still did it by putting springs of the dill plant in the brine.

This resulted in a pickle that varied greatly in taste, depending on how dry, old or healthy the dill weed happened to be. The dill flavor also differed according to the soil the dill grew in. It was affected still further by a half dozen other factors of growth.

Koke grew dill weed under perfectly controlled conditions, extracted the pure dill oil from the plant and used that to provide a consistent flavor for the pickles. Now all the big companies use this method of flavoring their dills, and only throw in a sprig of actual dill weed for looks.

With this success under his belt, Koke decided to develop all his time to chemurgic farming. He greatly extended his father's acreage in Idaho, where he made his first dill experiments, and began widening his horizon.

Today Koke is one of the biggest producers of natural essential oils and aromatic chemicals in the country. A weedy plant called coriander, which he grows in great quantities, is the source of the oil that goes into many expensive perfumes and cosmetics.

He also raises plants which produce the anise and horehound flavor of candy, as well as caraway, parsley, sage, savory and garlic, and a product called wormwood which goes into liniment.

In the course of producing those duces, he has turned up some highly valuable aids to general farming. For instance, he has developed a special spray mixture which kills weeds yet spares fern-type plants, such as dill and carrots. This method of weeding carrots is used all over the country.

It is Koke's contention that, through hundreds of small chemurgic projects around the country, the farm surplus problem could be licked. Chemurgy, he says, could find a new use for the surplus food and put thousands of acres of land into producing industrial products instead of food.

Argentina Buys From Japan

TOYKO—(AP)— General MacArthur's command said the Argentine government has made available to importers in that country $19,000,000 in foreign exchange for Japanese goods. Of the amount, an occupation trade official said importers already have "picked up" $11,800,000. He said headquarters hopes the balance will be requested shortly for purchase of more Japanese goods.

Under trade agreements signed last year, Argentinans obtained import licenses for $3,000,000 worth of steel billets. The other $8,800,000 bought bar iron, pipe, wire, chemicals, paper and cardboard, cotton thread, iron, steel and other goods.

Japan in turn purchased $12,000,000 in Argentina, products mostly wheat, barley and linseed. Frank Pickelle, cheif of MacArthur's foreign trade department, said there reportedly "are plenty of contracts already negotiated" between Japanese and Argentinians awaiting issuance of import licenses.

Centenarian Receives Letters From Truman, Other Notables

Mrs. Belle Bobbit of northwest of LaMonte, who was one hundred years old Sunday had her party. A great big party. Eighty-five guests went to the large farm home where Mrs. Bobbit lives with her daughter, Mrs. Cora Bragunier, to help Mrs. Bobbit celebrate the end of a century of life.

On Friday Mrs. Bobbitt received 35 cards and letters to add to her already large stack and Saturday they continued to arrive.

The letter from the President of the United States, which the little old lady was so proud of that she put it away where she couldn't find it, finally was found and it reads:

"Dear Mrs. Bobbitt:

"I am told that you will observe your one hundredth birthday on April sixteenth and it gives me the greatest pleasure to send you this note of felicitations in honor of this occasion. These past years of your long and useful life surely hold many cherished memories and I know that your have endeared yourself to a host of friends along the way. With them I unite in extending hearty good wishes for your health and contentment.

"Very sincerely yours,

(Signed): "Harry S. Truman."

Letter From Governor

From Governor Forrest Smith came also a greeting which follows:

"Dear Mrs. Bobbitt:

"I have just learned you will celebrate your one hundredth birthday Sunday, April 16. As governor of our great state I would like to add my hearty congratulations to those you receive from your many friends.

"It is my sincere hope that the years ahead will bring you continued happiness, good health and many more happy birthdays.

"Sincerely yours

(Signed): "Forrest Smith."

From Virginia

From the state where she was born, Virginia, Mrs. Bobbitt received the following letter from Representative Harry F. Byrd:

"I want to join with others in tendering to you felicitations on the celebration of your 100th birthday and to wish for you the utmost happiness and content in the years to come.

"I have many friends among the Wade and Bobbitt families in Virginia and I treasure them greatly

"As a representative of your native state, I send to you my warmest congratulations on this memorable occasion.

(Signed): "Harry F. Byrd."

Mail Cut Bulletin Arrives

Instructions for Readjustment Given; Several Changes to be Made

The postal bulletin, containing the instructions for the readjustment of post-offices, as a result of cuts in mail service ordered by Postmaster General Donaldson, was received this morning by assistant postmaster of Sedalia, Guy L. Johnston.

The re-organization of the Sedalia postoffice is expected to be made on or before May 20, and the first noticeable change will be effective this Saturday, when only one business delivery will be made, instead of the normal two deliveries. Window service on Saturday will be between the hours of 8:00 and 12:00 a.m. In the past, the window on Saturday was opened for business at 7:00 a.m.

A change, which will go into effect supposedly May 20, is the readjustment of city delivery routes in residential areas, so as to provide one delivery each week-day, Monday through Saturday, Johnston said.

Another Change

Another change brought about by the new law, is that the general delivery window will not be opened until 8:00 o'clock in the morning. Before the window has always been opened at 7:00 a.m.

The assistant postmaster said bulk mailing of second, third and fourth class matter, other than daily and weekly newspapers, will be accepted for mailing only between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. He said bulk mailings were always accepted at the post-office in the past, at any time employes were on duty during the night.

Johnston said there will be no directory service under the new regulations. Now, he said, anything that comes in not properly addressed, will be returned to the sender if it's first class matter. If it should be third class mail not properly addressed, without a return address on it, it could be destroyed, unless return postage is guaranteed.

Reduction Necessary

The so-called time-limit on third class matter will be discontinued, Johnston related. In order to secure immediate service of circulars mailed by business men, it will be necessary to prepay the mail at the first-class postage rate, Johnston said. (This regulation applies mostly to business concerns sending circulars to customers, announcing dates of a sale, etc.)

When asked about the local postal employment situation, Mr. Johnston said undoubtedly there will have to be a reduction made. He said temporary employes would be the first to leave the department, if and when a reduction had to be met.

He said the general attitude of the Sedalia employes concerning the postal department order, was they felt it something temporary, and thought things would be ironed out.

Burning Cross on Fraternity House Lawn

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20—(AP)—A gasoline soaked cross was found burning this morning on the lawn of the Sigma Pi fraternity house, a block from the Southwest State college campus.

The burning cross, only 15 feet from the house where 11 men were asleep, was quickly extinguished after the flames had leaped higher than the two-story house.

Hugh Williams, Mansfield, Mo., president of the fraternity, said he believed the placing of the cross was in connection with the action of college officials in barring a Negro entertainer for a fraternity dance on the campus last week.

Dr. Roy Ellis, president of the college, said he thought it was a prank "a regrettable prank and a dangerous one."

Wheat Crop Bad

HAYS, Kas., April 20—(AP)—A W Erickson, Minneapolis crop reporter touring the wheat belt, said today the 1950 crop is "fast developing into the worst wheat fadeout since 1935."

Erickson said he has completed the survey of 20 million acres of wheat land out of the 33,000,000 acres planted last year in the seven plains wheat states. Out of the 20 million acres, in Kansas Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico, he considers 13,000,000 acres a total loss.

Flood Derails Train

This four-car Northern Pacific train was derailed by flood waters near Forest River, N. D., about 15 miles west of the Red River. Rapid melting of snow has converted fields into lakes. Once the water bursts over such barriers as roads and fence lines, it rolls irresistibly down the gently sloping terrain to the mighty Red River of the north. (AP Wirephoto)

Campaign To Overcome Soviet Lies

Truman Wants to Convince World U. S. Doesn't Want War

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman disclosed plans today for a "great campaign of truth" to convince the world the United States has "no purpose of going to war except in defense of freedom."

He told the American Society of Newspaper Editors he has directed Secretary of State Acheson to develop a strengthened national information program to overcome Soviet Russian "deceit, distortion and lies."

He invited the continued cooperation of American newspapers in spreading the fact that this country is "wholly dedicated to the cause of peace." Mr. Truman declared:

Must Be Known As We Are

"We must make ourselves known as we really are—not as Communist propaganda pictures us. We must pool our efforts with those of the other free peoples in a sustained, intensified program to promote the cause of freedom against the propaganda of slavery.

"We must make ourselves heard round the world in a great campaign of truth."

The President's address, prepared for delivery at a luncheon in the Hotel Statler, stressed the vital role newspapers can play in this phase of the cold war.

"There is too much nonsense about striped trousers in foreign affairs," he said.

"Far more influence is exerted by the baggy pants of the managing-editor."

Talked to Editors

Mr. Truman chose this gathering of the nation's editors to outline a program for strengthening the government's own informational program abroad.

He said most of the editors are meeting well their responsibility as a link "between the American people and world affairs" by informing them "well and completely."

But, he added, "I am sorry to say a few are meeting it badly." He did not name any names, but went on to say:

"Foreign policy is not a matter for partisan presentation. The facts about Europe or Asia should not be twisted to conform to one side or the other of a political dispute. Twisting the facts might change the course of an election at home, but it would certainly damage our country's program abroad."

Testimony in Maragon Trial

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—Government witnesses testified at John Maragon's perjury trial today that the former White House intimate was paid $1,268 for representing a molasses company in difficulties with the agriculture department.

The defense countered immediately with suggestions that $500 of the total was a coverup contribution from a strong Milwaukee Republican to the Democratic party in Missouri. It tried to plant the impression that another $100 was to make up to Maragon the loss of a gold coin.

Maragon is on trial in federal court on charges of lying to senate investigators last year about his business and financil affairs, including his relationship with Allied Molasses Co. of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Rabbi Renews Attack Today On Governor

KANSAS CITY, April 20—(AP)—Rabbi Samuel S. Mayerberg renewed his attack today on Governor Forrest Smith's "whitewash" investigation of the police department here.

At the same time he called upon the respectable citizens to demand that they be protected from organized crime.

The fighting churchman, in a talk before the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said responsible citizens must share the blame for gangdom because they tolerated it and in a sense abetted it.

He said they abetted it by playing slot machines, associating with so-called "respectable front men" for gambling clubs and by accepting favors from public officials such as getting traffic tickets fixed.

Appealed Twice

The rabbi twice has appealed to Governor Smith to make a thorough investigation of the police department here as a result of the gang-style slayings of Charles Binaggio, northside political leader, and his henchman, Charles Gargotta.

"I repeat," he said, "what I have said to the governor—that his investigation of the police department is insufficient. I told him it would result in a complete whitewashing and it did."

He added that a grand jury was the only way to thoroughly investigate the police department.

Held to Ascertain If Fracas Was Cause of Death

The inquest into the death of Andrew F. "Andy" Shull, who died early Tuesday morning at the Bothwell hospital from injuries said to have been received in a fracas at the Rock Inn Tavern, north highway 65 near the Bothwell lodge, is being conducted this afternoon. Seventeen witnesses including the widow of the deceased, Mrs. Mable Shull, have been subpoenaed by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, to testify at the hearing.

Dr. Stauffacher is conducting the inquest in the assembly room of the court house with Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown, assisting.

Witnesses Called

The following witnesses were subpoenaed: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ackerman, Anna Templeton, Margaret Raines, Abe Reams, Ed Jeffery, Robert Shull, Ed Young, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mrs. McCowan, Ray Dawson, Jess Dawson, Dr. A. J. Campbell, Dorsey Howard and Merlin Burke, the latter two from the state liquor department and Mrs. Mable Shull, the widow.

Dr. Stauffacher said the purpose of the inquest is to ascertain if Shull had received his injuries in a fracas at the highway tavern last Saturday night, shortly before midnight. It is known that he did figure in a fight which resulted in what the representatives of the liquor control commission said was a "free-for-all." The two men were passing the place about the time the fight was in progress.

Shull died as a result of a fracture of the fifth cervical vertebrae, resulting in paralysis.

Apartment Building Damaged by Blast

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20—(AP)—An apartment building under construction here was badly damaged early today by an explosion. Nobody was injured.

Police later found two burnt fuses and think the blast came from dynamite.

There has been a labor dispute at the building and a picket line.

The explosion, which occurred about 2:40 a. m. jarred the entire neighborhood.

Cold Over Wide Areas of Central Part of Country

By The Associated Press

There was a chill in the air over wide areas of the central part of the country today.

The cool air, which sent temperatures 10 to 15 degrees below seasonal levels, moved eastward and threatened to bring sharp drops from yesterday's high readings in the middle Atlantic costal areas.

The mercury was below freezing over most of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. It also touched under 32 in parts of western Kansas, Northern, Missouri, northern Illinois and northern Indiana and parts of Iowa. Light snow fell around the Great Lakes as far south as Milwaukee and Muskegon, Mich.

Some warming promised today in the Dakotas and Minnesota, with higher readings f. most of the north central region tomorrow.

Flood waters continued to menace large areas of North Dakota, with more than 3,000 persons homeless.

The cool air brought rainy weather from Georgia to Maine along the Atlantic coast.

Fair weather prevailed over the great plains, the Rocky Mountain states and the far west. Temperatures were above normal in the southwest and far west, with a high of 100 at Phoenix, Ariz., and 94 at Bakersfield, Calif., yesterday.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and cool this afternoon with highest in 50s. Cool tonight, low 32-35, with light frost in favored places. Fair, warmer Fri. highest in 60s.

CLOUDY

Temperature 7 a. m. 32 degrees, 2 p. m. 52 degrees.

Evidence Soviets Seek Isolation Heretofore Unknown

By the Associated Press

Big Three western foreign ministers in their forthcoming London conference will face the problem of Russian relations amidst mounting evidence that the Communist world seeks isolation to a degree hitherto unknown.

Washington observers said the talks among the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France will tighten cooperation of the western bloc nations but will be largely influenced by these cold war tensions:

1. The American-Soviet dispute over the loss of an American plane in the Baltic and the fear that Russia aims to close the Baltic and border areas to foreign observation.

Aims to Shut Out West

2. The ousting of western diplomats and news correspondents from Soviet-bloc countries amidst mounting evidence the Kremlin aims at shutting the west out of its territories almost completely.

The early May conference will work out a global plan to meet the threat of Communist expansion. It will attempt to outline a three-power policy for Germany a plan for the political and economic integration of western Europe and will discuss a Japanese peace treaty. It will also consider pressing problems in southeast Asia and the middle-east.

There was a strong feeling of uneasiness in Taipei, Formosa, among Chinese Nationalists today over the fate of Hainan island. On that Nationalist-held island Red invasion troops were locked in battle with the Nationalist defenders for the fourth straight day. The outcome appeared uncertain. Nationalists rushed reinforcements to their embattled forces. Hainan lies 10 miles off the Communist-held mainland.

Two More Plead Guilty

In Prague, the official Czechoslovak news agency said two more of six Czech defendants pleaded guilty to charges they were spies in a ring directed by U. S. embassy officials here. Two others pleaded guilty yesterday.

American diplomats have denied any knowledge of the alleged plot and said the charges were trumped up. The Czech government yesterday asked the United States to close down her information service in Czechoslovakia and ordered the director of the service to leave the country.

In Jakarta, the Indonesian news agency Antara reported a two-week old revolt at Makassar, Celebes, has been ended. Federal Indonesian troops occupied the capital city of East Indonesia without a fight. East Indonesian soldiers who fought under the Dutch rebelled against the taking over of the East Indonesian state by federal authorities.

S.C. Students to Head Councils

Senior Smith-Cotton students voted Gene Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Williams, 1600 South Kentucky avenue, as their choice to be the next senior council president.

The junior students gave the majority vote to Gene Watts, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Watts, 1605 South Carr avenue, to be the next junior council president.

Williams and Watts will take over their duties next year, as will Bob Stanley, son of Mrs. Dorothy Stanley, 706 West Seventh street, who was elected vice president of the senior council and Shirley Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick, 1800 East Twelfth street, who was elected vice president of the junior council.

The outgoing presidents are: Bill Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Franklin, Sedalia, route 2, senior council and Charles Walch, son of Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, junior council.

Ballots were cast Tuesday morning while students were in their home room classes.

Columbia Workman Seriously Injured

ATCHISON, Kas., April 20.—(AP)—B. J. Auffert, 45, Columbia, Mo., was injured seriously today while unloading steel beams for a bridge at Larkinburg, Kas., southwest of here.

A cable broke, allowing the beam to fall. It struck Auffert's head and came to rest across his body.

At a Horton, Kas., hospital Auffert was reported suffering from chest injuries, laceration of the scalp and multiple bruises.

Plan Financial Aid For Any C-U Faculty Member Fired

LOS ANGELES, April 20—(AP)—Faculties at the University of Chicago and Iowa State college plan to give financial aid to any University of California faculty members who are fired for refusal to sign a loyalty oath.

The plan was announced here yesterday by Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago.

Hutchins said other universities are considering the plan and that the fund will be used for a year to help professors get relocated if they are discharged. "Any university would be glad to get men of the caliber of the California faculty," he said at a press conference.

He said professors joining the plan will subscribe two per cent of their annual salary. "From Chicago alone, that will mean a fund of $80,000," he said. Hutchins said he is contributing two per cent and "am going to do all I can in this matter."

"This plan," he said, "reflects the general attitude of the academic world toward the University of California regents' action. It is a matter of universal concern to universities. We regard the oath as a very dangerous precedent."

The University of California board of regents is to meet at the Davis campus tomorrow. This will be the regents' last meeting before April 30, which they have set as the deadline for faculty members to sign the loyalty oath or face dismissal. The order to sign was sustained by a 10-10 tie vote of the regents at a recent meeting on a motion to rescind the requirement.

Died Twice, Now Goes Fishing

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—A 65-year-old man who "died" twice on an operating table in a Brooklyn hospital is planning on going fishing this summer.

The hospital said the man, who was not identified, apparently died twice within four hours in the operating room two months ago.

So far as it knows, the hospital said, it's the first case in history of "recurrent cardiac arrest with recovery"—surviving after the heart stops twice.

A doctor who massaged the man's heart with his hands, and brought him back to life twice, has pronounced him fully recovered.

The patient will be sent home this week. He and the doctor have planned a fishing trip to talk it over.

Truman Signs Multi-Billion Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman today signed the multi-billion dollar housing bill.

The measure, which he approved without comment, provides incentives for home building by families of low and moderate incomes but lacks the controversial cooperative plan which he proposed.

Both the Senate and the House rejected the co-op provision. It would have set up a $2,000,000,000 program of home building through cooperatives and other non-profit groups.

The measure provides for an expansion of almost $4,000,000,000 in the federal housing program through loans and mortgage guarantees.

It also provides for turning over to state, county and local housing authorities nearly 150 war-built housing projects now under control of the Public Housing Administration. There are about 43,000 units in the projects.

Other Major Features:

1. A $2,500,000,000 increase in the regular system of Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insurance on home mortgages.

2. A $250,000,000 increase in the authority of the Federal National Mortgage Association to purchase mortgages, adding that amount to the existing authority which runs up to $2,500,000,000. Under this operation, the government purchases mortgages so private lenders will have more money on hand for loans on new housing.

3. A five-year extension of the repair and modernization program of the FHA under which loans are made to improve existing properties.

4. A provision for direct loans at 2.55 per cent interest, for educational institutions to modernize or build housing facilities for students and faculty members. Loans up to an aggregate of $300,000,000 could be made under this provision, with repayment extended over a period as long as 40 years.

5. Extension of the repayment period on veterans' home loans from 25 to 30 years.

Lattimore's Associates 'Soviet Agents'

Testimony Given By Budenz, Ex-Communist

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Louis Budenz, former Communist editor, today named Owen Lattimore as a "Communist cell" member, but said he did not regard him as the "top Russian espionage agent" in the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Louis F. Budenz, former Communist, testified today that Owen Lattimore was a member of a "Communist cell" in the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Budenz told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee that he knows Lattimore, Far Eastern expert, was associated with two men who were "Soviet agents."

Budenz named these men as Frederick Vanderbilt Field, an official of the institute, and Philip Jaffee, former editor of the magazine Amerasia.

The witness, testifying under oath in the Senate investigation of charges by Senator McCarthy, said the Institute of Pacific Relations was not a Communist organization.

A Communist Cell

He said, however, that it contained a Communist cell, which had been able at one time to gain control of the organization.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins university professor, has denied that he ever has been a Communist or that he helped the Communist cause in any way.

Lattimore was close by as Budenz testified. With him were Mrs. Lattimore and his lawyers, Abe Fortas and Thurmond Arnold. They sat directly behind Budenz, so close they could have reached out and touched him.

Can Substantiate Story

Budenz told the committee that evidence can be obtained to substantiate his testimony.

McCarthy (R-Wis) had said he would be willing to "stand or fall" on the Lattimore case in his general contention that the state department has been infiltrated by Communists and their sympathizers. Lattimore is not a department employe, but has been an occasional adviser to it. He has a general reputation as one of this country's best informed men on Far Eastern affairs.

Woman's Body Found In An Open Well

NASSAU, Bahamas, April 20—(AP)—The body of Miss Betty Renner, 38-year-old Washington, D. C., attorney, was found in an open well in a quarry yesterday and police believe she was murdered.

The body, clad only in a brassiere, was found in a well off Gladstone road in a lonely pine forest about six miles from this resort city.

Her slacks had been stripped off and were found in the well beside the body. The well was pumped out to recover the body.

Maj. G. H. Ranoe, police chief in this resort colony, said "it looks like murder."

He said there were "very few" clues.

Springfield Man Takes Over Employment Security Office

Leon M. Hall, of Springfield, Mo., named manager of the Division of Employment Security office at 500½ South Ohio street in Sedalia, has arrived here to take over his work.

Hall replaces Virgil Brown who has resigned his state job to become personnel manager of the Town and Country Shoe Company.

Hall's appointment to direct the Sedalia office was announced today by Charles A. Ricker, director of the Division of Employment Security in Jefferson City.

The new manager of the Sedalia office has had considerable experience both in the state and federal employment services. He first became associated with the federal employment service in 1935 and has served in several offices in the state, principally in the Joplin and Springfield offices. Hall comes here from the Springfield office, but his home is in Greenfield, Mo., where, for 19 years, he was in the banking business.

Hall is married and has one son. He plans to move his family here as soon as he can arrange for housing.

Railroad Strike Is Called

Against Four of Nation's Biggest Railroad Systems For Wednesday

CHICAGO, April 20—(AP)—A strike against four of the nation's biggest railroad systems, threatening to slow all rail transportation, has been called for next Wednesday morning.

The strike call last night by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineermen ordered some 18,000 of the union's claimed 110,000 members to leave their jobs at 6 a.m. (local time) April 26. Union spokesmen said the walkout would make idle some 50,000 rail workers.

The threatened strike followed nearly three years of dispute between the union and the carriers over union demands for a second man on multiple unit diesel locomotives.

Free to Strike

The union is free to strike at any time, having complied with all provisions of the National Railway Labor Act. But the possibility of a postponement was hinted in a statement by union president David B. Robertson, who announced the strike call. He said:

"If they (the railroads) feel some progress is being made toward settlement, the strike may be postponed."

However, a railroad spokesman, Daniel B. Loomis, chairman of the Association of Western Railways, said: "Despite the strike threat, the railroads will stick to their decision of refusing to grant the make-work demands of the union. Strike or no strike, no additional firemen will be employed on Diesel electric locomotives, which have no fires to tend."

Companies Involved

The strike will be against the Pennsylvania system west of Harrisburg, Pa.; the entire Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system; the Southern Railway, and the New York Central west of Buffalo and three of its divisions, the Michigan Central west of the Detroit river, the Big Four and the Ohio Central lines.

Robertson said the 60 brotherhood officials who have been meeting in Chicago for the last week discussing possible strike action, selected the four systems as "those which appeared most advantageous to us." Railroad spokesmen said the four to be struck are extensive users of Diesels.

Robertson said the walkout might spread later to other lines.

Two Still in The Hospital

OTTAWA, Kas., April 20—(AP)—Two men still in a hospital as a result of a crossing accident involving a Santa Fe passenger train and a truck were reported in a satisfactory condition today.

They were W. W. Wilson, 49, Chanute, Kas., brakeman on the six-car train, The Tulsan, and Henry Joseph Vertefeuille, 46, Marquette, Mich., the steward, who works out of Tulsa.

Twelve other persons injured when the northbound train hit the truck and left the tracks 12 miles south of here were treated and released.

All the cars left the tracks, but none overturned after the train, moving at 75 miles an hour, hit the truck and its tow-load of a bulldozer. About 900 feet of track was torn up.

Service on the single track line was restored at 10:30 p.m. last night.

No effort was made during the night to move the derailed train. A by-pass line was built around the parlor car which had not cleared the tracks. Two wreckers on the scene were at work this morning lifting the train onto the tracks.

Vote to Reduce Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—The House Ways and Means committee today voted a $75,000,000 reduction in manufacturers' excise taxes. It would repeal completely the excise levies on household cookstoves and waterheaters, light bulbs and several other items.

The group refused to reduce the excises on automobiles, motorcycles, trucks, buses, truck tractors, parts and accessories, and tires and tubes. These taxes collect over $500,000,000 annually.

This was the first direct action the committee has taken in the three months it has been studying President Truman's proposal for an overall excise cut of $655,000,000.

Right To Enter Night Classes

Judge Blair In Ruling On Writ For Negroes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 20—(AP)—Negroes won the legal right today to enter white adult education night classes in the public schools here.

Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair granted a writ (mandamus) telling the board of education in Missouri's capital city it must give Negroes equal adult educational opportunities.

Judge Blair left a loophole for the school board to set up separate night classes for Negroes if it wants to. He said Elvester Williams, 34, a janitor, is entitled to "such participation in the adult educational program x x x as his qualifications may warrant."

Or, if the board doesn't want to let him enter white classes, it must "provide him with substantially the same educational opportunities elsewhere." That could mean separate classes for Negroes.

A. L. Crow, superintendent of schools, said he did not know what would be done since all but two of the night classes are over for this year. Between now and next fall, he said, the board of education will decide how to comply with Judge Blair's decision.

Crow said it was the first such case in Missouri so far as he knew.

Separate public schools are provided here for Negroes and white children. This is also the home of Lincoln University for Negroes, a state supported institution. Negroes are not permitted to enroll at the University of Missouri in Columbia, although that has been a hot legislative issue in recent sessions.

In the Williams case, the school board argued its adult education courses were not a public venture because they were tuition supported. But Judge Blair said he thought that argument was "wholly unrealistic."

It is clearly unconstitutional and discriminatory, he wrote in a memorandum opinion, to deny a Negro admission to a class solely because he is a Negro. This is the way Judge Blair put it:

"The supreme court of the United States has repeatedly ruled that Negroes are not granted equality of the law when they are denied the right to enjoy substantially the same educational facilities which are granted to members of the white race. x x x

"If the public authorities have not provided substantially the same educational facilities for him (Williams) elsewhere, he is, in the constitutional sense, discriminated against and denied equality before the law if, as in the present case, he is denied entrance and participation in the night classes established for members of the white race solely on the ground that he is a member of the Negro race.

"These provisions are so firmly established in our law that they are beyond all argument."

Continuances To Two Ex-Convicts

CHICAGO, April 20—(AP)—Two ex-convicts picked up here Saturday for questioning about a double slaying in Kansas City Wednesday were granted continuances on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

The cases of Kenneth A. Kitts, 33, Omaha, Nebr., and Frank Perry, 33, Mobile, Ala., were continued in municipal court to April 26 at the request of their attorney.

The men were arrested after police found a pistol in their expensive automobile. A Kansas City police lieutenant who came here to question them about the killing of Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta on April 6, said there was nothing to connect the two men with the slayings.

In addition to the weapons charge, Kitts and Perry also are charged with disorderly conduct.

An easy method of snow removal from city streets is of general interest. It uses a truck with a "melting pot" into which the snow is shoveled and immediately turned into water.

Senator McCarthy's Star Witness Confessed Part In Trotsky Murder

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Louis Budenz, star witness in the Senator McCarthy charges, was born in Indianapolis 59 years ago of German Catholic parents, has been tried 21 times in labor disputes, acquitted 21 times, and helped plot the murder of Leon Trotsky in Mexico.

Educated at St. Xavier's college and St. Mary's college, Budenz forsook his religion to become one of the most effective Communists in the United States, though at first he worked with the right-wing American Federation of Labor.

His first job was as editor of "The Carpenter," official newspaper of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Later he became an executive of the German-American Central Verein in St. Louis, leaving it when World War I broke in Europe. During the period of the first war he worked for the St. Louis Civic League and the Federal Electric Railways Commission. He had no war service.

Shortly after the war, Budenz went back to labor activities as editor of Labor Age for a 10-year period—1921-31; though during part of this time he was also special strike organizer for the A. F. of L., and handled such important strikes as the Paterson silk strike of 1930, the Toledo auto-lite strike of 1934.

Becomes Communist

It was shortly after the Toledo auto-lite strike that Budenz went over to the Communist Daily Worker first as its labor editor, later as its president and managing editor. There he remained for approximately 10 years, until 1945, when Monsignor Sheen persuaded him to return to his original Catholic faith.

Since then he has been teaching economics at two Catholic universities, Notre Dame and Fordham, and has also been a star witness in the trial of the 12 leaders of the Communist party.

Budenz has also published numerous magazine articles and a book which have been extremely helpful in letting the outside world know the inner workings and machinations of the Communist party. A new book, "Men Without Faces," to be published by Harpers in May, is already in galley proofs.

Today, Budenz is testifying that Frederick Field, a millionaire Communist, and Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party, told him about Lattimore and referred to him in such a way as to indicate he was being used by the Communist party or was even a member.

However, it is significant that in all his previous writings, Budenz never mentioned Lattimore's name.

In the original manuscript of the forthcoming book for Harpers, Budenz tells about the Institute of Pacific Relations, of which Lattimore was a member, and names Philip Jessup, now of the State Department, as a member of the institute. He also names a great many others, but not Lattimore.

However, a few days ago and after the book was in galley-proof form, Budenz suddenly inserted Lattimore's name. The reasons for Budenz's afterthought and what pressures, if any, influenced him, may be something the Senate committee will want to inquire about.

Furthermore, in all his magazine writings and in the large volume of original information he gave the FBI, Budenz also failed to mention Lattimore's name. Budenz spent days on end with the FBI earlier, telling them every detail about the operation of the Communist party; but up until last week, after he was appealed to by Senator McCarthy, he had not told the FBI anything about Lattimore.

Plot Against Trotsky

Budenz is extremely frank, and in one Collier's article he states: "It was then that I was assigned to work with a Russian police agent in forging the murder ring which ultimately assassinated Trotsky."

In another Collier's article, Budenz takes pains to describe the Institute of Pacific Relations, the organization which Senator McCarthy indicates was used by Owen Lattimore to influence State Department policy toward China.

"The institute is, as I said, not a Communist front," Budenz wrote. "Most of the 1,600 members of the American section of its 10-nation Pacific council are patriotic U.S. citizens. But party members and apologists have infiltrated its most influential committees and publications. Their articles and speeches have been used as reference material by the Far Eastern division of our State Department."

Budenz' description of how the Communists used well-meaning and well-known Americans as fronts is especially revealing. For instance, when the Soviet government staged its famed purge trials, the American reaction was bad. So American Communist agents set out to get a list of leading Americans who would approve the Moscow purge trials.

Fooling the Public

They selected as their top name, Corliss Lamont, son of the J. P. Morgan partner, whose Wall Street background would give solidarity and respectability to their list. From that point on they enlisted 150 names of "American artists, writers, composers, editors, college professors and Broadway figures."

"Few, if any of those who signed the whitewash of the trials," wrote Budenz, "could possibly know that the idea was batched by top Communist officials in conference with NKVD agents."

Budenz went on to tell how he had set up another front organization, with Mrs. Roosevelt as honorary chairman and Harry Truman as a member to serve as a screen for Marshall Tito, then under Moscow's wing.

"As editor of the Daily Worker," he wrote in Collier's, "I reported the launching, in 1944, of the American committee for Yugoslav relief. Under the guise of charity, this was simply an innocents' front to help Marshall Tito fasten his fangs on his country.

"But Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt became honorary chairman. Among the sponsors were the then Senator (now President) Harry Truman, Dr. Albert Einstein, Rita Hayworth, William Green and Philip Murray. These names speak volumes for the skill with which party-line boys handled the project. These and other sponsors dropped out when the Communist influence became increasingly evident in the following years. Over $3,000,000 was collected from soft-hearted Americans."

Budenz Deserves Credit

There are several points to be emphasized about the above.

1. The American public has the right to know how it was fooled in the past, and Budenz deserves credit for bringing it out.

2. Most of this happened during the war when we were allied with Russia and when millions of people were praying for the Red army's success, not only to hasten the war's end but in order that American lives might be saved.

3. One harm accomplished by Senator McCarthy is to make suspect as a Communist any public official who sided with the Russians while we were allies. Mrs. Roosevelt and Harry Truman are strong enough to take care of themselves. But there are many little people, unwittingly used by the Communists and now on McCarthy's list, who can hardly sleep at night.

They were gullible, susceptible to flattery, and made the mistake of lending their names to some "front" organizations. But they were no more Communist than Harry Truman. However, a speech on the Senate floor—and they may be ruined.

Therefore it should be remembered that, despite the McCarthy witch hunt, to have been friendly to Russia from 1941-46 does not necessarily mean one was a Communist.

Congress Hung on Dead Center Slows Down Legislative Mill

By Bruce Biossat

Lawmaking in this country has reached a curious impasse.

The Democrats keep their hold on the presidency and gain a substantial margin of control in both House and Senate. Yet they find themselves unable to carry out the chief planks of the so-called Fair Deal program that presumably helped them get elected.

The Republicans, on the other hand, battle vainly to recapture the White House, see Congress slip from their grasp after a brief two-year command, and have trouble formulating a salable program. Still they are able, in coalition with conservative Democrats, to block the passage of President Truman's major domestic proposals.

The clear result is a pitifully small amount of constructive legislation enacted. Last year a public housing bill and a 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage bill made the grade in the social welfare field. Housing would not have passed without the aid of liberal and big-city Republican elements. Congress also approved a farm price support measure that may prove more of a curse than a blessing to all concerned.

What about 1950? Thus far federal oleomargarine taxes have been repealed and another farm bill has been adopted which further complicates the future of agricultural price supports. Though he signed it, this measure was not to the President's liking.

Mr. Truman and his legislative chieftains have now mapped out the program for the remainder of this session. It calls for wider social security coverage, revision of excise taxes downward, continuance of rent control, more borrowing power for the Commodity Credit Corporation, and a fair employment practices commission.

FEPC is probably doomed to die before a Senate filibuster. Extension of rent control is questionable, and excise tax revision may not take a pattern pleasing to Mr. Truman. Broader social security and more borrowing power for CCC should get through.

Not a very impressive score when set against the 1948 promises of Taft-Hartley repeal, national health insurance, federal aid to education, federal power extension, tax legislation to meet the budget deficit, higher unemployment compensation, broad civil rights legislation.

Normally the majority loses strength in Congress at elections between presidential years. If that happens to the Democrats this year, they'll hardly have a better chance of enacting the bulk of their program in 1951 and 1952. Even if they hold present margins, what reason is there to believe they'll fare better on the next try?

Only a big gain in the proportion of Fair Deal Democrats would markedly improve their prospects. And no one is now predicting that. Nor does anyone foresee a smashing GOP victory that would be favorable to whatever program the Republicans may devise.

On many critical domestic issues, Congress therefore seems stuck on dead center. Neither party appears able to go forward as it wishes; it is confined to making very limited progress or merely to thwarting the aims of its opposition. This performance is hardly democracy at its most effective pace.

• So They Say

I shall present my views to the administration as objectively and independently as I can, and in the spirit of what I shall conceive to be the sole interest of this country.—Former Senator John Sherman Cooper, R., Ky., recently appointed U. S. ambassador-at-large.

MADE FOR POSITIVE ACHIEVEMENT

You and I are made in our inmost being for positive achievement—to be outgoing, to master our circumstances, to create. If we are not positively creating and producing, the machinery of life will get out of gear; for we are geared to creation. Negativism, therefore, not only keeps us from achieving; it also keeps us from being. The personality breaks down under negative attitudes. We are not made for them.

I know a person whose first attitude toward everything new that is presented is "No!" She lives in the objective mood. And hence her life is frustrated, when, with her powers, it might be fruitful. A more dramatic illustration is that of a woman of intellectual ability who became afraid of life, pulled in, and made retreat her life strategy. When she pulled in on herself, and refused to be outgoing, Nature began to take her toll—her knees began to stiffen. She became a confirmed invalid. But not only did her knees stiffen; her brain cells also began to decay through worry and anxiety and fear. As the doctors put it, "Her brain cells are rotten with fear." She became impossible—for herself and others. The life forces were breaking down under this retreatism. So the doctors decided to cut off that part of the brain which presides over foresight, now corrupted through fear and worry, and let it atrophy, so that the rest of the brain would function, but without the fear and worry. That fear and worry had to be got rid of either by operation or by the cleansing power of faith. She refused the faith: "I have run away too long. If you had got hold of me years ago, you might have headed this off—there is nothing now but the operation."

Retreatism and negativism are infections that corrupt the brain cells, make flabby the tissues, and poison the spirit. You must decide that they will have no part nor lot within you, since you want to live abundantly.

My God and Father, I belong to Thee, Thou Creator God. I would link myself with Thy Creative Spirit and become creative and positive and victorious. For I belong to today and tomorrow and forever. I do not belong to a wistful sighing over a dead past, nor to a fear of today—I belong to victory! Help me take it. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Multiple Attack on Nerves Should be Followed by Rest

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the nervous system. A few years ago it was considered rare in this country (it seemed somewhat more common on the European continent and in Britain). Today while still an unusual condition there are many reasons for believing that it is increasing. Even if it had remained extremely rare, however, it would have been important to those who had it and methods of preventing and treating it would still be urgently needed.

It may attack one or several parts of the nervous system and it is for this reason that the term "multiple" is attached to the name. The symptoms depend, therefore, on what part of the nervous system is involved.

Since the location varies there are no completely typical symptoms, though seeing double, a trembling or tremor when trying to pick up some object and a gait which looks somewhat like that of a drunken person are probably the most common. One or all of these may be absent and consequently the diagnosis may be difficult to make or long delayed.

The cause of this disease is not understood. Many theories have been suggested and studied but so far there is no one cause which has been accepted by all authorities.

A great many kinds of treatment have been tried. These have included fever treatment, the use of drugs to delay blood coagulation, attempts to desensitize to allergies, vaccins and several different drugs. Unfortunately none of these have proved really successful.

A good long rest is the best form of treatment during the acute stage of multiple sclerosis. The patient usually goes through periods of great improvement. If these good periods can be lengthened and the bad ones shortened, it is a good sign. A warm climate and freedom from colds and other infections of the nose and throat may help to prevent the downswings of the disease.

Agency Investigates

We need to know more about multiple sclerosis. Of this there is no doubt and therefore a group of citizens and physicians has been formed to aid in the necessary investigations. This group is called the Association for Advancement of Research on Multiple Sclerosis, 270 Park Avenue, New York.

It was started by patients themselves, together with their friends and relatvies and in co-operation with some of the country's leading physicians. The added interest and support provided by this society should lead to a more rapid increase in our knowledge of the causes and treatment of multiple sclerosis. Already this society has begun to aid several important research projects.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

From Me to Me . . .

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

Copyright 1950 by Hermina Black Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Clemency Norton, nursery governess to Baba, small daughter of Jon and Syrie Amberley, had been told politely by Syrie to keep away from Jon's brother Piers, at whose luxurious desert home the family lives. But Clemency has not been able to avoid becoming involved in the family's domestic affairs. On a day off in Biskra with the Sandersons, a British-Canadian family, Piers drives her home. Leaving town, Clemency sees Jon, obviously drunk at a cafe, but Piers makes no mention of the episode. Later the car has a puncture, causing it to skid dangerously, and for a moment Piers holds Clemency closely.

XV

THAT night Clemency sent her meal away almost untouched. There was nothing to worry about in the nurseries. Baba was sleeping soundly and had been—Louilie assured—very, very good. She had probably also been very, very spoilt, for unlike certain well publicized people, Louilie had never learned to say no—anyhow not to little girls.

But her sense of depression increased, and Clemency felt tired and bruised. She supposed it must be something to do with the sandstorm that had struck after her return.

Even a warm bath did not seem to get rid of her tiredness. When she slipped between the sheets she was still conscious of that bruised feeling which utter weariness brings.

Shutting her eyes, she saw the sand-edged road pierced by the powerful headlights of the car. She was on the brink of sleep now, and the scene changed—she saw the lighted cafe, Jon Amberley lurching a little, his face caricatured as a drunken man's. Back in the car again she felt it swerve and spin around, had the sickening knowledge of the tree trunk ahead

Then a man's strong arm steadied her.

You didn't suddenly discover that you loved a man who was as far away from you as the stars in the heavens. Who had "finished with that kind of thing years ago."

"Piers is a one-woman man There is never likely to be anyone else in his life—" The memory of Syrie's words floated back to her. "I think he despises women—"

• • •

ALTHOUGH by the morning the storm had died down outside, when Clemency got up she found a fine powdering of sand everywhere, and the aftermath of the sirocco seemed to be a tail of frayed tempers and general irritation.

Baba slept late and thoroughly objected to being taken out of bed. While she dressed, Clemency heard the patient Louilie coaxing a very cross small girl in the night nursery.

It was easy that day, for the storm had really upset Baba. She was heavy-eyed, and complained of her head aching, and for once went for her afternoon nap without any shadow of argument. Having tucked her safely up, Clemency went back to the day nursery and sat down to do some knitting.

She started and turned as the door opened and Jon Amberley came in.

He looked ill and drawn, and though she had felt the disgust which an exhibition such as she had witnessed last night naturally roused in her, she could not help feeling sorry for him, even while she liked him less than she had ever done before.

Intuition so often took the place of experience with Clemency, and she realized suddenly that what she had glimpsed last night had a different significance from the one she had attached to it. There was something ravaged and defeated about the man before her, mingled with a kind of challenging defiance as he met her eyes.

She schooled her face and her voice carefully as she smiled at him.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Amberley. I'm afraid Baba's asleep. I think the storm has upset her, poor mite."

"It always does," he said without returning her greeting. "Comes out of the desert like some darned tormenting spirit. I hate it. Always know, hours before it comes."

"I can't say I enjoyed it, but it seemed to me to come up very abruptly," she told him. "I—" She broke off, deciding not to say that she had been in Biskra yesterday.

"Can I look at the kid?" he asked. "I won't disturb her."

She hesitated, but he had already gone through to the night nursery.

• • •

HE had opened the door noiselessly and left it wide; from where she stood she saw him go across to the cot and stand looking down at the sleeping child. He remained there for perhaps a full minute, then he turned and tiptoed back, closing the communicating door as quietly as he had opened it.

"She looks flushed. Not going to be ill, is she?" he asked.

"No, no! She's just a little out of sorts," said Clemency quickly.

"Oh, well—look after her!" He thrust his hands into his jacket pockets, but not before she saw how they were trembling. "I'm going away," he continued in the same rather strained manner which she had noticed since his entrance. "Maybe for a day or two—maybe longer. I don't know. Tell Baba I'll be back, and—to be a good girl. And—my love and a kiss." He walked to the door through which he had just entered and paused looking back at her; there was a strange, angry unhappiness in his eyes. "She's the only thing in the world I care a damn about, and I'm not even any good to her," he said. "Look after her."

"I think you can trust me to do that," said Clemency gently.

He stared at her. "I believe so. About the only person I've met that I can trust. Goodby."

She stood looking after him.

The man who had just gone out seemed to have left a very dark shadow behind him—that same vague sinister thing she had sensed on her first night in the house.

These Situations go Along With Almost Every Marriage

A few highlights on men, women, and marriage.

When a woman claims a man is being made a fool of it's always by some other woman.

A wife's most generous compliments don't do as much for a man's ego as an appreciative glance from some other woman.

The most cruel cut of all: When a balding man is making an impression on a much younger woman and his wife comes up to inquire sweetly: "Has he shown you the snapshot of our new grandchild?"

It pleases a wife to know her husband likes her new outfit—but she isn't really satisfied until she can measure its impact on the members of her bridge club.

Never envy the woman whose husband "gives her everything." It may never be love, and even if it is, it may not mean that he's a short-cut at heart.

Many a well-to-do widow has lived to collect her erring husband's insurance because in moments of marital crisis she thought more of her future than of her pride.

Where There's Smoke

To forgive but not forget a quarrel is to leave smoldering embers that will set off a new blaze of anger the moment the tiniest bit of fuel is added.

If men were as logical and practical and steadfast as women wish they were life with them might be rather dull . . . but many a wife would be willing to give it a try.

Many a husband has stayed out of mischief for years simply because his wife kept him on the go so constantly that his greatest desire in life was for a good night's sleep.

Many a wife follows every bit of advice she runs across for making her marriage last except the most important one—keeping her husband in good health.

When a wife lets her husband have his way in small matters, you can be pretty sure she gets hers in big ones.

That Last Question on the Exam Was a Sticker

Test for French Parachute Nurses Includes 40-Foot Practice Jump

FULL EQUIPMENT is worn by June Dreshfeld, 21-year-old Paris secretary, as she prepares for her first jump from the 40-foot tower.

PARIS — (NEA) — Five pretty girls turned up at Noisy airfield, outside Paris, the other evening to tackle difficult written and oral exams.

Then all five of them got up and jumped off a 40-foot tower.

This was not out of desperation because they had failed. The jump was the last question on the exam and had to be answered five times —with full parachute equipment.

After that the girls were ready for enrollment in the voluntary Air Parachutist Nurses Group, brainchild of the Marquise Madeleine-Claire de Villeroy, probably the most air-minded woman in France.

* * *

The dynamic Marquise started flying when she was 11, which was sometime before World War I. She obtained her pilot's license in 1918, and ever since she has owned her own plane just as other women own a car. She has jumped more than 20 times, too, which stirred up her interet in parachuting.

"Russia is the only country where women parachutists are trained seriously," she explained. "A few young Frenchwomen were parachuted into the underground during the occupation and successfully accomplished dangerous missions. My aim is to prove that it's possible to train young women 'chutists for useful work, not only in wartime but in other emergencies."

The Marquise has no lack of candidates for her jumping nurses. She trained 50 in Lyons in the past year, and now is training 15 more in Paris Many more than she can handle have applied, all of them white-collar workers such as secretaries, office workers and dressmakers. Age limits are 15½ to 35.

* * *

Training starts with physical education, including judo. First jumps are from piled-up benches, then from the 40-foot tower. It takes between 12 and 15 months of night courses, thee times a week, to pass the second-degree test, by which time the girls must have completed 30 jumps from tower and from plane, 15 with automatic control and 15 with retarded control.

FIRST JUMP is made from piled-up benches. Germaine Gex-Bertrand, a 20-year-old Lyons dressmaker, covers her face as she leaps.

So far, the Marquise has been devoting most of her private income to the project, but she'll have to find outside help to reach her goal of groups of 15 to 20 girls in every large town. It costs about $600 a year to train each 'chutist, plus $50 for jumping equipment. The girls provide their own uniforms, which the Marquise designed.

Veteran among the jumping nurses is Helene Sibert, 21-year-old Lyons secretary, who holds the rank of top sergeant of the group. She dismisses the 30 jumps to her credit this way:

"Once in a while we have to nurse bruises and bumps, but so far there have been no serious mishaps. Anyway, nothing could stop us."

Broke Ties As British Doctor

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20—(AP)—A former British doctor said Wednesday night he fled from the British national health service to escape intolerable conditions.

Intolerable, he added, meant trying to handle 20 patients an hour and make 36 home calls a day Or to have up to 4,000 patients so you could give each one only three minutes.

"You can't do much in three minutes," Dr. Ralph J. Campbell said in a speech prepared for the annual State Chamber of Commerce banquet. Dr. Campbell, 33, is interning now in a San Francisco hospital so he can qualify for practice in the United States.

"I worked under the British government health system and found it so objectionable, both personally and as a physician, that I felt compelled to break all my ties x x x," he said.

"You see, there are some things not worth doing at any price and that sort of government medicine seemed to me so intolerable that I made this momentous personal decision. And I am not alone in making this break.

"You won't find many of my British colleagues here in the United States because the problem of obtaining dollars is almost insurmountable for Englishmen. But they are streaming out of Great Britain to the British dominions. x x x"

Mrs. Porter Murray Injured

Mrs. Porter Murray of Knob Noster was critically injured in an automobile accident in Kansas City Sunday night. Mrs. Murray was the former Miss Lena Drinkwater, who teaches in North Kansas City.

She had spent the week-end at her home northwest of Knob Noster, and returning to North Kansas City. Enroute she visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Adams in Kansas City and left there about 9:00 p. m.

Mrs. Murray is at Research hospital and Mr. Murray has been at her bedside.

She received a fractured back and a compression fracture of the skull.

Talk on Posture At 4-H Club Meeting

The Hillview 4-H Club met at at the home of Jo Ann Nicholson on the evening of April 13.

Patricia Green, president, presided.

There were 14 members and eight visitors.

The News Letter was read by Cleo Breckenridge, secretary.

Jo Ann Nicholson gave a talk on posture and 4-H Sunday was discussed.

There was a report from the council member, Marvin Nicholson.

During the social hour games were played and songs sung after which refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held May 11, at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Sue Green.

Cassava for Tapioca

The cassava plant, the roots of which furnishes tapioca, grows in South America. It attains a height of 10 feet, and the root weighs from one to 20 pounds.

There's Difference Between Approval and Voting Money

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (AP) —You think your taxes are too high. And you think the government is spending too much money. You wish it would cut down on the spending so it could cut down on your taxes.

You never see, directly, most of the money the government spends. And you wonder where it all goes. Of course, you'd see a little of it if the government would fix that bay near you to help fishing and recreation.

So you—and by you is meant your local fishing club, or real estate board, or business group or landowners — tell your congressman and he gets to work on it.

If the government fixes that bay, it's going to add something to what the government is spending. But you think your neighborhood ought to have it and, if you can get it, you want it.

You may, or may not, remember that other people all over the country are putting in plugs with their congressmen to get the government to do something about their bay, or river, or harbor.

Needs Money

And when all these plugs are put together in one big bill — called the Rivers and Harbors Bill —the total calls for a big chunk of government money.

Your congressman, of course, is glad to push your pet project. That's getting something for the people back home who vote for him. In fact, his re-election may depend on whether he gets you what you want.

This brings up the old problem of trying to have your cake and eating it, too, of cutting down government spending while asking the government to keep on spending.

And it's a wonderful sight to see congressmen, who complain about government spending, making a pitch for a big rivers and harbors bill when Congress gets around to voting on it.

All Up Again

This all came up again in the past week. The Senate was debating the Rivers and Harbors Bill. Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat who is also an economist, asked the Senators to make some sacrifices, in the name of economy, and vote against some of their pet home-town projects.

"I know only too well what we are up against," he said. "Local groups demand that their representatives and Senators bring home the 'bacon' or else.

"All too often these groups loudly proclaim their desire for economy, but at the same time they want their local pet projects at the federal government's expense. They want economy practiced on the other fellow but not on themselves.

To Citizens

"So my appeal is directed not only to the Senate of the United States. It is directed in an even greater degree to the citizens of the localities themselves."

In short, Douglas said, this was the old pork barrel bill.

Altogether, the bill called for spending $1,565,000,000. Douglas offered a number of suggestions —amendments—for cutting $840,000,000 off that amount. The senators voted down every one of his suggestions.

The Budget Bureau — the arm of the government which figures how much is needed for everything, including rivers and harbors—had recommended spending a total of $798,000,000.

The House previously thrust aside this idea of the Budget Bureau and approved $1,120,000,000, or $322,000,000 more than the Budget Bureau thought was necessary.

Senate's Turn

Then came the Senate's turn. It upped the figure to $1,565,000,000, which was $445,000,000 more than the House thought necessary and $767,000,000 more than the Budget Bureau recommended.

There's one catch in all this. The House and Senate didn't really vote that much money. It only "authorized" that much. That is, it said it thought spending that much money was all right. But—

Voting the actual money comes later. And, when it does come, Congress may vote less money than it now has "authorized." If that happens, of course, government spending will be cut.

Until it happens, if it happens, the congressmen can tell the folks back home they worked hard and got congressional approval of the local project. There's a difference between getting approval for it and then getting Congress to vote the money to get it started.

Bible Verse For Roll Call

The Lovelace Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Logan Siegel with 14 members and six visitors attending.

A contributive dinner was served at the noon hour with a large birthday cake honoring Mrs. Emma Cranfield and Mrs. Siegel.

In the afternoon the business meeting was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. Elmer Curtiss and roll call was answered by each quoting a Bible verse beginning with the letter of their name.

Mrs. Logan Siegel, clothing leader, gave a report on the clothing meeting she had attended.

After the meeting the hostess opened her gifts.

The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Richardson on May 11.

OBITUARIES

Edward G. Clingan

Edward G. Clingan, aged 66 years, a brother of Lawson Clingan, assessor of Pettis county, and a former resident of La Monte, died at his home in Tupelo, Miss., Wednesday, where he had been an agent for the St. Louis & San Francisco railway.

He retired from that position some time ago since which he had been in declining health.

Mr. Clingan was married to Miss Samuel Inez Lee March 1, 1904 and they were parents of eight children, one dying in infancy.

Surviving him besides his wife are the following children: Mrs. Shelby Harris, New Orleans, La., Mrs. N. E. Lovan and Mrs. J. D. Waisner, Windsor, Mo., Charles C. Clingan, Tupelo, Miss., Edward G. Cligan, Amory, Miss., Mrs. Ilene Case and Miss Claire Clingan, of the home at Tupelo.

Besides his brother here another brother, Lyman Clingan, Willow Springs, Mo., eight grandchildren and four sisters survive him.

The body will be brought to Sedalia and be taken to Blackwater chapel, of which he was a member, where funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon the Rev. Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church of this city, to officiate.

Mrs. Earl Clevinger will be in charge of the music.

Pallbearers will be J. C. Higgins, Forrest Winston, Fred Carpenter, Charles Wheeler, Clark Fisher and Thomas Settles.

Burial will be in Blackwater chapel cemetery.

Calvin Hunter

Calvin Hunter of Olathe, Kas., a former Knob Noster resident, died Monday afternoon in Olathe following a heart attack. Funeral services were held in Olathe.

He is survived by two brothers, Earl Hunter of Overland Park, Kas., and Barnard Hunter, one sister, Mrs. J. Walter Scott of Granite City, Ill.

Mr. Hunter's mother Ellen Hunter died in 1943.

Mrs. Charles V. Huff Services

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Charles V. Huff who died Tuesday at her home in Knob Noster, Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Knob Noster Baptist church with Rev. O. A. Blaylock officiating.

Consecrated Bishop

DES MOINES, April 20.—(AP)—A centuries-old consecration service was read today at the Rt. Rev. Gordon V. Smith, 43, became the sixth bishop of the Iowa diocese of the Episcopal church.

The rich pageantry of the service unfolded before more than 1,000 parishoners, civic leaders and high church officials. The crowd overflowed the 95-year-old stone St. Paul's church in downtown Des Moines.

Not a Candidate

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—(AP)—Former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said today he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator. There had been speculation that he would.

"I have no intention of filing for the nomination," Donnelly told the St. Louis Post-Dispatch by telephone from his home in Lebanon.

Auto Designer Dies

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 20—(AP)—Roy E. Cole, 63, automotive engineer who designed the Studebaker champion, died in a hospital here last night. He was also the designer of the "Weasel," amphibious personnel and cargo carried used in World War II.

Leopard Jumps, Claws Keeper

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20—(AP) — The mate of Oklahoma City's famous leopard today sprang 15 feet to claw a zoo attendant.

Tom Gardner, 40, slipped and fell outside the animal's cage as he was tending the animal.

The leopard sprang across her cage to lay open the palm of Gardner's right hand.

Gardner said he was using a long hook to drag the leopard's water pan close enough to fill.

"My foot slipped and I fell," he said. "I caught myself with my right hand against the bars. She sprang and clawed my hand. I rolled away before she could reach through the bars and get at my shoulder."

The leopard has been confined to her cage since her mate escaped Feb. 25 from the zoo pit with an 18-foot leap. For 72 hours, the jungle beast was free before it returned to its pit where it was captured. It died that night.

Asked to Conduct Election Properly

By Ruth Cowan

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Mrs. Roscoe O'Byrne, president general, sternly called on the Daughters of the American Revolution today to conduct their election of national officers "properly."

Mrs. O'Byrne, of Brookville, Ind., disclosed to the 4,000 delegates attending the 59th DAR congress that a teller had been removed from the voting room She said the teller, whom she did not identify, was seen by several witnesses marking a ballot for a voter.

"We want this election conducted properly," the president general said at a morning meeting. "We have no rules saying no electioneering may be conducted within a certain number of feet from the building. But please don't tell people how to vote within the building."

The DAR delegates are electing their 20th president general, 11 other holders of major national offices, and seven vice-presidents general from a list of 10 nominees. All elected will serve three years.

Might Set Pattern To Avoid Strike

TRENTON, N.J, April 20—(AP)—New Jersey telephone operators were awarded a $2.50 weekly wage boost today in a ruling described as a possible pattern for settlement of the nationwide dispute.

The award by a state-appointed arbitration board was announced by the office of Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll.

The governor said previously that the decision might set the pattern for the ending of the country-wide controversy which is now in a truce stage until 6 a.m April 26.

At Washington, the CIO communications workers described the arbitration award of $2 50 a week to $12,000 members as "the first significant break in the current telephone wage dispute."

Mr. and Mrs. Gross In Easter Cantata

Frank Gross, Jr., son of Mr and Mrs Frank W. Gross, 917 West Fourth street, this city, who resides in Compton, Calif, was one of the soloists in "The Story of Easter" presented by the Cathedral Choir of St. John's Community Presbyterian church in Compton on Good Friday. Mrs. Gross was organist for the Cantata.

Mr. Gross is employed by T. W Airline. Mr. and Mrs. Gross have a son, Frank W. Gross, III, two years old.

Kiwanis Speaker Recounts Story of Book of Esther

The story of the Book of Esther was told by Dr. James D. Sill, director of Religious Activities, Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker was introduced by Harold Bamburg, program chairman.

Guests were: J. C. Cash, Kansas City, with John Ryan; and Arthur Bux, Kansas City, with Ben Robinson.

Excitement Too Great

BALTIMORE, April 20.—(AP)—One of the nuns at St. Gregory's parochial school telephoned Ellen Virginia Brooks, 13, that she had won a competitive examination for a scholarship to Mount St. Agnes' Academy.

Highly excited, Ellen whirled from the telephone and shouted the good news to her mother. Then she collapsed. The excitement was too much for her heart. She was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Her classmtes at St. Gregory's attended her funeral yesterday.

Filed For Auditor

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—(AP)—Alvin V. Bartelsmeyer of Glendale, St. Louis county judge, filed today for the Republican nomination for state auditor.

He is the third Republican in the race. Joseph M. Badgett of St. Louis, and William Barton of Jefferson City, former state representative, filed earlier.

W. H. Holmes of Vienna, the incumbent, is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Large Estate To Institutions

ST. JOSEPH, Mo, April 20.—(AP)—Dr. Wayne M. Toothaker, who committed suicide last week, left the greater portion of his estate to the St. Joseph public library for establishment of a medical library.

The will, filed for probate this morning, contained no appraisal, but friends of the 35-year-old physician and surgeon, said the amount going to the library would be about $150,000. The will specified that it be established as a memorial to Dr. Toothaker and his father, the late Dr. B. W. Toothaker.

The young physician died of an overdise of sleeping powder. Friends said he had grieved over the death of his mother, his only living relative, who died a few days earlier.

Among other bequests in the will was $5,000 to St. Louis university for a Wayne M. Toothaker scholarship $5,000 to St. Joseph Junior college for a pre-medic scholarship and $5,000 to his nurse and secretary, Miss Helen Ryan.

Occupation Students To Hold a Banquet

A banquet will be given tonight at the Bothwell hotel by Diversified Occupation students of Smith-Cotton high school in honor of their employer-teachers who have made it possible for them to receive training in their chosen trade by actually working on the job while attending school and studying subjects related to the job.

Most of these students are seniors and this will be their last opportunity to show their appreciation to these business men.

A musical program will be presented by a group from the Men's Choral club composed of Dean Binderup, Charles Maggard, Al Domingue and Ad Taylor. There will also be several solo numbers by Mrs. Ira M White with Miss Dorothy Ann Reed as the accompanist.

Named Dog Sole Heir

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 20.—(AP)—The declining years won't be a dog's life for Dixie.

The will of G. S. Richberg, a barber was admitted in probate court yesterday after a long legal battle which reached the Tennessee supreme court. Richberg died Aug. 5, 1948. His relatives contested the will.

The will named Dixie, a female American pet bulldog, sole heir to the $4,500 estate. It decreed that $35 a month shall go for the dog's care for the rest of her life. Dixie is eight years old

Arms to Norway

OSLO, Norway, April 20—(AP)—The first shipment of arms to Norway under the American military aid program arrived today

The government kept secret the arrival hour and Communists were able to stage only a minor demonstration.

There was no disturbance as dock workers began unloading 300 tons of machineguns, semi-automatic rifles and bazookas, which arrived aboard the S.S. Mormacdale.

Sentenced to Jail

Oliver Stinnett, arrested on a charge of non-support of his two children, pleaded guilty to Acting Magistrate J. C. McCloskey, this morning, and was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. Stinnett, on parole from Algoa Farm, told the court he hadn't been working and couldn't do anything now and besides his ex-wife and husband said they didn't want the money.

The information was signed by the ex-wife, Mrs. Maxine Gregg. Stinnett is supposed to contribute $20.00 a month toward the support of his two children.

Three-Way Battle

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—(AP)—Now there's a triangle in the Democratic primary for the fourth congressional district nomination. Ralph Shepard, Kansas City lawyer, made it a three-way battle by filing his candidacy yesterday.

Already in the race were Congressman Leonard Irving of Independence and his former congressional secretary, Vernon E. Moore, also of Independence. No Republicans have filed yet in President Truman's home district.

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Dyne, route 4, entertained with a dinner at their home Sunday. Guests were relatives of Mrs. Van Dyne. They were: Mrs. Stephen Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Neidert and children and Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman all of Jefferson City and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose of Columbia.

Easter Sunday at 2:30 o'clock Miss Marjorie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Allen of California, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Loesing of Pilot Grove, son of Judge and Mrs. Bruno Loesing of Boonville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Heifner of the First Baptist church in California. The altar was decorated with burning tapers, tropical fern, Easter lilies, and peach gladioli in Permid vases. Tapers also decorated the aisle.

Mrs. K. J. O'Banion played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Goldine Gabriel, who sang, "Because," "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and net insertions in the yoke, tight sleeves that came to points over the hands and a full skirt that had an aisle wide train, the train being edged in lace. Her fingertip veil had lace insertions and was edged in lace and held in place by a halo of pearls. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies with satin streamers. Her only ornament was a heirloom necklace of her mother.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Rolla J. Plattner of Malta Bend, wore a medium blue taffeta floor-length dress with a torso bodice and at the edge of the torso was a pleated, ruffle, tied in a bow on the left hip, and had a full skirt. Her shoulder length veil of matching color was held in place by rosettes of the same material and had matching elbow length mitts. Her colonial bouquet was af peach colored carnations and lilies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Esther Fahrenbrink of Bunceton and Mrs. Layton Reed of California, who wore dresses of deep rose, fashioned like the matron of honor. They also had matching veils and mitts and carried colonial bouquets of fuschia carnations and lilies.

Candlelighters were Miss Carolyn Foster of Jefferson City and Carmen Duvalle of Adrain who wore floor length dresses of white with low necklines and full skirt and their candles were tied with pink carnations. The flower girl, little Miss Audrey Kenworthy, wore a pale blue eyelet nylon dress, fashioned with cap sleeves. Best man was Lt. J. B. Loesing of Cape Girardeau. Groomsmen were Estil Loesing of Sedalia and Edward Loesing of Pilot Grove, brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Meyer and Leo Meyer of High Point.

The bride's mother more a navy and white bemberg sheer with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray gabardine suit with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors with Miss Beverly Beetler in charge of the guest book. Miss Erma Fahrenbrink and Miss Esther Shull served the cake and Mrs. J. B. Loesing and Mrs. Edward Loesing served punch. Others assisting were Miss Virginia Hogge, Mrs. John Moore, Miss Marylin Beetler, Mrs. Clifton Beetler, Mrs. Charles Meyer and Mrs. Leo Meyer.

The bride is a graduate of California high school and State College at Warrensburg and taught kindergarten at Liberty for several years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pilot Grove high school and attended Missouri University and served with the United States Navy in World War II.

They left for a short wedding trip and the bride chose for traveling a navy gabardine suit with navy accessories and lily corsage.

Upon their return, they will be at home on a farm seven miles northwest of Pilot Grove.

A large delegation of women from Sedalia attended the state meeting of Royal Neighbors of America held in Kansas City, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ralph Dow, Sr., Sedalia, route 4, was elected a delegate to the National Convention of Royal Neighbors of America to be held June 19 in San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Pearl Reams, 315 South Massachusetts avenue, was elected state recorder-receiver of the organization.

The children played games and awards were won by Mary Louise Schwenk, Donald Richardson, Dana Hayes, Barbara Boots, and Sandra Lee Burton.

Mary Lee received many lovely gifts. Paper hats and balloons were the favors. Ice cream and angel food cake were served.

Program by A Cappella Choir of K. U.

The University of Kansas City A Cappella Choir presented a two hour musical program at the Smith Cotton high school auditorium Wednesday night under the direction of Wynn York and featured Dale Bryan, talented young violinist.

The following program was presented to an appreciative audience and represented the type of varied music this organization has been offering while on its current concert tour.

"A Saving Health to Us Is Brought," Brahms
"Suprely He Hath Borne Our Griefs," Graun
"Veni Sancte Spiritus (Motet for Double Choir), Palestrina
"Alleluia, Christ Is Risen," Kopyloff
"Salvation Is Created," Tschesnokoff
"Cantata of Peace," Milhaud

Well Received

This first portion of the concert was well received by the audience. Mr. York was informal in his duty as conductor and gave interesting sketches about the various selections in the order they were sung. The group rendered the encore "Sing Unto the Lord a New Song" at the intermission period.

Dale Bryan, violinist, accompanied by Edythe Sandercock, played Saint Saens' "Rondo Capriccioso." His technical ability won him much applause.

The choir then returned to this final portion of the program.

"With Drooping Wings" (from Dido and Aeneas), Purcell
"My Heart Doth Beg You'll Not Forget" (Madrigal), di Lasso
"Though You May Be Rather Lean," di Lasso
"Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair" arranged by Stuart Churchill
"Cotton Picking Songs" arranged by Siegmeister
"Work Song" (Robert Parke, soloist), Roy Harris
"Little David Play on Your Harp," arranged by Malin
"All the Pretty Little Horses," arranged by Binder
"Ain't a That Good News" Shirley Kilmer, soloist, arranged b. Dawson

Expressed Approval

The crowd attending were so responsive with their approval of the program that the choir was called back to do two additional encores They were. "Carol of the Angels," (Chai Sin See and Ida Miller, soloists) John Jacob Niles and 'Soon Ah Wul Be Done," arranged by Dawson.

Shortly after their arrival in Sedalia Wednesday afternoon the Choir presented a twenty minute program to the students of Smith-Cotton high school

The Queen City Choral, sponsore of this concert appearance here, prepared a buffet dinner which was served to the combined organizations at the First Christian church, prior to the evening's presentation. The Rev. David M Bryan, pastor of the church was present and returned thanks.

Jay Jolley, a former Sedalian and nephew of Mrs. C. D. Demand, is a member of this organization and sang with the choir at the concert.

Busy Stitchers Club Meeting

The Busy Stitchers met at the home of Mrs. Willie Anderson, April 7, with seven members and two visitors present. The visitors were: Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. Ellen Dickerson.

A contributive dinner was served at noon. Mrs. Elsie Barton presided at the business meeting, which opened by each one answering roll call with "What They Would Do if Elected Queen for a Day."

Lelard Anderson gave two demonstrations in the afternoon on "The Care of Your Feet" and "How to Use Fertilizer in Your Garden."

The afternoon was spent in working for the hostess. Games were played and several members received birthday and anniversary gifts.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Barton.

Antagonistic

North Carolina has recorded several instances when voracious bluefish have driven schools of menhaden on to the shore until they were piled knee-deep.

High School Boys to Meet

The older boys of eleven rural high schools will meet at Smithton at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Methodist church to discuss high school boys' problems.

Each high school will have a speaker and a musical number, and following these talks and musical numbers the Rev. James Sill, chaplain at Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, will give the closing talk.

Schools included in the conference are Smithton, Otterville Stover, Cole Camp, Lincoln, Warsaw, LaMonte, Green Ridge, Knob Noster, Houstonia and Hughesville.

Presiding over the meeting will be Max Birdsong of Smithton.

The boys will be guests of the mothers of Smithton.

This is the third similar conference to be held in the past two years, the first at Houstonia, the second at Warsaw and this, the third, at Smithton. They are sponsored by the Sedalia Boys' Work Council of which H. E. Lindstrom is president and Irvin Raut is secretary.

Last year there was also a girls' conference held at LaMonte.

Newspaper Has Student Guests

About 20 pupils of Eden Valley and Dunksburg schools and their teachers went through the Democrat-Capital office this morning. The children came to Sedalia a few weeks ago and had planned at that time to visit the newspaper office, but they ran so far behind on the schedule in visiting various Sedalia industries that it was too late to stop at the Democrat-Capital—they just had to go home

But the youngsters never got over their disappointment, they still wanted to see how a newspaper was put together, so Mrs Iva Crawford, of Sweet Springs, who teaches at Eden Valley, and Miss Rosie Lee Winston, of LaMonte, who teaches at Dunksburg, decided they would take the children again to Sedala to spend the day and this time they would go to the Democrat-Capital office in the morning before they went anywhere else.

At noon they ate lunch downtown, then went to the park, where the afternoon was spent in skating.

Sedalia lodge No. 236, A. F & A. M., will meet in special communication on Saturday, April 22, at 6:00 p. m for work in the third degree of Freemasonry. A good attendance will be necessary so members please take notice and come if at all convenient. A busy evening Master Masons please take notice. Visiting Master Masons are welcome. Refreshments after degrees.

Twin Pianists Guest Artists

The Nettleton Twins, duo piano team of Kansas City will appear with the Sedalia Symphony orchestra in the final concert of the 1949-1950 season at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium Monday night at 8:20 o'clock with Abe Rosenthal conducting.

The twins, Jeanne and Joanna have had long trials of standing successes. In Kansas City they have established a reputation as superb artists. Their identical psysical features and their parallel abilities at the keyboard have fascinated thousands.

The orchestra will feature such selections as the "Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2," Carl Friedemann, Opus 269 and "Song of the Bayou" by Rube Bloom. The "Mississippi Suite" by Ferde Grofe will also be played in only three parts, a. Father of Waters, b. Huckleberry Finn, c. Mardi Gras.

Grofe is one of America's outstanding modern composers and he has been featured on the symphony program repeatedly this season.

Bradley Star Discloses a Bribe Offer

Paul Unruh Said He Brushed Off Unidentified Man

PEORIA, Ill., April 20—(AP)—Paul Uhruh, Bradley University basketball star, says he turned down a $100 to $500 bribe offer to throw a National Invitation Tournament game in New York last month.

The 21-year old All-America ace, son of a Baptist minister, says he brushed off an unidentified man who asked him in front of a New York hotel if he would like to "make some easy money."

Unruh said he neglected to mention the incident to Bradley officials at the time because he didn't think it was important.

"I just brushed if off and forgot it," he said. "I didn't hold it against the buy—I guess guys like that have to eat and make a living."

Unruh said he believed the man was a bookie but added that he could have been a prankster. He said also that no report was made to tournament officials or to the district attorney in New York.

Disclosed For First Time

The Bradley star disclosed the bribe offer for the first time during a speech at a church dinner in Pekin, Ill., Tuesday night. He said the man offered to pay $100 if Bradley won a game by six points and $500 if it won by two points in any tournament game.

Unruh told his audience.

"It goes without saying that I turned down the money," concluding:

"A very bad situation exists there (in New York) when it comes to gambling."

Unruh, in an interview yesterday, confirmed he made the statements but said he had assumed he was not speaking for publication. He said he received the bribe offer from the man outside the Paramount hotel in New York March 11 or 12, after the team arrived there and before it played any games in the National Invitational Tournament.

Scoring Results

Bradley beat Syracuse, 78-66, and St. John's 83-72, before losing the title game to City College of New York, 69-61. Later it lost in New York to City College, 71-68 in the final game of the National Collegiate meet.

Unruh said he didn't know why he waited so long to tell of the incident. He said he just recalled the bribe Tuesday night in talking about his personal objections to "too much commercialization" of sports, "particularly in the New York area."

"I learned during my week in New York before the East-West game that players from southern schools make as much as $200 a month. They called me a liar when I told them Bradley paid for one-half of my tuition and my books, and that my father's Ministerial Alliance took care of the other half."

Unruh, a native of Toulon, Ill., did not mention any southern schools or players by name

Another Rarity Called On Brooklyn Dodgers

PHILADELPHIA, April 20—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, famous for some of baseball's weirdest plays, have come up with another rarity—a batter called out after hitting a single.

Duke Snider, fleet centerfielder, joined past members of the Dodgers who have stolen bases with the sacks loaded and stopped the ball with their heads. The Duke drove a sharp single to center and was promptly called out by umpire Dusty Boggess.

Over anxious to hit one of Russ Meyer's blooper pitches in the fifth inning of yesterday's game with the Phillies, Snider stepped across the plate and out of the batter's box to let go with a well-timed swing.

The rules say a player can not step out of the batter's box to hit the ball.

Snider could not be reached for comment but Boggess quoted the Duke as saying on his next appearance at the plate.

"I had seen Meyers use the blooper pitch in Florida during spring training and knew what to expect. I just anticipated the pitch and was determined to connect with that slow ball."

Jack Culp Teams With Stranahan in Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N.C., April 20—(AP)—Jack Culp, a 27-year old Chicagoan who had to play off with 10 other 81 qualifiers for three vacant berths in match play, was the talk of the North-South golf tournament today.

Culp ousted his Pinehurst host, Richard D. Chapman, former National and current Canadian Amateur titlist, in a tense one up third round struggle yesterday. His quarter-final foe today was Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, defending champion.

The Culp-Stranahan match was an upper bracket affair in today's quarter-finals. The other paired Wynsel K. Spencer of Newport News, 1948 Virginia champion, and Joseph A. McBride, of Ridgewood, N.J.

The lower bracket sent William C. Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., against Raymond L. Pittman of Fayetteville, N.C., and William W. Markham of East Hampton, Conn., against J. Wolcott Brown, two-time New Jersey champion from Manasquan.

Stranahan, under par since he qualified with a three-under 69, yesterday advanced 4 and 2 over Charles Dudley of Greenville, S.C.

Marks May be Toppled in Kansas Relays

25th Annual Event Starts This Saturday

By Skipper Patrick

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 20—(AP)—The relay teams, overshadowed in recent years by individual performers, stack up as the top attractions Saturday in the 25th annual Kansas relays.

Among the relay marks expected to topple are the four-mile, University sprint medley and the mile.

An American record may be in the four-mile relay where the host Kansas Jayhawks appear to hold a slight edge over top-notch Michigan and Texas A. and M. units.

The Kansas foursome of Cliff Abel, Herb Semper, Pat Bowers and Bobby Karnes was only 4.8 seconds off the American standard of 17-16.1 set by Indiana in 1937, in winning at the recent Texas relays.

On home cinders Kansas likely will get the record job done.

Both Michigan and Texas Aggies have great anchor distance men Don Ewen, Michigan's sophomore record maker, and J. D. Hampton, of Texas Aggies, each carry the last leg for teams capable of either running Kansas into a record or setting one themselves.

Medley Class

Oklahoma A. and M. appears best of the university sprint medley class, while Rice is the favorite in the mile relay. The Rice team set a Texas relays mark of 3 minutes, 14.5 seconds, with Tom Cox running a 46.5 second anchor leg.

The Kansas relays mile relay record is 3:15.6, well over Rice's winning time at Texas. Texas A. and M. set it in 1948. The sprint medley mark of 3.25.2 was made by Indiana's Roy Cochrane, Paul Riley, Bob Burnett and Campbell Kane in 1941.

Five events of the decathlon will be held in conjunction with the annual prep relays tomorrow.

The big meet proper will get under way with the remaining five decathlon events and preliminaries at 9 a.m. (CST) Saturday.

Twenty-seven events, counting the decathlon as one, are scheduled.

6-Week Bowling Meet For Women to Open

ST PAUL, Minn., April 20—(AP)—Two women bowlers, each with a claim to fame on past performance, loomed today as favorites to win the sweepstakes rolloff, scheduled as a preliminary to the official opening of the Women's International Bowling Congress.

The sweepstakes rolloff takes place tonight, with winners of 24 district titles—12 in the major and 12 in the minor divisions—competing. An hour later, the first shift of booster teams will take to the alleys to open the tourney officially.

Pat Stiebeck of Indianapolis, who boasts an average of 205 to give her the top individual average for women, was one of the pre-meet favorites for the rolloff. It appeared that she would run into some stiff opposition from Val Mikiel of Detroit who was voted the "woman bowler of the year" both in 1948 and 1949.

The tournament will run for approximately six weeks.

Roundup of Major League Games Played

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sid Gordon and his former-Giant buddies are making life tough for their old boss, Leo Durocher. So far, the New York Giants manager looks like a bum David Harum.

Leo traded Gordon, Willard Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb to Boston last December for Al Dark and Eddie Stanky. Durocher said he was building "my kind of a ball club." He was willing to sacrifice home run power for a double play combination.

On the evidence at hand, it looks as if a good offense still is the best defense. With Gordon, Marshall and Kerr roughing the Giant pitchers, Boston has swept to a pair of double figure victories.

Proved Embarrassing

Gordon, a Polo grounds hero for years, proved especially embarrassing Sidney made Leo's face red yesterday with a pair of homers, one with the bases loaded All told, the Gordon-Marshall-Kerr trio blasted home eight runs in the Braves' 10-6 romp.

To make matters worse, the Giants defense was conspicuous by its absence. Stanky was the middle man on an attempted double play that got nobody out. It was critical, too If they'd made the double, Boston would have been retired scoreless in the sixth inning. Instead they posted nine big runs

Billy Southworth, Boston manager, must have been cheered by the route-going job of Johnny Sain, a major disappointment of 1949. Sain's sweeping curve was breaking neatly through the early innings. Although nicked for 12 hits, he never was in real danger.

While the Braves were polishing off their New York rivals for the second straight, the Red Sox were having more trouble with the New York Yankees at Boston.

Williams' Homer

Joe Dobson pitched Boston's Red Sox to a 6-3 morning victory in the patriots' day doubleheader as Ted Williams hit his first homer of the year. But the Yanks unloaded another big inning—seven runs in the eighth—to cop the afternoon tilt, 16-7, called after the eighth because of darkness.

Tommy Henrich, the Yanks' old reliable, had himself a time in the second game, driving in six runs with a three-run homer, two singles and a pair of walks. Joe DiMaggio knocked home three with three hits in five trips as Ellis Kinder, winner of 23 games for the Sox last season, was knocked out in the sixth inning.

Brooks Beat Phils

Gil Hodges boosted Brooklyn into the win column with a homer, two doubles and a single in a 7-5 decision over the Phillies. Carl Furillo's two-run homer and rookie Bobby Morgan's three singles were other big guns in the Dodgers' 14-hit attack on Russ Meyer and two successors.

Disappointed by Don Newcombe in Tuesday's opener, Manager Burt Shotton trusted the second day pitching job to rookie Clarence Podbielan, a Montreal grad. It worked. The righthander from Sherwood, Ore., turned in a steady job after surviving a shaky first inning.

Cards Stumbled

The Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Cardinals, 4-3, in a night game at St. Louis. Two errors by third baseman Eddie Kazak in the fifth inning paved the way for two Pirate runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics downed the Washington Senators, 6-1, in the first American League night game of the season before 10,153 fans in Washington. Hank Wyse, former Chicago Cub, and rookie Bob Hooper allowed Washington eight hits.

Those revived St. Louis Browns copped their second straight from the Chicago White Sox, 6-1, with three homers and five-hit pitching from Dick Starr. It was Chicago's tenth straight loss—eight of them in exhibitions.

Detroit and Cleveland were washed out of a scheduled game Chicago and Cincinnati of the National League were not scheduled.

Graham-Henning Both Are Losers

Lee Henning, Buffalo, N. Y. and Roy "Cowboy" Graham, Dallas, Texas, both were "tripped up" in their matches and both lost final falls much to the pleasure of a small but noisy crowd at the weekly Pettis County Post No. 16 American Legion wrestling matches.

Henning in the main event against Sonny Meyers of St Joseph, had won the first fall of the match with a body slam and smother after he had beat Meyers over the heart several times with his fist. It took 12 minutes and 22 seconds for the fall. Meyers in the second fall after taking another beating succeeded in bouncing off of the ropes to hit Henning, and then with a flying drop kick caught the New Yorker under the chin with his feet, a body smother won the fall in six minutes and 26 seconds.

In the third period Henning was roughing Meyers up and practically had him out when he also roughed up Jack Hader, referee, who in turn awarded the match to the St Joseph boy for unnecessary roughness Time three minutes and 17 seconds

Graham and Mayes McLain Lawrence, Kansas, divided the first two falls. McLain in the opener bouncing off the ropes to knock Graham around the ring and a smother won in 19 minutes and 44 seconds. Graham after working McLain over by beating him in the stomach got a smother and won in 10 minutes and 57 seconds for the second fall.

The third fall time had run out just as McLain ran Graham out of the ring, and he refused to return and Hader awarded the match to McLain.

The opener was won by Walter Sirois, Montreal, Canada from Ellis Bashara, Houston Texas, after the two men had gone 16 minutes and 35 seconds. A series of body slams and a body smother won for Sirois.

On May 3, the next wrestling date, there will be two matches between wrestling girls, with a main event to be announced later The matches next week have been cancelled due to the American Legion carnival which will be here at that time.

End of Another Cage 'World Series'

By Joe Ives

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—A fabulously successful basketball tour ended last night when the Harlem Globetrotters defeated the College All-Stars 77-64 in the finals at Uline Arena. But Promoter Abe Saperstein says he'll be back next year and the years after as long as the fans want what he calls "the world series."

The 18-day series started on April 2 at Chicago, went to the west coast and thence to New England and wound up here.

The series, which saw the Trotters defeat the All-Stars 11 games to seven, set basketball attendance records in Cleveland, Indianapolis, San Francisco, Denver, Cincinnati, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Oklahoma City, Boston, Philadelphia and Buffalo.

Saperstein says that the games were such a success in some places that newspapers which sponsored the games want five year contracts to assure the Trotters-All Star game through 1956.

The 18-game total attendance was 181,364 and the total revenue was estimated between $350,000 and $375,000

The Globetrotters are scheduled to leave May 2 on a tour of England and the continent.

Browns Top American Standings

Cards Dropped a Notch by Losing To Pirates 4-3

By the Associated Press

Two games don't make a season or prove a psychologist's value, but the St Louis Browns were on top in the American League today, at least temporarily.

In trouncing the White Sox 6-1 at Chicago, the young team looked nothing like the Browns of 1949.

Dick Starr held the Sox to five hits. The Browns pounded Chicago pitchers for 11, including home runs by Dick Kokos, Sherman Lollar and Don Lenhardt. Only Brownie failing to get a hit was star outfielder Roy Sievers.

Could this be the same crew that was beaten seven straight times by the White Sox last year?

Small Attendance

The game was a semi-private affair, only 1,715 paying their way into Comiskey park.

In St. Louis, the Cardinals dropped a 4-3 decision to Pittsburgh in a contest that painfully emphasized the Redbirds' third base problem. The game drew 5,648 spectators.

Third baseman Eddie Kazak fumbled the ball for three errors.

Big Red Munger pitched effectively, giving up only four hits in seven innings, but was the loser. The Cards held a 2-1 lead when a walk and two costly errors by Kazak put the Pirates ahead in the fifth.

Ken Johnson, who relieved Munger, walked a man with the bases loaded after a miscue by second baseman Red Schoendienst in the ninth That forced across what proved to be the winning run.

K. C. Blues Lead League Race

By the Associated Press

The Kansas City Blues combined fancy relief hurling and powerhouse batting yesterday to defeat last season's pennant-winning St Paul, 10-7, and step out in front of the American Association race

The Blues made it two in a row over the Saints at Kansas City in the only Association game of the day

Indianapolis at Columbus and Louisville at Toledo were rained out and Minneapolis' invasion of Milwaukee was postponed because of cold Kansas City thus takes a one-half game lead over Louisville, Minneapolis and Indianapolis all of which have a 1-0 record

Major League Clubs Still Buying, Trading

NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—Four players get a chance in newest roster changes by major league clubs

The New York Giants yesterday bought veteran outfielder Roy Weatherly from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League Weatherly 34, who formerly played with the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians, will be used for left-handed pinch-hitting

The Boston Braves at the same time bought the contract of Ernie Johnson, 25-year-old righthanded pitcher, who won 15 and lost 5 for Denver in the Western League last year.

The Braves released righthander Sam Webb outright to Milwaukee of the American Association. And the Chicago White Sox released outfielder Gerald Scala to Buffalo of the International League on option

Revoke License Of Dr. Sander

Medical Board Fails to Find He 'Did no Wrong'

CONCORD, N. H., April 20—(AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander's right to practice medicine in New Hampshire was revoked Wednesday night by the state board of registration in medicine.

The board, in biting language, asserted the 41-year-old physician—acquitted March 9 of murder in the death of Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, an incurably ill cancer patient—was guilty of "morally reprehensible action in deliberately injecting air into his patient."

The state had charged Dr. Sander killed Mrs. Borroto by four injections of air into her veins shortly before she died last Dec. 4.

The board's verdict was leavened, however, by a line hinting that the doctor might apply for reinstatement in two months. The board statement put it this way: "No application for reinstatement by Dr. Sanders would be entertained prior to June 19, 1950."

State Rep. George A. Myhaver (R-Peterborough) said he would ask the New Hampshire legislature to investigate the revokation of Dr. Sander's license.

He said he wanted "to bring out why the state medical board revoked Dr. Sander's license when he had already been acquitted by a court."

Dr. John S. Wheeler, secretary of the five-doctor board, called newsmen to his office in the state house and handed out copies of a statement which said:

"Dr. Sander contends that he has done no wrong by injecting air since he is certain that he did not kill his patient.

"This board does not concern itself with the question of whether Dr. Sander's patient was alive or dead, but we cannot agree that he has done no wrong."

The five-man board said its decision was unanimous.

The annual tea which is given by the Moniteau County Home Economics Extension Clubs in observance of National Home Demonstration Week and honoring the senior girls of the Moniteau County high schools took place in the Methodist church parlors last Tuesday afternoon. The program was opened with the recognition ceremony for the new clubs organized in Moniteau county since 1949. The ceremony was presented by Mrs. D. W. Clay, president of the County Council of Extensions clubs, assisted by Miss Lillian Westmeyer, County Agent. Others participating were the presidents of the new clubs. Mrs. Tony Franken, A.B.C. club; Mrs. H. P. Stoner, Happy Homemakers; Mrs. Floyd Hutchison, Thrifty Homemakers; Mrs. John Crane, Sunshine; Mrs. Joe Hartman, Sunny South Club; Mrs. John Leonard, Victory club, and Mrs. A. J. Yoest, Willow Fork club. This was followed by the introduction of the forty young women who were the guests of the clubs. Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, foods and nutrition instructor of the University of Misouri, spoke on "Careers and Home Economics." The Vaughn Sisters of Clarksburg sang two numbers. Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Stoner seerved at the tea table which was covered with a lace cloth and appointed with jonquils and yellow tapers in crystal holders. Corsages were presented to Mrs. Lewis and Miss Westermeyer.

A record crowd turned out for the fellowship supper at the Methodist church last Tuesday evening to honor the Rev. and Mrs. George Heslar who left on Thursday for Cape Girardeau, where he will become pastor of the Grace Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Heslar were each presented with an overnight bag, the Rev. Mr. Heslar gave a short talk and a group of the girls of the church presented a short program.

Mrs. L. L. Lathem left last Thursday morning for Los Angeles, California, where she will visit with her brothers and sisters for three months. Dr. Latham will join his wife in June and they will attend the meeting of the National Medical Society in San Francisco.

The Women of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met at the church Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Louis Drake was hostess and Miss Eva Cavers program leader.

Twenty-eight members of the Faith Day guild of the Christian Church met with Miss Mary Hert Monday night. Mrs. Raymond Lawson was the program leader.

Mrs. T. A. Harvey entertained the members of her bridge club and Mrs. C. D. Heyssel Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. E. A. Kibbe and Mrs. Harold Priess received score favors.

Twenty-two women of the Wesleyan circle of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Robert Hogge last Monday night. Miss Mary McCollester was the program leader and Mrs. Harold McDaniel had charge of the worship service. Going away gifts were presented to the Rev. and Mrs. Hesler and Mrs. Frank Graff was honored with a handkerchief shower. Mr. and Mrs. Graff and their small son are leaving this week for their new home on the Lake of the Ozarks.

Miss Frances Williams was hostess to the members of the Coterie Tuesday afternoon.

LaMonte Club At Craig Home

The LaMonte Friendship club met at the home of Mrs. P. S. Craig Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Lindamin as assisting hostess.

The president, Mrs. Raymond DeFrain, presided over the meeting, which opened with singing the club song and repeating the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Lindamin gave the inspirational.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Music and Fine Arts department with Mrs. Hugo Kappelman as speaker who took for her subject: "Art." Mrs. Kappleman, who is a teacher of art gave an educational talk on the subject and exhibited some of her work.

The next meeting will be May 11, at the home of Mrs. DeFrain.

To Give Eggs To Nursery

The April meeting of the Flat Creek 4-H club was held at Anderson school.

Roll call was answered by "Something Beautiful I Saw Today."

It was voted to give 10c per member to the 4-H council and plans were made to give eggs to the Melita Day Nursery.

Plans for a party for the younger children of the neighborhood were completed and a committee was appointed to plan the program for Rural Life Sunday which will be held May 14, at Bethlehem Baptist church.

Demonstrations were given by four members of the home service project. Pasty Young and Mary Jeanette Edmundson gave a demonstration on "Dishwashing" and Mary Ann Lewis and Zora Snow gave one on making a head scarf. Marvin Edmundson gave a demonstration on Safety.

Games were enjoyed during the social hour and refreshments were served by Miss Anna Alf and Mrs. Milton Bopp, members of the Flat Creek Extension club.

High-pressure water fog fire-fighting systems are effective in killing "spill fires" of gasoline on a concrete test slab. High-pressure equipment was found to be four times as effective as low-pressure units.

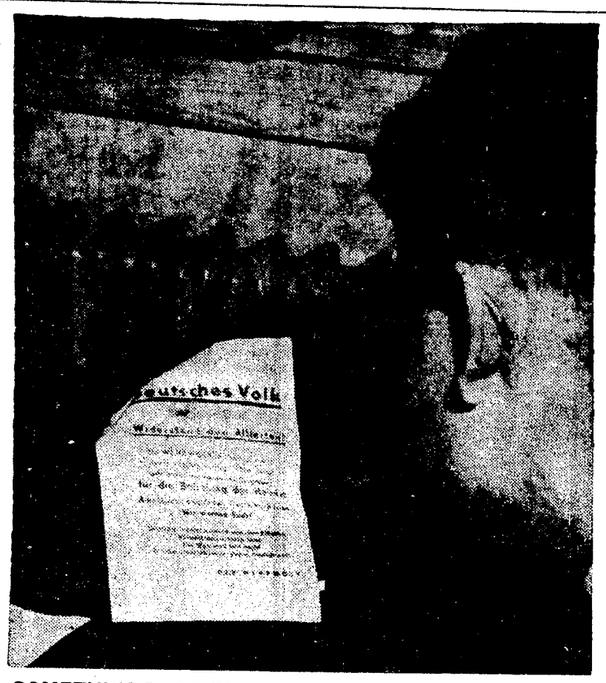
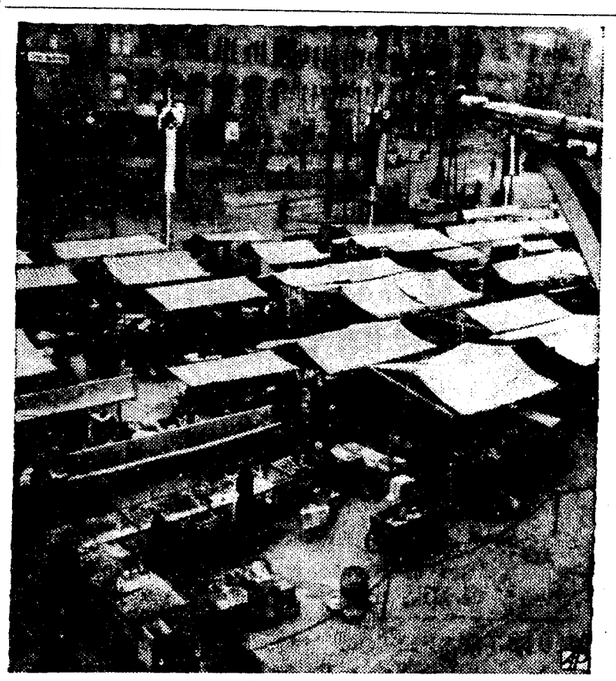
HOWYA GONNA KEEP 'EM DOWN ON THE FARM?"—Aristocrats of their breed are these pedigreed Holstein bulls and heifers being led into a Seaboard & Western Air lines DC-4 air freighter at New York's International Airport. From Carnation, Wash., the prize herd is being flown to Milan, Italy, to help rebuild Italian herds devastated by the war. The Seaboard line specializes in moving animals by air.

JUNIOR ATOM SMASHER—Dr. Glenn Miller of Iowa State College, Ames, Ia., makes adjustments on the junior-size atom smasher, or "linear accelerator," the building of which he directed during the past two years. The instrument will be used to study the properties of atomic particles in their passage through matter.



SOMETHING PHONEY—The unidentified man above found, fixed to the phone in his Frankfurt, Germany, office, a handbill signed "Der Wehrwolf," an underground group. The handbills, turning up throughout Western Germany, call on Germans to resist the Allies, and warn all occupying nations that the Wehrwolf's fight for German freedom goes on.



CITY HALL MARKET—Twice weekly a public market is set up outside West Berlin City Hall in Rudolf-Wilde Place. Market is decorated with flags honoring West German mayors.

WHEREAS, the whole of the above described real estate was purchased and acquired by the said City of Sedalia Missouri, as and for, and to be used as a municipal airport for the City of Sedalia, Mo., and

WHEREAS, said City of Sedalia, Missouri has been unable to obtain approval of said lands for use of the purpose acquired, for the construction and maintenance of a municipal airport, of and from the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Federal Government and the Missouri Division of Resources and Development of the State of Missouri, and

WHEREAS, failure to so obtain approval from the aforesaid governmental agencies of Federal and State Governments prevents the said City of Sedalia, Missouri from obtaining Federal and State aid and money and funds otherwise available, from said governing agencies for the establishment, construction and maintenance of a municipal airport by said City, and

WHEREAS, the said City of Sedalia has now obtained the approval of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Federal Government and approval of the Missouri Division of Resources and Development of the State of Missouri for another available and different site and location, and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Sedalia has by due and proper Resolution No. 71 passed by the Council on the 6th day of March, 1950, and approved by the Mayor on the 7th day of March, 1950, determined and declared it to be advisable for the said City of Sedalia to sell the above hereinbefore described real estate for the best and highest bid therefore for cash for the specific purpose of and to reinvest the sale price of said real estate in the purchase, obtaining, constructing and maintaining on the new site and location of lands now standing approved by said governmental agencies as and for a municipal airport;

NOW, THEREFORE, in accord with the terms and provisions of said Resolution passed by the the Council and approved by the Mayor as aforesaid, and is in said Resolution directed, I, the undersigned, Chairman of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, do here and now give public notice that sealed, written bids are invited and will be received for the sale of the tracts of real estate hereinbefore described up and until five o'clock P. M. on the 1st day of May, 1950. All such bids to be filed in the office of the City Clerk of said City, at the City Hall Building, Sedalia, Missouri.

All such bids shall be accompanied with a Certified or Cashier's check payable to the City of Sedalia for an amount equal to ten per cent of the total of such bid or bids, and bidders shall be accorded the right to bid upon any one or more of the hereinbefrore described tracts separately or as a whole, it being affirmatively expressed that the City of Sedalia shall have the right to accept or reject any or all such bids.

Notice is further given that all bids will be opened and considered at the regular Council meeting of the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri to be held at the Council Chamber in the City Hall Building at 7:30 P. M. on

Monday Night the 1st day of May, 1950

In the event that any bid or bids are accepted conveyance will be made by Warranty Deed in due form and Abstracts of Title will be furnished showing good and merchantable title in the City of Sedalia, a Municipal Corporation, free and clear of encumbrances and liens.

Witness my hand this 31st day of March, 1950, all in accord with Resolution No. 71 passed by the Council on the 6th day of March, 1950, and approved by the Mayor on the 7th day of March, 1950.

Decorations To Lost Airmen

Senate In Fury Over Attack On Unarmed Plane

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (AP) —The Senate in a mood of cold fury unanimously voted praise and decorations Wednesday for ten U. S. airmen lost in what this country calls a Russian attack on an unarmed plane over the Baltic.

The vote of 66 to 0 was preceded by denunciations of the Russian action as "criminal" and "barbarous" and by demands for steps to see that nothing of the sort happens again.

It followed by about an hour a contemptuous state department dismissal of a Russian charge that the American plane was on a mission of deliberate provocation.

Michael McDermott, department press officer, told a news conference he had read the story, which appeared in the controlled Moscow magazine New Times, but had "pretty much forgotten what lies they told." He described the magazine itself as "beyond contempt."

Only yesterday the state department fired back a harshly worded counter-protest in response to Moscow's charge that the plane violated Soviet territory and attacked interceptors.

Meanwhile unofficial backing for the U. S. view that the plane was downed over the open sea came from American air force officers in Germany.

Flight Routine One

The ship believed to be involved was a Navy Privateer which took off from Wiesbaden April 8 on what U. S. officials report as a routine training flight to Copenhagen. It was not heard from after it crossed the German coast. The U. S. version is that it carried no weapons with which it could make such an attack as the Russians reported.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), the Democratic leader, set off the Senate reaction today with a call for condemnation of "a ruthless action by barbarous forces."

Offering the resolution to decorate the American fliers posthumously, Lucas said the "criminal action" was a challenge to nations of the free world. On that ground he called for the bi- partisan support which he got.

Republican leader Wherry (Neb) called the surprise resolution "a fine thing" but said there has been "a lack of bi-partisan foreign policy that's gotten us into difficulties."

Senator Mundt (R-SD) suggested a formal protest through the United Nations. He said this country should "do more than pass resolutions."

Among the members of the crew of the missing plane was Lt. John Henry Fette, Ensign Tommy Lee Burgess, Osawatomie, Kas.

U. S. Officers Examine Life Raft Found in Baltic

Capt. D'Jack Klingler (left) and Capt. John G. James examine the raft found in the Baltic sea east of Stockholm by a British freighter after the raft arrived at Copenhagen, Denmark, by air from Helsinki. Capt. Klingler, who directed search operations for the U. S. Navy patrol plane that disappeared last April 8 with 10 men aboard, said it was a "fair guess" that the raft came from the missing plane. Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Syracuse Girl Visits Capital

Miss Rhoda Sue Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schroder, of Syracuse, who attends Tipton high school ,was chosen the outstanding sophomore citizen of the Tipton high school.

Each year the Tipton Federation of Women's Club presents one sophomore with the honor. The school faculty selects five of the class to be voted on by the entire school, they are judged by scholarship, dependability, friendliness and loyalty.

Miss Schroder received the largest number of votes which entitled her to a trip to Jefferson City. The purpose of the trip is to acquaint the young people with the government of the state.

Miss Schroder was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Roscoe Gibson, a member of the Federation of Women's Club of Tipton. In her report of the trip she said on entering the capitol she, with about 500 other students from over the state registered. Guides then took them for a tour of the capitol. They were then served dinner at Selinger Center, where speakers were young women from Sweden, Norway and Paris, France, who had won scholarships to the United States. They talked on the government of their countries and compared it with the government of the United States. A talk by the lititenant governor followed.

After seeing the replica of the statue of liberty placed on the capitol ground by the Boy Scouts they attended a tea at the executive mansion.

FASHION COMES OF AGE

Mother's Day fashions designed to flatter mature figures offer cool comfort for the warm weather months to come. Black and white printed chiffon dress (left) has a full skirt posed over a white built-in slip. Double layers of white organdy form the triple-tiered collar. Gray printed voile (center) swings a circular skirt and has full sleeves caught in a tight cuff at the elbow. Organdy facing is used to give crispness to the double petal-shaped collar. Softly tailored pin-checked gingham (right) has a skirt, darted at the sides and back for an easy fit. Notched white pique collar sharpens the neckline of the jacket which is fastened with pearl buttons.

How to Save Laundry Work

The Neighborly Neighbors extension club met on April 13 at the home of Mrs. T. J. Raines, with all members present, and Miss Lillian Watkins as guest. Mrs. Tom Conaway, the president, opened the meeting by leading in repeating the Club collect. Devotional was the 16th chapter of Mark, read by Mrs. Myron Harper. Roll call was answered by each member telling, "Something About Easter." It was voted to contribute to the Cancer drive.

Miss Watkins gave a talk about saving energy and labor in the laundry, and showed various types of irons available.

Mrs. Harper conducted the game, "Riddle Me This." Hostess gifts were opened, and refreshments served.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Tom Conaway.

Horace Mann P. T. A. Meets on Friday

The Horace Mann P. T. A. will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The first grades will give the program. There will be an installation of officers. The executive board will meet at 2:00 o'clock in the office.

Report on 4-H Of the County

The regular meeting of the South Abell 4-H Club opened with the repeating of the 4-H pledge led by the president, Howard Brown.

Twelve members answered roll call by naming their favorite wild flower, and 11 visitors were present.

After the business meeting a report of the County Council meeting was given by Emmett Fairfax. Rural Life Sunday will be observed on the evening of May 21 at the Pleasant Hill church.

O. W. Frazier of the Missouri Conservation department was present and gave a very interesting talk, after which he showed two conservation pictures.

The meeting was followed by a social hour, at which time cookies were served by the Stockstill and Franklin families.

Mark Twain PTA Meetings This Week

There will be an executive meeting of the Mark Twain Parent-Teacher Association at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon in the teachers' lounge at Mark Twain school.

The regular P. T. A. meeting will be in the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at which time officers for the coming year will be installed.

The program will be presented by the first grade and kindergarten pupils.

Holstein Show At Fair Grounds

Holstein Breeders from the Central District will hold their junior and senior show Monday, April 24th at the Missouri State Fairgrounds.

Judging of the junior show will start at 12 o'clock and all boys and girls under 21 years of age in Pettis and adjoining counties who own Holstein calves, yearlings or cows are invited to exhibit them. The association will pay a small amount for transportation expenses, regardless of placing.

The senior show will immediately follow the juniors and one of the strongest quality district shows ever held in the Mid-west is promised those who attend. No advance entries required as animals are entered after arriving, but a large show is assured. The Central district includes some eighteen counties, and a group of top cattle will be selected to exhibit at the American Royal Dairy Show in May from this show.

Alva C. Clark of Independence, Missouri, will judge the show, and all persons interested in Holsteins or the dairy industry are invited to attend. Many Pettis county owners are expected to be exhibitors at the show, and three local men have been appointed as the committee in charge. They are E. M. Mosby, Sedalia; John F. Bluhm, Jr., Smithton, and Jerry Houlton, chairman, Hughesville, Mo.

For A Crop of Saracasm

LIBERTY, N. J.—(AP)—Citizens of this Catskill mountain community were so dissatisfied with the way snow plows cleared roads around Liberty that they posted several large warning signs at bad places in the highways. The signs read: "Slow. Road Plowed for Spring Planting."

Japan Has More People

TOKYO — (AP) — Japan's population keeps on going up and up. The Welfare Ministry reports the population on last Jan. 1 was 83,073,518. The population a year earlier was 81,191,604.

At the present rate, the population on these crowded islands will exceed 100,000,000 by 1961.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest W. Estes of Montevista, Colo., came Wednesday to visit his sister, Mrs. H. C. Schlusing and Mr. Schlusing, also Mrs. Estes' relatives in Sedalia and Warrensburg.

Asks Drastic Action To Stop Malaya Reds

IPOH, Malaya —(AP)— More troops, police, a commander-in-cheif and even martial law may be needed before Malaya can hope to end Communist terrorism, said a well known British planter. He called for "drastic action."

"There is no doubt that we stand in the path of the Communist onslaught. We must either stem that onslaught or perish in the attempt," declared J. S. Ferguson, president of the Central Perak Planting Association.

ROYAL SNACK BAR—To aid her family's fading fortunes, Lady Lees (pouring), wife of Sir John Lees, third baronet, of Poole, England, has opened this snack bar outside the lodge gates at her South Lytchett Manor home. The customer is Lady Lees' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Faith Lees. Financial stress also forced the family to move into a cottage on the grounds and rent the manor house as a school.

Clifton City Club Meeting

The Clifton City Extension Club met in an all day session, April 5, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Potter with 12 members and four visitors present. The visitors, formal members of the club, were Mrs. Minnie Bedstrup and Mr. Andy Yeager of Sedalia, Mrs. G. V. Streit of Smithton and Mrs. R. E. Brewer.

A contributive dinner was served at the noon hour. In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. J. Potter, with the group singing "Home Sweet Home" and the club song, and "A Song of Peace."

Roll call was answered by each member giving their own definition of home. Two project leaders, Mrs. William Todd and Mrs. J. H. Potter gave talks on color scheme for decorating homes. Mrs. Todd also told of the work of the 4-H Club.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Grose.

Farm Tractor Club Has an Election

The Prairie Ridge Farm Tractor Maintenance boys met Wednesday, April 12, at the home of their leader, Wilburn L. Hayes, with nine members present.

The first lesson on farm safety was taken and the questions on this lesson were answered by the various members.

Keven Vickrey was elected reporter and secretary. Clinton Reid, J. D. Gregory and Wilburn Hayes, Jr., were appointed as a committee to decide the place and time of future meetings. The next meeting will be held at the Forrest Reid home on April 27.

After a profitable and pleasant evening refreshments were served by two club member, Betty Jo Reid and Mary Kathryn Hayes.

John Nance Garner is believed to have been the first vice president to leave the United States while the president was away from office. This occurred in 1936 when Cordell Hull acted as president until Franklin Roosevelt returned.

'All Glory, Laud and Honor' Chosen Hymn of the Month

The National Federation of Music Clubs announces "All Glory, Laud and Honor" as the Hymn of the Month for April.

A prominent clergyman in prison, with a spirit that refused to be confined; a group of choir boys in the prison yard learning a new song; a pious king in a Palm Sunday procession to the Cathedral; a sudden burst of surprising song from the prison as the procession passes; a highly pleased king; a clergyman free for his church duties once more—these are some of the "highlights" with which tradition and legend have illumined this medieval hymn, "All Glory, Laud and Honor."

Naturally, eleven centuries of use would gather a halo of legend around a hymn, but the legends and traditions give vividness and life to the hymn.

Native of Italy

Theodulph of Orleans (760-821), a native of Itally, Abbot of a Florentine monastery, was brought to France by Charlemagne and made Bishop of Orleans. After the death of the Illustrious Empire builder, Theodulph, was suspected of disloyalty to Louis the Pious and of favoring the cause of Barnard of Italy. He was thrust into prison at Angiers. It was probably during this imprisonment that that he wrote this hymn "Gloria, Laus et Honor." The hymn has seventy-eight lines, twenty-four of which are ordinarily used.

The use of this hymn as a Palm Sunday processional dramatizes the story of its imprisoned author. At Hereford, Tours and Rouen, it was sung at the gate of the city. The gates were closed and the choir boys mounted to the wall above the gate and there sang the hymn, suggesting both the imprisoned condition of the author and also the approach of Christ in his Triumphal Procession to the gates of Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday.

English Owe Gratitude

The English translation was made by Dr. John Mason Neale, to whom the English speaking world owes so great a debt of gratitude for his research among Greek and Latin manuscripts of the early centuries.

While distinctly an "occasional hymn" written for a special day and used on Palm Sunday, this hymn is deserving of a wider use than a mere once-a-year singing. For Children's Day and for many Sundays as a Children's Processional it is timely and picturesque.

BLOSSOM QUEEN—Ann Carleton Hadley, above, daughter of Mrs. Alben Barkley, wife of the vice president, will reign as queen of the 1950 Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Va. She is a student at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans.

SCIENTISTS GET BOSSIE'S INSIDE STORY—Dairy husbandry experts at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, have installed plastic "windows" in the sides of five cows to study stages of a cow's digestion. Each window has a threaded cap which is easily removed for taking samples of Bossie's food in various stages of digestion. A delicate operation is required for inserting windows.

Clifton City

Mrs. Add Johnson

Mrs. Effie Dickson, who makes her home here with a daughter, Mrs. William Todd, Mr. Todd and family, left the first part of the month for Holton, Kas., to visit a brother, A. B. Johnston.

Quite a few of the farmers from the Clifton City vicinity attended a meeting of the Blackwater-Lamine Flood Control Association, which was held at the Smithton school on March 30.

Recent guests over the weekend of Mrs. Susie Todd were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickson of Kansas City.

Jack Potter of Tulsa, Okla., visited here recently with his mother and sister, Mrs. Edna Potter and Mrs. Essie Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Neyhart and son, Walton of Topeka, Kas., visited recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Potter, until after the Easter holidays.

The county line road between Pettis and Cooper counties, beginning with highway 135 near Clifton City and extending north is undergoing quite a change. In addition to grading and graveling of this road, it will be widened. Fences will be moved back and other necessary changes will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dove and Mrs. Mary Fairfax of Clifton City and Mrs. and Mrs. John Dove of Smithton went to Boonville on Sunday of last week and were dinner guests of P. D. Sweeney, who is superintendent of the boys training school in Boonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brewer recently returned home after a stay of four weeks at Apache, Okla., with Mrs. Brewer's brother, A. G. Farrington. They were called to Oklahoma due to the illness of their brother, who was ill with double pneumonia.

Mrs. John Streit of Clifton City, accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernarr Bluhm and son Jackie, of Smithton, left April 9 for Atoka, Okla., to visit Mr. Streit's sister, Mrs. Elmer Reich. Mr. Bluhm returned home late Sunday evening, but Mrs. Streit and Mrs. Bluhm and son remained for a longer visit. En route home, they will visit relatives in Fort Smith, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pabst had al ltheir children home for Easter. They are: Mrs. Clarence Kruse, Mr. Kruse and baby of Sedalia, Mrs. Dee Wayne Cramer and Mr. Cramer and baby of Kansas City, Mrs. Virgil Kempf and Mr. Kempf of Kansas City and Donald Pabst and Mrs. Pabst of Boonville.

The Clifton City 4-H Club met Friday evening, April 7 at the school house with a majority of the members present. The president, Robert Pabst, presided over the business meeting. Each member of the sheep project gave a report on their lambs. Russell and Bernadette Eckerle read articles pertaining to the care of shoes. At the conclusion of the meeting, games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. Clem Reuter and Mrs. Add Johnson.

Norman Eckerle, who teaches at Owensville and his girl friend, Miss Joan Klott spent the Easter holidays here with Norman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eckerle.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carrico and daughter of Sedalia were dinner guests of Mrs. Carrico's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Cook, Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wells of Kansas City were guests of Mrs. Well's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marti here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McMillen of New Franklin were Eastern dinner guests of Mrs. McMillen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harlan.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 to 1 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

Housewives will be interested to know Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown faster in the past few years than the combined average of all other brands. This is due to the fact that Creamo is the only margarine made with cream.

In taste tests between Creamo and the most expensive type breadspreads, participating school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1.

Users say Creamo's creamy-rich flavor is so distinctively delicious, the first taste is noticeably more flavorful than ordinary spreads. Not only does Creamo taste better—it's more economical, too. The extra flavor goes so much farther than ordinary spreads.

He Built a Better Dill Pickle; World Beats Path to His Farm

NEA Staff Correspondent
By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON— (NEA) —"All I can say about our business," Ernest S. Koke will tell you, "is that it stinks."

And that comes from the man who has made the dill pickle what it is today.

Koke's business is odors and tastes, and it may "stink" nosewise, but you can bet your bottom nostril that it doesn't stink profitwise. Chances are, any cosmetic item a lady buys today gets its odor from Koke's fabulous farm near Twin Falls, Idaho. It's also probable that many of the delicious flavors you've tasted recently in various prepared foods came from the same place.

Koke's accomplishments show what happens when a high-priced chemical engineer decides there's more money in farming. The result is probably the first 100 per cent "chemurgic" farm in the U. S.

Ellen Church, the world's first airline stewardess, wears a replica of an early uniform designed for the "sky girls."

Chemurgy generally means the use of chemistry to find new uses for farm products. Koke revealed the scope and nature of his farm for the first time at the 15th Annual Conference of the National Farm Chemurgic Council in Washington.

Production of oil of dill weed was his first big accomplishment in chemurgy. Back in 1931, while a organic chemist in a steel plant, he somehow became interested in the way the big pickle companies were flavoring their dills. He was surprised to find that they still did it by putting springs of the dill plant in the brine.

This resulted in a pickle that varied greatly in taste, depending on how dry, old or healthy the dill weed happened to be. The dill flavor also differed according to the soil the dill grew in. It was affected still further by a half dozen other factors of growth.

Koke grew dill weed under perfectly controlled conditions, extracted the pure dill oil from the plant and used that to provide a consistent flavor for the pickles. Now all the big companies use this method of flavoring their dills, and only throw in a sprig of actual dill weed for looks.

With this success under his belt, Koke decided to develop all his time to chemurgic farming. He greatly extended his father's acreage in Idaho, where he made his first dill experiments, and began widening his horizon.

Today Koke is one of the biggest producers of natural essential oils and aromatic chemicals in the country. A weedy plant called coriander, which he grows in great quantities, is the source of the oil that goes into many expensive perfumes and cosmetics.

He also raises plants which produce the anise and horehound flavor of candy, as well as caraway, parsley, sage, savory and garlic, and a product called wormwood which goes into liniment.

In the course of producing those duces, he has turned up some highly valuable aids to general farming. For instance, he has developed a special spray mixture which kills weeds yet spares fern-type plants, such as dill and carrots. This method of weeding carrots is used all over the country.

It is Koke's contention that, through hundreds of small chemurgic projects around the country, the farm surplus problem could be licked. Chemurgy, he says, could find a new use for the surplus food and put thousands of acres of land into producing industrial products instead of food.

Argentina Buys From Japan

TOYKO—(AP)— General MacArthur's command said the Argentine government has made available to importers in that country $19,000,000 in foreign exchange for Japanese goods. Of the amount, an occupation trade official said importers already have "picked up" $11,800,000. He said headquarters hopes the balance will be requested shortly for purchase of more Japanese goods.

Under trade agreements signed last year, Argentinans obtained import licenses for $3,000,000 worth of steel billets. The other $8,800,000 bought bar iron, pipe, wire, chemicals, paper and cardboard, cotton thread, iron, steel and other goods.

Japan in turn purchased $12,000,000 in Argentina, products mostly wheat, barley and linseed. Frank Pickelle, cheif of MacArthur's foreign trade department, said there reportedly "are plenty of contracts already negotiated" between Japanese and Argentinians awaiting issuance of import licenses.

LINCOLN

Mrs. Herbert Hansen

The Tpril meeting of the M. F. A. Employee's association of the Producers Exchange No. 84, was held at the produce department in Lincoln April 11. The regular business meeting was held with Ed Kullman presiding. At this time an election of officers was held with the following officials being chosen: president, Fred Mueller of Ionia; vice president, Oscar Jaekel of Lincoln and secretary, Miss Mary Ann Rambow of Ionia.

The refreshment committee appointed for the next meeting which will be held at Ionia at 7:30 o'clock May 9 were: Mrs. Hazel Reicke, Miss Mary Ann Rambow and J. D. Williams all of Ionia. W. V. Owens was guest speaker of the evening. Following the meeting a supper served by George Meyer, Mrs. Ivy Mothersbaugh and Mrs. Kenneth Brown was enjoyed.

The April meeting of the Community 4-H club was held April 6 at the Community building with 33 members present and the project leaders Mrs. W. V. Owens, Mrs. Winston Rank, Mrs. Theo Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Carney, Mrs. Roy McCubbins and Mrs. Lea Eaken in charge. Following the meeting refreshments were served and games were enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the Community building May 4.

Mrs. Leonard Kreissler was hostess to the L. H. M. Homemakers club at her home April 11 with the president, Mrs. Norman Gerken presiding. The meeting was opened with singing "A Missouri Hymn." The regular business meeting was held at which time it was decided that the club would buy and send flowers to members who were ill. Mrs. Ella Kreissler and Mrs. Stella Frisch were appointed by Mrs. Gerken to serve as the flower committee. Nine members were present to answer roll call which was "an April fool joke." A loan envelope lesson and demonstration was presented by the child development chairman, Mrs. Reinhardt Mueller. Following the meeting refreshments were served and a quiz game led by Mrs. Ed Kullman the game leader, was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reinhardt Rotermund on the afternoon of May 9, beginning at 2:00 o'clock.

Miss May Messersmith fell and broke her arm April 9. Her condition is reported as being satisfactory.

The Sunny Side school of which Mrs. Grace Swearngin of Lincoln has been instructor for the past three years, came to a very successful close April 14 at which time Mrs. Swearngin and her pupils accompanied by Mrs. Howard McCartney, Mrs. Etta Moxley, Mrs. Oliver Wright and Mrs. Grace Thomas motored to Sedalia by school bus, where they enjoyed a picnic lunch at the park. The remainder of the day was spent in visiting points of interest there.

April 15 Mrs. Swearngin and a number of patrons and pupils of Sunnyside attended the eighth grade graduation exercises which were held for the rural graduates of Benton county this year for the first time at the Community building at Warsaw at 8:00 o'clock. Twenty-seven rural schools were represented. Those who graduated from the Sunny Side school were: Lawrence Parr, Billie Comer and Joyce Lee and Jo Ann Wright.

Mrs. Swearngin will be retained as teacher at Sunny Side for the following fall and spring term of 1950-51 and will leave for Warrensburg Sunday where she will attend the spring and summer terms of school at C. M. S. C. which began there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Short of Mrs. I. A. Heerman of Moberly was guest over the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gerken.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lippert and son of St. Louis were week-end guests of her parents the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Luker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hansen of Calhoun were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hansen Sunday.

LITTLE DRIBBLE— Stephen Winfrey, 3, son of coach Shelby Winfrey of Kingston, Ky., was an unscheduled performer at State high school basketball tournament in Louisville.

THAILAND DANCER—In ancient costume, a member of the Thailand royal dancing troupe poses before the statue of a lion on the grounds of Marble Buddha Temple, in Bankok.

Costume jewelry stays bright when it is sprayed with a protective plastic coating. The coating should be used only on new pieces.

Green Ridge entertained with a dinner at their home April 9. Those from Lincoln attending were: Mrs. Anna Jackson and children and Mrs. Grace Short.

Mr. and Mrs. John Swearngin and family of Kansas City were guests over the week-end of Mrs. Swearngin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster and other relatives.

The Lincoln high school senior banquet will be held on April 28.

Mr. and Mrs. William Langston of Kansas City were guests over the week-end of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Summers and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Langston. Miss Mary Etta Langston accompanied them home and will enter employment there.

Miss Doris June Langston has been employed as teacher at Prairie Flower and left for Warrensburg Sunday where she will attend school at C. M. S. C. this summer.

Word was received here Monday of the death of George Kitchen, 89 years of age, of Hitchita, Okla., who died at his home Sunday following a lingering illness. Mr. Kitchen was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Catherine Perry of Lincoln and A. F. West of Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yearout and family and Warren Yearout all of Windsor were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Keseman Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blake of Kansas City were guests over the week-end of Mr. Blake's father, Herman Blake.

Clean-up day will be observed in Lincoln Aril 19, 20 and 21.

Centenarian Receives Letters From Truman, Other Notables

Mrs. Belle Bobbit of northwest of LaMonte, who was one hundred years old Sunday had her party. A great big party. Eighty-five guests went to the large farm home where Mrs. Bobbit lives with her daughter, Mrs. Cora Bragunier, to help Mrs. Bobbit celebrate the end of a century of life.

On Friday Mrs. Bobbitt received 35 cards and letters to add to her already large stack and Saturday they continued to arrive.

The letter from the President of the United States, which the little old lady was so proud of that she put it away where she couldn't find it, finally was found and it reads:

"Dear Mrs. Bobbitt:

"I am told that you will observe your one hundredth birthday on April sixteenth and it gives me the greatest pleasure to send you this note of felicitations in honor of this occasion. These past years of your long and useful life surely hold many cherished memories and I know that your have endeared yourself to a host of friends along the way. With them I unite in extending hearty good wishes for your health and contentment.

"Very sincerely yours,

(Signed): "Harry S. Truman."

Letter From Governor

From Governor Forrest Smith came also a greeting which follows:

"Dear Mrs. Bobbitt:

"I have just learned you will celebrate your one hundredth birthday Sunday, April 16. As governor of our great state I would like to add my hearty congratulations to those you receive from your many friends.

"It is my sincere hope that the years ahead will bring you continued happiness, good health and many more happy birthdays.

"Sincerely yours

(Signed): "Forrest Smith."

From Virginia

From the state where she was born, Virginia, Mrs. Bobbitt received the following letter from Representative Harry F. Byrd:

"I want to join with others in tendering to you felicitations on the celebration of your 100th birthday and to wish for you the utmost happiness and content in the years to come.

"I have many friends among the Wade and Bobbitt families in Virginia and I treasure them greatly.

"As a representative of your native state, I send to you my warmest congratulations on this memorable occasion.

"Faithfully yours,

(Signed): "Harry F. Byrd."
